END OF SUBMARINE WARFARE AND MOVE FOR CLEAR TERMS

That Is the Basis of Center Leader's Sensational Speech Before the Reichstag Committee.

KAISER SLATES ZIMMERMANN FOR AXE

Copenhagen, July 10.—A German arriving here last night from Berlin makes the statement that the purpose of Herr Erzberger, the Catholic center party leader, in making his sensational speech before the main committee of the reichstag on Saturday was to secure an abandonment of the submarine campaign as well as the proclamation of a peace program without annexations or indemnities.

The majority in the reichstag has been practically formed on these demands, which, it is thought, will align America and Russia for peace and powerfully influence France and England. It was said the same majority has been secured for a demand for the institution of a parliamentary ministry with Dr. Gustave Stresemann, nationalist, and Philip Scheidemann as candidates for portfolios.

ZIMMERMANN TO GO.
London, July 10.—It is reported in Amsterdam, says the correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company, that the resignations of Dr. Karl Helfferich, the German vice chancellor and secretary of the interior, and Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, the German secretary for foreign affairs, have

Grand Exalted Ruler Says Grand Lodge Must Perform in Crisis.

Boston, July 10.—The delegates to the annual convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, got down to business today with the opening of the grand lodge session. One of the matters to be considered was an appropriation of a million dollars for war relief.

The question of war relief was referred to the report of Grand Exalted Ruler Edward Richter, which said:

"Due to the claims that our order has made in the past that it is exclusively American and patriotic in nature, the general public expects us to do something in the present international crisis to show that we really are what we claim to be."

"What we should do, this grand lodge must decide."

MARE ISLAND IS CUT OFF WHILE HUNT PROCEEDS

Vallejo, Cal., July 10.—Military law and strict censorship were in force today at the Mare Island navy yard as the result of an explosion of a black powder magazine there yesterday with the loss of six lives and injuries to thirty-one persons.

Federal investigators of the department of justice, who were sent to Mare Island by United States District Attorney John W. Preston, of San Francisco, have begun an investigation into the cause of the explosion independent of that being conducted by navy officials of the yard. Within

Dormitories That Had Bad Case of Jinx.

Valparaiso, Ind., July 10.—Vineyard and Elms halls, two of the largest and oldest dormitories of Valparaiso university, were destroyed by fire late last night with a damage estimated at $50,000.

The fire, which originated in the furnace room of Elms hall, is thought to have been started by a student who earlier in the evening built a fire to heat water. Damage of $2,000 was inflicted upon Elms hall only three weeks ago, and this was the fifth fire since the hall was built thirty years ago. Vineyard hall burned in 1900, but was rebuilt. Almost the entire block was occupied by the two halls.

Students of the two halls saved very little. Low water pressure hindered the fire-fighting. Members of the fire department were slightly burned and members of Company L, I. N. G., took the place of regular firemen.

Miss Ida Coyer, Frank Olestinsky and Freeman Lane, an express driver, were injured when a taxi crashed into an express wagon in a rush to the fire.

DELEGATE TO MEETING.
A. L. Randall was named delegate to a meeting of garage owners in Chicago at a session of the Fort Wayne Auto Trade Dealers' association Monday evening. Bartlett W. Shryock, of the Shryock Auto company, will act as alternate.

Chicago, July 10.—Edward H. R. Green, of New York, and Terrell, Texas, son of the late Mrs. Hetty Green, and Miss Mabel Harlow, of Highland Park, a suburb, are to be married today, the announcement being made by Mrs. George H. Campbell, aunt of the bride. At the offices of the county clerk of Lake county, Mr. Green made the following answers in filing the application for a marriage license:

"Edward H. R. Green, Terrell, Kaufman, Texas, aged 43; Miss Mabel Harlow, Highland Park, Lake county, Ill., aged 47 years."

Miss Harlow is said to be wealthy in her own right and has devoted much time to charities both in California and New York.

BAKERS OF NEW YORK TAKE BACK NO UNSOLD BREAD

New York, July 10.—Bakers here today discontinued the practice of taking back unsold bread from retailers under an agreement arranged by the local branch of the war emergency committee of the baking industry.

A bread saving for the entire country of from $12,000,000 to $20,000,000 a year will be possible if similar action by bakers is put into general effect it was estimated today. Reports received from Cincinnati, Omaha and other cities where the plan has been in operation for several weeks, states the change had been made without trouble or loss to either baker or retailer.

Loaded With Grain and Other Foodstuffs That Must Clear by July 15.

New York, July 10.—Officials of the Holland steamship firms which have sixteen vessels loaded with grain and foodstuffs waiting in this port to sail for Europe, declared today that some of the consignees in Holland may be forced to bankruptcy and many people were actually starving, while waiting assurances from the British government that the ships would be given safe conduct.

It was estimated that between thirty and forty Dutch steamers, 10,000 to 12,500 tons, were tied up in Atlantic ports. Although the shippers declare that the delay was serious, as many people in Holland consumed their supplies of grain and foodstuffs, an English diplomat said that, according to the most reliable information, the Dutch people are not in danger of starving as has been stated. He also said the question of permitting foodstuffs and grain to be sent to Holland was most serious, considering the reports that some merchants of that country

FIREMEN DASH FOR TWO CALLS AT ONCE

Fire gongs rattled and big motor trucks sped in several directions when two alarms were sounded simultaneously at 9:30 Tuesday morning. One telephone call had stated that the knitting mills were on fire. Another reported a blaze at the Van Arnum Manufacturing company, corner of Taylor and Lake streets.

The fire was at the Van Arnum plant. A heap of oily rags were burning. One room in the factory was damaged. Loss is $75.

Shortly after 5 o'clock Tuesday morning firemen were summoned to the Samuel Holstein residence, 3019 South Wayne street. An automobile standing in the garage at the rear of the home had been fired by a crown of wires. Damage about $10.

TO MOBILIZE FOR SERVICE AUGUST 5

Federal Militia Bureau is Rushing Work Following Proclamation.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—The federal militia bureau was today arranging for transportation of the national guard which will be mobilized for active service August 5, in accordance with a proclamation issued by President Wilson.

The various state units will be organized into sixteen tactical divisions and assigned to camps for final training before being sent to France.

The constitutional inhibition against use of military militia outside the country has been avoided by the insertion of a clause in the proclamation specifically discharging the forces from their militia status.

Regiments in the northern and eastern sections of the country are called into federal service in two increments, July 15 and 25. Many units are already federalized and the remainder will be mobilized on August 5.

LOOTERS HAVE RAVAGED SOME GERMAN SHIPS

New York, July 10.—On orders received from Washington early today secret service agents removed all articles of intrinsic value from the seized German steamships in this port and placed them in storerooms at the custom houses. The order, it was said, was issued following the discovery that a portrait of Abraham Lincoln that for years had hung at the head of the grand companionway of the liner President Lincoln had been stolen. About $50,000 worth of paintings alone were removed from the Vatteria, it was said, in addition to silverware and other articles, including several suits of Emperor William of Germany.

German War Office Announces Retirement of Teutonic Forces in Galicia and Increase of Fighting.

FRENCH AGAIN STOP THE CROWN PRINCE

Berlin, July 10.—(Via London.)—The German war office today announced that the German forces fighting in the Stanislaw sector of the Galician front were yesterday withdrawn behind the Lomica river.

Near Riga, Dvinsk and Smorgon, on the northern end of the Russian front, the official statement added, fighting between the Germans and Russians has increased.

AISNE ATTACK RENEWED.
Paris, July 10.—The Germans returned to the attack on the Aisne front last night and again met with defeat, the war office reports say. A strong attack on the French position at Herbisse and Dragon was repulsed. The attacking waves suffered severely and were unable to reach the French lines. Local attacks at Laffaux mill, Ailles, Corbeny, Courcy and Aubervie were unsuccessful. The French took prisoners.

BRITISH ADVANCE LINES.
London, June 10.—"Last night we advanced our line slightly east of Oost-taverne (one mile northeast of Wytschaete)," says today's official announcement. The British of the Ypres-Comines canal we carried out a successful raid. We captured some prisoners."

GREAT DAMAGE TO KRUPPS.
Amsterdam, July 10.—Les Louvelles of Maestricht, Holland, reports that Dutch workmen who were laid off at the Krupp works on account of the destruction of buildings in the recent French air raid, assert that a quarter of the Essen plant was destroyed.

The material damage is placed at millions of francs, and it is said that one hundred employees were killed and hundreds of others, including forty-five French prisoners, were killed.

One and possibly two French airplanes dropped bombs on Essen last Friday. The official German report of the raid said only two bomb holes were found. One and possibly two French airplanes dropped bombs on Essen last Friday. The official German report of the raid said only two bomb holes were found.

The statement says the enemy has retreated to the Lomica river. In two days the Russians penetrated to a depth of 8-2-3 miles the enemy positions west of Stanislaw.

RUSSIANS DRIVE AHEAD.
Petrograd, July 10.—General Korniloff's offensive in eastern Galicia continues, says today's official Russian war department statement, despite the energetic resistance and stubborn counter-attacks of the Teutons. Additional villages have been captured. More than 1,000 prisoners were taken.

Summary of the Day's War News

Several villages captured and more than 1,000 additional prisoners and three field guns taken attest the success of the second day's attack by General Korniloff in eastern Galicia. Already this branch of the Russian offensive movement has resulted in a deep wedge being driven into the Austro-German line between Stanislaw and Galicia, southeast of Lemburg. It took the throwing in of strong German reserves and the launching of heavy counter attacks to slow up the rush of Korniloff's men.

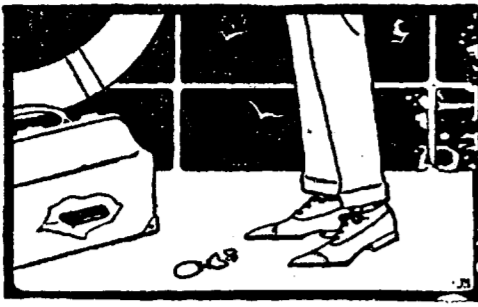

The strategic position in this sector is now clearly in the hands of the Russians. The long established teutonic line has been definitely broken and the rush of Russian pressure points to the probable speedy fall of Halicz, opening up the way to Lem-

FIND GERMAN U-BOAT DRIFTING WITH HER CREW DEAD INSIDE

Galveston, Texas, July 10.—A German submarine of the most modern type floating a short distance off the Irish coast, every member of the crew having been suffocated, was recently picked up by a British patrol boat and taken to port. The submarine was found to be a U-boat of the type known as U-101, and was found to be empty except for the dead crew.

(Copyright, 1917, Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

Santa Rosa, Cal., July 10.—Luther Burbank, the world's greatest scientific agriculturist, today announced the perfection of a "super-wheat" which he believes will go far toward solving the universal problem of grain shortage. Its yield is five times as much per acre as the average production throughout the United States today. Where 16 bushels are now garnered, 40 to 70 is the measure of the new Burbank variety. It is as if this genius of the plant kingdom had suddenly extended many fold America's wheat acreage.

The promise of this achievement for a hunger-threatened world can scarcely be overestimated. It is the product of ten years' extensive and very expensive experimenting to combine into one wonderful new grain the best foot qualities, hardiness and fecundity of many strains of wheat selected from all parts of the earth.

It has been carefully tested in comparison with 68 of the world's best

Why You Should Never Pare a Corn

If you are troubled with corns or calluses, do not run the risk of blood poisoning by paring them. Statistics show that many deaths have occurred from this seemingly innocent practice of paring corns.

Simply go to your druggist and get a few cents worth of Ice-Mint, rub a little on any painful corn or callus. Immediately the pain will disappear and in a short time the corn or callus will loosen and lift off easily with the fingers—no need of using the knife or any other instrument.

This, together with the fact that Ice-Mint overcomes such afflictions as sore, tired, aching, puffed or burning feet and makes them cool, easy and comfortable, is probably responsible for the hearty endorsement given it by druggists.

To rid one's feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes or painful calluses in such a pleasant and safe way, makes it seem the height of folly for anyone to pare a corn, and people are warned to stop it.—Advertisement.

COSANTINO WANTED IN ATLANTIC CITY

Man Arrested Here Will Be Taken Back to New Jersey.

Anton Cosantino, 30, wears a light-checked suit and a fiery gleam in his eye. That was the reason why Detective Sergeant Randall led him from Calhoun street to police headquarters Monday afternoon. Joseph Brennan, in charge of the berrillion department, studied Cosantino and also the police records. He found that the man is wanted in Atlantic City, N. J., for three offenses.

Atlantic City police were notified and a return telegram stated that an officer will be here to recover the prisoner as soon as possible. Cosantino is held under $1,000 bond to await the arrival of the eastern officials.

Was Negligent.
William Sproat, 40, neglected to provide for his wife and seven children, it was proven. He has given the wife, who keeps the family at 1427 St. Mary's avenue, the sum of $7 during the past month. Sproat was fined $1 and sentenced to thirty days at road work.

Must Hold Job.
Dorris Deutchman, 18, must get a job and stay with it. His stepfather, Frank Strain, had the young man in police court on a trespass charge, because he claims Dorris stayed at the home and did not pay board. Dorris has had eight jobs since February. He pays board when he works. Judge Kerr continued the case with the order that Dorris work more.

Other Police Court Cases.
Commodore Keck, the Cedarville man who extracted his mother-in-law, his wife and several children from his home at the cost of a blackened eye and other bodily bruises, Monday afternoon, was released to the Cedarville marshal, Tuesday. Keck will answer an assault charge.

Cases of public intoxication were: Carl Anderson, fined $1 and costs; Jack Rickey, will be tried on Saturday, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hays will be given a hearing on next Friday.

ELKS TO ENJOY STAG
PICNIC ON JULY 29

Red Letter Day for Antlered
Host at New Country
Home.

Fort Wayne Elks are arranging for another big day at their new country club, formerly Germania park. On Sunday, July 29, they will give an all day stag picnic at their new home, and it is expected to be one of the red letter days of the organization. Bills have been printed bearing the words, "Best Picnic On Earth," and also the alliterative announcement that "In bilanes—on hubs—in street cars and subs—we'll pale all previous pretensions."

All day the Elks will feast on chicken, pork chops and veal chops. A sixteen-foot grill has been made, and white clad cooks will hand out the food. Arrangements are being made by Charles Spanley, chairman; Harry Hattersley, Dr. C. J. Rothschild and William Bayer.

Out of town Elks will be invited, and prizes of $50, $25 and $5 will be offered for the largest delegations from other cities.

RAILWAY HOSPITAL BURNS.
Paducah, Ky., July 10.—Two persons were injured and damage approximating $175,000 was done by a fire which destroyed the hospital of the Illinois Central railroad company here early today. The night watchman at the institution reported that the fire followed an explosion. An investigation is being made.

VALPARAISO MAN ENDS LIFE.

Valparaiso, Ind., July 10.—Henry Defries, aged 30, wealthy manufacturer, committed suicide at his home here today by slashing his throat with a razor. He was an invalid and was said to be despondent because of his condition.

WORE DIAMONDS IN JOURNEY FROM CITY

Negress Apprehended by Detective Pappert Denies Guilt.

Ida Sadie Washington, 40, colored, wore diamonds and carried a $100 watch when she rode in a taxi cab from the A. B. Frank home to the railroad station several days ago, it is claimed. The domestic is charged with robbing the Frank residence, in which she was employed, while the family were at Rome City.

Detective Sergeant W. F. Pappert was called on the case when the Frank family returned home the first of June, and could not locate a part of their valuables. The negro woman who had been employed as a domestic was gone. So were two gold rings, a watch, a suit case and some clothes.

The detective learned that Mrs. Washington had taken a taxi cab from the Frank home several days before and had left the city. He was unable to locate the woman. She came back to Fort Wayne Monday. The detective with Bailiff George Eisenhut arrested her. She denies taking the articles in question. She is held under $500 bond for trial next Tuesday.

Insurance Men Believe New

Ordinance Dangerous to

Public Safety.

Insurance men of the city are seeking the aid of the state forces in an effort to prevent the change of city ordinance which would permit companies to build and maintain tanks containing 15,000 gallons of oil above the ground inside the city limits.

It was learned that a deputy had been sent to this city by the state fire marshal and had conducted an investigation quietly last week, not making any report to anyone in Fort Wayne. C. B. Fitch, of Fitch & Fishering, had written the state officials asking if some action could not be taken to prevent the storing of large quantities of oil and gasoline in the city.

Insurance men consider the ordinance, which was passed over the mayor's veto, with the alleged object of allowing the St. Clair Oil company to build tanks at McCulloch and Hayden streets, to be contrary to state fire laws.

This Map Shows You Exactly Where Shady Brook Park is Located

Two Concrete-Paved Drives and an Interurban Railway Lead Directly to Shady Brook Park

Readers of The Sentinel who wish to drive to Shady Brook Park will find it necessary for awhile to make the round over the Lincoln Highway to Bueter road and then turn south (see the map). The more southerly route, by way of the New Haven road, is at present cut off on account of the paving of this highway with concrete, like the Lincoln Highway. J. S. Peddicord and the C. S. Kitch Company, who have developed this splendid residence property, have not only provided concrete pavements in the subdivision, but will lay a concrete road from New Haven road southward to the entrance to Shady Brook Park, this providing a continuous stretch of pavement from down town directly to the front door of every home in Shady Brook Park.

While many good lots have already been taken in Shady Brook Park, there are many choice ones left to select. The present week would seem to afford a splendid opportunity to visit the place and choose a home site. Mr. Peddicord and the C. S. Kitch Company have opened a ground floor office at No. 1022 Calhoun street, three doors north of the Jefferson theater, and they will be glad to take anyone to Shady Brook Park in their automobiles or provide free round-trip tickets on the interurban line.

According to one account, Gerbert, afterward Pope Sylvester II, learned the use of the numerals from the Moors in Spain in the tenth century. Another account is that Leonardo da Pisa introduced them from the east into Italy about 1202. The use of them was not general until the invention of printing.

It was at one time stated that there were in Holland at least 9,900 large windmills, of which the sails ranged from 80 to 100 feet long. At that time their yearly cost was reported to be nearly $10,000,000. The mills are used for many purposes—for sawing timber, beating hemp, grinding, but their principal use has always been to pump water from the lowlands into the canals, to protect the little country from being inundated.

HOW LONDON LOOKS AND ACTS DURING A RAID BY THE GERMAN AIR PIRATES DESCRIBED BY WRITER.

So Far from Being Terrified, London Goes Up to the Ridgepole for Good View of the Airships That Are Dropping Big Bombs on the City.

BY K. W. PAYNE.
London, July 9.—The Germans may try to wipe out London from the air, this summer, by an endless series of furious airplane attacks, say many observers here.

Utterly foolish as the attempt would be, these observers claim air raids on London are still in their infancy, both as to extent and ferocity. They assert the kaiser might logically attempt to keep hundreds of planes in operation against the world metropolis, actually expecting to accomplish thereby some military purpose.

It is held the Germans, in an effort to overcome British air supremacy in France, will persist in bombing English women and children, thus hoping some of the British air fighters may be forced to protect home towns and give up service at the front.

Commentators suggest America can play here a role of unparalleled utility by hastening to bring to her allies a still greater preponderance of aerial power.

In fact, it is suggested, the Germans in forcing the fight from the skies are actually ensuring their own more speedy downfall, through an allied air navy so powerful as to dominate completely the whole future course of the war.

Meanwhile Londoners continue to take the kaiser's doses of airplane frightfulness with curiosity and increased determination to fight until frightfulness is crushed in Germany.

Here is a typical experience of an air raid:
Over the click of typewriters in the office we note a succession of dull thuds, like the distant banging of doors. Then it sounds as though somebody was dropping heavy boxes in a room down the hall. Suddenly a crash and shiver near at hand makes everybody stop work.

"Guess it's a raid," says the stenographer, unmoved.
Out in the corridors and stairways are two leisurely moving currents of people. Some are going downstairs to the cellars; most are climbing up to the roofs. All are joking and laughing; there is no sign of undue excitement; men are continuing to talk business as they go.

On the roof, the view is extraordinary. London's whole skyline is alive with humanity. Office boys are perched up on the chimneys. Girls are clustered on all flat spaces, gazing up into the dazzling sky. From the spirit of the sightseers you'd think some thrilling aerial circus was being staged. All the time there echoes the crash of bombs and the sound of anti-aircraft guns. Now and again for a few seconds airplanes, glistering like silver in the sun, are visible maneuvering in the clouds. They disappear. The bomb spot where the bombs fell. But because of these things their resolve grows more grim than ever that there can be no peace with the Hohenzollerns.

The sightseers on the roofs go back to work. They know that women and babies have been killed. They feel a burning hate for the men responsible. But, as innocent spectators themselves, they cannot help hoping that if there is another raid they'll have a better view of the aerial performance. It is so tremendously thrilling and novel.

The horror of the babies with arms and legs blown off, school children crushed under falling timbers—these things they don't know of until next day, unless they were right near the

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Catarrhs free. All Druggists, etc.

MORE SHAMED THAN HURT.

The public mind in London is in a great state of heat because of the latest of the German air raids over that city. The extent of the material damage and the loss of life in Saturday's sensational raid, when the kaiser's airmen bombed the heart of the metropolis, may not have been greater than the censored dispatches indicate, but the results could scarcely have stirred the people to a higher pitch of wrath if half the city had been destroyed and thousands of people slain.

Britons appear to be much less concerned with the destruction of property and the human casualties than with the fact that the raid itself and another that preceded it some three weeks earlier, when the loss of life was quite heavy, should have been possible at all. They believe the war office has fallen down in its duty to furnish all possible protection against the German air raids. They are ashamed, humiliated and angered by the evident impunity with which the enemy can sail over the city, drop bombs, destroy property, take life and wing his way in safety back to his base. The feeling is natural and it is aggravated by the boasted superiority of England and her allies in the air. That superiority, however, is for the most part on the battle fronts in France and Belgium and may go largely to account for England's weakness of defense against air raids over her own soil.

It is pointed out with some force that if Germany can dispatch aerial squadrons of a dozen or a score planes over London she may quite as readily send fleets of one hundred or two hundred planes and visit upon London a description of consequences which will not leave the British people feeling more shamed than hurt. The success of the two German air raids of the past month does not leave the possibility of such a pretentious adventure involved in great doubt, nor would it be a violent surprise to see the Germans soon attempt an air raid on a scale of such magnitude. There has now and then come from Germany something more definite than a boast and hint that the British would be struck from the air so often and so hard they would realize the horrors of war were not reserved wholly for the other side of the channel.

It was the conviction of the late Count Zeppelin that in his giant dirigibles he had perfected the weapon which should humble England. He believed that with a fleet of those great aerial craft the destruction of London would be a matter of no great difficulty. Repeated Zeppelin raids were made over England, but no military advantage resulted and the consequences were not in any instance important. Zeppelins made good targets for anti-aircraft guns on the ground and were vulnerable to attack by airplanes. Germany lost a good many Zeppelins in air raids over England.

The three air raids in force by airplanes have proved them superior to Zeppelins for the purpose. They have the speed, mobility and low visibility that altogether afford the highest degree of safety against counter-attack. The answer to the airplane is the airplane. Big fleets of high-powered machines ready to arise to repel aerial invaders the moment their appearance is apprehended would serve most effectually to create defense and make the enemy wary of risking his machines against superior numbers.

Great Britain is now said to be looking confidently to the United States to produce the aerial arm that shall at length put Germany out of business in the sky. That also is the hope and expectation of the aerial enthusiasts here. Congress already has a bill that would appropriate over $600,000,000 for aeroplanes and equipment. Secretary Daniels has just added to that vast program a request for $45,000,000 to be expended in advancing the aerial arm of the navy. There ought to be no great delay by congress in getting these appropriations through so that money may be available for developing American military aviation. The importance of this is not that it may save London, though the safety of any and all of America's allies is now of supervening importance, but that if this nation is going to create adequate defenses and is going to prosecute the war to win, it can do so in no better way than to make itself supreme in the air. This is the country that should claim and maintain aerial supremacy. It is a pity to give the world a mighty weapon of which we make no use.

DR. LYCURGUS S. NULL.

The people of New Haven and the eastern part of Allen county will greatly miss Dr. Lycurgus Sampson Null who, after more than half a century of the practice of his profession among them, has passed on to the ample reward there must be for those who do good in the world. Dr. Null was a physician "of the old school" in more respects than that he applied himself to the profession of healing a good while ago. He had the manners and the spirit that marked the goings and comings of the "old family doctor" among his people. And he had something else that is not quite so common as it was once. Dr. Null's professional life was to himself something of a trusteeship of mercy. He bestowed his learning and skill where they seemed to be needed and the question of his fee, if not a matter of indifference at least never was paramount. Now that he is gone, men and women feel free to say of him what his own sense of obligation to humanity and his own genuine modesty forbade them to disclose while he was living. His charities and benevolences—perhaps not large in any special instances—were numerous and in the aggregate, made up of uncounted acts of generosity and kindness during half a century, amounted to a great deal. His neighbors and other friends and men and women throughout the entire countryside that was the theater of his professional work now testify to this. Dr. Null was a true physician and a genuinely good man. His life and his work deserve all that may be said of them and more. In the midst of his professional labors he found time to acquit himself of the duties of a spirited and patriotic citizen, serving his community and its people with usefulness and honor. Dr. Null will be greatly missed and sincerely mourned by the large circle in which he moved for more than fifty years.

AN INTERESTING SIDELIGHT.

That the railroads have not been destroyed by refusal of the interstate commerce commission to authorize the 15 per cent horizontal increase of rates and that certain big industrial concerns have not been plunged into disaster by the purpose of the government to assume control over certain commodities is apparent, even though the fluctuating recessions of the leading issues in Wall street would seem to argue somewhat otherwise. Dun's Weekly Review, in its last Saturday's summary of conditions, shed this interesting sidelight:

Discussion of the intrinsic value of securities is frequently heard in some quarters, but quotations of sixty railroad stocks are $1.88 net lower in the average than a week ago, with ten industrials down $1.85. Disappointment over the interstate commerce commission's rate decision ostensibly explained the decline in the rails, and the continued talk of commodity price-fixing by the government and the question of taxation were said to afford adequate reason for the recession in other issues. Yet there has been no indication of unloading by investors, and it has not required close observation to see that professionals have done most of the selling. The diminishing volume of business, with sales averaging less than 600,000 shares daily, had demonstrated that the so-called public is still keeping in the background, and in the absence of outside support floor traders have endeavored to depress the market sufficiently to induce liquidation by actual holders. That such efforts have failed of their purpose is evident.

The railway heads may be "plunged in a gulf of dark despair," and some of the captains of big industry may have visions of a down-hill road to the demitison bow-wow, but there is more of this in their talk for public consumption than in their honest minds. Investors who are holding on to their stock investments are satisfied with what they are getting and are little disturbed as to the future. If it were not so—if the railroads and the industries were in danger or threatened with any straits—the "public" would have begun days ago a furor to unload and would have plunged Wall street into a panic. Investors refuse to be coaxed or tricked into unloading. When stocks go to the bad dumping proceeds with great eclat without encouragement of any sort.

Governor Goodrich continues to suppose that he will be obliged to call the legislature into extraordinary session to deal with the fuel problem; or at least he designs to let the coal barons of Indiana suppose that is what he will do. And on the other equally interesting hand the coal barons steadfastly and stubbornly refuse to suppose that Governor Goodrich means to do anything of the sort. As for the merits of the difference, major opinion inclines to belief that the coal barons can get by on four cards with more finesse than the governor. It saves the situation in all nominal aspects that the federal government is sleuthing about the state to see what it can see about the way coal is mined and marketed. That likewise may be a stony pretense of getting ready to stand pat, but the word federal still hath power to conjure visions of doing something awful to trusts, combines and conspiracies.

The Pacific Scuffle.

R. W. S. has been having a fight with one of those nightmares—those Pacific nightmares, all yours—plait—you read about. Notice how serenely he gives the tully boot to his adversary.

Pacificist says:

"I do not want to go to war
(I fear I might be shot)
My flag? It's but a piece of cloth,
My country? Tommyrot!
I'll argue with the enemy,
And talk him sane again.
It is the only thing to do,
With such mistaken men!"

"I'll let him walk upon my neck,
And rip and swear and rave,
And when he's all worn out, I'll say Decidedly, 'Behave!'
But should it chance that he forgets
Himself, and kills me?—Boo!
I won't be here to care a hang
What happens, then, to YOU!"

R. W. S. replies:

"But we'll be here and so will you,
When this blasted war is done,
And our enemy the enemy,
Has dropped his gun and run;
But you—too blasted good to fight—
May come down with a thud,
And then decide to change your name
From Pacificist to Mud!"

Snickers at Royalty.

It now seems that Jahrg was only the heir apparently, and not the heir apparent. Probably Alexander can live up to the traditions of the family, but it's doubtful. Alfonso must feel sad that the time has gone by when he could hog the limelight. Doubtless Nick has at last learned to hoe a straight row.

What's to be done with the Sultan's wives after we have done the Sultan?

Diplomacy.

Tommy had sinned. The jam jar was empty. "Fuss," said Tommy, "I see that you have arrived in time to save my life."

Then with haste and cunning he smeared a small portion of the jam on the cat's face saying, "I'm sorry, but I can't let suspicion point at me—besides you've been blamed so often you probably won't mind this one more."

Masculine Supremacy.

When I marry a maid in this city—
(I'll do it if I get a chance!)
I promise one thing that's a pity—
I shall wear, most assuredly, the garments provided by nature to clothe and cover mankind, and I will not permit any woman with the rod of authority never permitting the female, no matter how cooing and cunning she may be, to have any chance to wear—any of the clothes and appurtenances that serve as a badge or badges of authority.
I thank you!

Cooked Stuff.

Employment Bureau Lady—This woman has the reputation of a good cook.
Mrs. Richesse—Oh, that will be all right. I can trust my husband perfectly.

"I don't know—why?"
"Well, the new ones are more particular about being called 'Reverend.'"

What's Good English?

"Let's cut the first knot in the reef," says a forestry sharp. Agreed. But first of all let us put on the wise look by which we are known when we permit our scholastic ability free play. Now that we have our facial expression adjusted let us inquire—do we cut a thing in half or in two? We may cut it in halves, assuredly. Will some advanced highbrow dash quickly to our rescue?

Houses You Have Met.

Houses, like folks, have souls. There are big-souled houses which, only to enter, bless and sanctify our thoughts. Have you not entered, occasionally, a rather ordinary house which gave no promise of anything remarkable, and found that the atmosphere, or soul, began to permeate even the words you uttered?

"Clothes do not make the man," nor do furniture and surroundings make a house, though they help to crystallize the impression one gets of it, certainly.

A well-furnished house, like a well-dressed man, may cover a multitude of sins, but be sure those sins will be found out.

Some houses seem flimsy—as well as the people who live in them. Do you know houses like these—neither good nor bad, architecturally speaking, but rather nondescript? The rooms when entered, seem cluttered and small, and ten to one, the lady of the house is a tall Amazon whose long fingers point to the critical faculties.

Avoid such a house—and, look out for the Amazon! "Abandon hope all ye who enter here!" you know!—E. S.

That's all right, E. S., but the house we like is the one by the side of the road. We have been there, and it's a wonderful place. And those who inhabit that house are quite wonderful, too. It is good to be a friend to man!

Country Surmise.

Ma Oldstyle—What's this here drum fire I be'n readin' about?
Pa Oldstyle—I s'pose it's where th' dinged heads git so tight they're all lit up.

Must Have Been a Snicker.

"Tessie would you accept me if I went down on my knees to you?"
"No—not even if you went down on your hands and knees."

Mercy!

"It comes high," said Deceit Lightfoot, referring to the French silk stocking she was purchasing.
"So I see, lady," returned the clerk, who was nothing if not obliging.

A NEW CONSTITUTION

By John A. Lapp, Bureau of Legislative Information

(Copyright, 1917, by John A. Lapp.)

Under the term "social justice" has come to be grouped a large number of measures for common welfare, such as workmen's compensation for accidents, shorter work days, protection of children, improved working conditions, minimum wages, old age insurance, sickness and unemployment insurance, health and housing.

A larger and growing part of our people have seen the necessity of such measures to protect all people from injustice and to distribute the burden of misfortune.

Men work long hours at confining labor; children are stunted by tedious work in their tender years; and women lose their vitality by working too long in unhealthy surroundings. If accident, sickness or unemployment come the burden falls upon the worker and on top of all, the wages paid may be insufficient to keep the worker in the necessities of life.

Conditions have improved somewhat. Labor of little children is prohibited, women's health is protected and safeguarded, and improved working conditions have been required for the safety and health of men. In times of prosperity we hear little complaint, but we know of the solemn dread which great numbers of people carry in their hearts that hard times, unemployment, sickness and accident may come and find them unprepared to meet them. Great masses of the population live on the verge of poverty. Very few are able to prepare for a competence in old age and must depend upon the care of relatives and friends or be a charge upon society.

What has been selfishly considered the individual's burden must be assumed by society through form of insurance which shall guarantee to each the protection and assistance of all. Life from beginning to end needs to be safeguarded and just as many of the calamities of life averted as justice, socialism, paternalism or whatever you please, it is the program which is essential to bulwark the foundation of society. Let us review it in detail:

1. Child Protection. We have begun to protect childhood, but only begun. We prohibit child slavery in industry—that is, we prohibit child labor under sixteen from working in certain industries—but we leave it to the children above sixteen to work in any kind of industry they choose. Vicious surroundings in industry soon undo all the good work of the schools. Youth are untrained to do the kind of work which they can do best and they lose their juvenile jobs, and become a part of the army of discontented misfits. The times require that society's care of children shall continue until they are safely established in the world's work.

2. Protection of Workers. There is no question any more about the necessity of enforcing health regulations in factories. Neither the employer nor employee may plead that it is their own business. The burden of it falls on society and the cause cannot be permitted. So also with accident prevention. No so-called rights of individuals, to do as they please, can interfere with the broader rights of society. If conditions are unhealthy, machinery unsafe, hours too long, and work, particularly of women, unduly fatiguing, these matters must be corrected even though personal rights of employer or employee are invaded.

Insurance. We already have workmen's compensation for industrial accidents in a limited way. This was the most obvious need and the first attended to. But the system is voluntary. If the employer and employee agree to accept the terms of the law in case of an injury the insurance is paid to the employee. Only a small part of the workers are thus protected. The reason why the law was made voluntary was that a compulsory law, under which everyone would be included, would be unconstitutional. It would conflict with the right of the person to go into court to collect damages whenever his person, property or reputation is injured. If after drawing compensation under the law a man still had a right to sue his employer for more, it is plain that the whole thing falls.

Voluntary insurance laws of any kind are not sufficient because the very people who need insurance most are often excluded. To have compulsory workmen's compensation insurance, old age insurance, sickness and unemployment insurance, we must have a constitutional right to invade personal liberty sufficiently to compel the individuals, for their own good, to contribute to the insurance and share its benefits. The constitution does not establish any of these forms of insurance. It ought to be written so as to leave no people free to establish such form of compulsory insurance as they may desire.

4. Minimum Wages. There is a well settled belief among thinking people, that every form of industry must pay its own way. There should be sufficient profit in it to pay to the workers a wage at least high enough to provide for a decent living, or else the industry ought not to be permitted. It is perfectly plain that if the workers in an industry can not make a decent living that industry is a leech upon society. When a man pays less than a living wage to a girl clerk because the girl lives at home and gets the rest of her living from her parents, that store is a leech, not only upon society but also upon the girl's parents.

To meet the condition a number of states have passed minimum wage laws applying to women. These laws are administered by boards who fix a minimum wage in each industry. These boards do not fix the wage. They merely determine what is the minimum wage required for decent living and no woman may be employed at less than that wage. These laws have been held constitutional because of the greater need of safeguarding women and girls from exploitation. It is the general opinion that such laws would not be constitutional as to men because of the right of contract under which a man is supposed to be free to destroy his health and his life if he wants to. Social justice demands that his foolish right be curtailed and their minimum wages be fixed.

5. Hours of Labor. The hours of child labor have been fixed in this and other states and no one doubts the necessity and justice of it. The hours of women's labor have been limited in many states and upheld by the courts because of the danger to society of permitting the women—the bearers of the race—to destroy their vitality from excessive work. To subject men to limit hours of men's labor have met the opposition again that man has the freedom to contract for as many or as few hours as he desires. It is held that man is his own keeper and it is nobody's business if he chooses to injure himself by excessive work. To subject all men, however, to the grueling effect of long hours is unequal and in the interests of society the individual is asked to forego his personal right of contract. The constitution grants him that right. There is a firm belief that it ought to be limited or taken away.

6. Health and Housing. Whenever the conduct of the individual imposes a danger upon others he may be controlled. No one may maintain a nuisance and endanger the health of his neighbors. Although "a man's house is his castle" it will not be protected against the rights of others. No one ever doubted the constitutional right to enter a man's house and compel the abatement of any danger to public health, but there are those who doubt the right to compel a man to clean up for his own benefit. And yet if in sanitary house results in disease, death and possible dependency, society certainly has a right to protect itself.

We meet the question of the invasion of personal rights and vested interests at every turn when correction of evils in health and housing is attempted. The right of property is sacred and yet more sacred than the rights of life. We pass laws to say that buildings hereafter constructed must conform to sanitary requirements but we lack authority to interfere with the rights of property to say that existing buildings shall be ventilated properly and made safe. The foregoing are illustrations of the many ways in which the constitution curbs the power of the people for social action. It was not intended to do so but phrases in the constitution which were meant to prevent wrongs have become the course of social evolution in the course of protecting wrongs and preventing rights. There were no such problems as workmen's compensation for industrial accidents in 1851 nor problems of housing or social insurance. These have come with the development of an industrial society.

The constitutional problem involved is simple. The people must be allowed to meet these new conditions with legislation enacted, altered and revised as the needs arise. Old theories of personal rights need to be revised when those personal rights become personal and public wrongs.

Questions for Investigation.

1. Why is compulsory insurance impossible under the present constitution?
2. Why is compulsory instead of voluntary insurance necessary to meet the conditions?
3. What are the arguments for and against old age insurance?
4. How far should personal rights be sacrificed for public rights?

No Selection for Service in New Army Until Local Boards Give Numbers to All on Rolls

(BY GILSON GARDNER.)

Giving a number to each man registered for the selective service was the first job for the local selection boards.

As soon as these boards are properly organized they will make application and receive the registration cards belonging in their territory. They will then proceed to number the cards. The war department will be informed as to the number, but not as to the names opposite each number.

All the chances to eliminate will be worked out in Washington. The numbers chosen for duty—unless the board excuses—will be determined here. They may be put on marbles and rolled out of a big leather bottle. The exact method to be employed in this lottery has not been decided upon, but it will be sure to leave the first selections entirely to chance.

The mails will be used to notify men of their selection. Letters will be sent to addresses which appear on the registration cards notifying those whose numbers come out of the bottle to appear before the registration board at a certain time and place to report further as to their qualifications for service.

The methods of the registration boards will be quite informal. The young man will be asked first if he wishes to serve or has any reason to ask exemption. If he desires exemption the examination will go on. He will be asked such questions as: How old is your dependent mother? Where does she live? Has she any property from which an income is derived? How long have you supported her? What other members of the family contribute to her support, and how much? What is your trade? How much do you earn?

In most cases this information will be a matter of common knowledge in the neighborhood. In little towns and in the country where everybody else, the answer to these questions may even be personally known to members of the board. In big cities the situation will be a little different. Examinations may have to run more deeply into facts. In some cases the boards may have to take steps to get independent information, or the government representatives may do the same.

About five days, it is believed, will be enough to get the information desired. After this will come the work of the appeal boards, one in each judicial district. These will pass on appealed cases.

Beginning within a few days the government will mail out forms which will be used in making claims for exemption or discharge, and activities which must be filled out by ministers of the gospel, judges, police, mayors and other public officers.

Some disqualification has been raised with selections made for exemption boards. Nearly every member of congress has had an errand at the office of the secretary of war of this sort, but little attention is paid to these reports. The authorities here assume that any exemption officers are bound to be unsatisfactory to some people. Their work is bound to be criticised. The policy of the department, therefore, is to accept the appointments of the governors and to tell the boards to go ahead regardless of kicks.

INCREASE IN INSANITY.

[Grand Rapids Press.]

A report by the national committee on mental hygiene that insanity in the United States has increased 24.6 per cent in seven years while the country's population has grown by 11.30 per cent appears ominous on the surface. A survey of the facts, however, shows there is no cause for apprehension. The committee's statistics are based on the number of insane actually committed to institutions for their care, and as these places have grown rapidly in number and capacity during the period from 1910 to 1917, thereby permitting the care of many cases formerly kept in private homes, it may be seen that the increase in proportion to population is not so great after all. As institutions for the insane improve, and they have been improving without doubt, they become less dreaded by the public and more mild cases are admitted. When these and other facts relative to the ever increasing efficiency for the care of those afflicted with mental diseases are considered the increase in cases does not appear so appalling as the face of the figures would have them appear.

Michigan is a state that has marched to the forefront in recent years in the matter of adequately handling its insane and feeble-minded. It is one of only nine states in the union that have adopted a comparatively new feature in the work, psychopathic hospitals for the temporary care of the insane. The expert attention that Michigan has given to this problem is beginning to produce results. The per cent of increase in the state's population from 1910 to 1917 was 9.41. The per cent of increase in the insane committed to institutions was but 10.12.

The state's high standing in this regard is revealed by comparison with other states, such as Indiana, where the growth in population was 4.64, and in insane, 27.44 per cent. Michigan is one of the few states where the difference between the increase in population and the number of insane has been 2 per cent or less. This speaks well for the state's enlightened attitude toward a problem that always has been complex and that yields only to the most constant and unselfish attention.

Time and patience are required in the solution of the question, but on the basis of recent advances it is safe to assume that it will not be many years before comparative statistics of population and insanity will be showing a disparity in favor of growth in population.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

Martha Bruck, 62 years old, widow of Moritz Bruck, is dead at her home in St. Joseph township.

Samuel L. Morris and family, of West Washington street, left today for Denver, Col., where the family will remain during the summer. Mr. Morris will return home in a few days.

Messrs. Martin Detzer, Harry Pickard and Ross McCulloch will attend the meeting of the League of American Wheelmen in Washington this week.

Bert Early, a young man about 21 years old, has evidently taken his own life, as he threatened to do in a letter written to his grandfather, Squire William Glenn, of Abbot township, with whom the boy made his home for years.

Miss Flick is cultivating some colored and white watermelons that are remarkable for their beauty and fragrance. A cluster of these lilies were displayed in her show window today and were admired by a great many people.

The Congregationalists will break ground for their new church on the corner of Jefferson and Harrison streets Wednesday evening. The excavation will be commenced at once, and the work will be pushed until the new edifice is completed.

Will R. Emery, who presided over these columns six years ago, but now with the Lord & Thomas Advertising agency, Chicago, has returned from the severe injuries received in an accident some months ago and is again able to attend to business. His arm was broken and his skull fractured in three places.

The approach to the Columbia street bridge is much too narrow and is regarded as a good many people are concerned about the widening of it. Columbia street should be sixty-six feet wide on top at present. There is a great deal of travel over this route now by the people of Lakeside and those going to the Catholic cemetery.

Robert Ellis, a carpenter residing at 110 Gay street, died at an early hour this morning from injuries received while working in the shop of S. F. Bowser & Co. While working about a circular saw last Saturday a heavy plank which he was handling flew from its bearing and struck Mr. Ellis in the abdomen. By strange and what has proven to be a fatal coincidence, this was the second accident of the kind that happened at the same saw within twenty-four hours. A. F. Jackson, another employee, having had a close call only the day previous.

GENTRY BROS.' ZOOLAND HAS BASEBALL TEAM OF ELEPHANTS

Nowhere but in the arena of Gentry Brothers' shows, coming to Fort Wayne on Monday, July 16, to exhibit at South Calhoun and Packard avenue, will one find elephants, camels, dromedaries, horses, ponies, monkeys and dogs working together in big mixed animal acts.

And between the pachyderms and the beautiful Gentry collie dogs there is a fun and touching friendship. When the biggest elephant in the herd sinks to its bended knees over the reclining figure of the smallest collie, apparently crushing the dog flatter than the proverbial pancake, the canine's tail can be seen wagging its cheerful confidence in the big brother performer. All of the Gentry animals are versatile. The elephants play baseball, serenade on band instruments and engage in a wide range of acrobatics and drills. One of the pachyderms plays two instruments at once in the elephant band—the alto horn and the base drum. How? Easy. The drum stick used is the product of mother nature. It is the elephant's tail. This is the "jumbo" that pitches on the Gentry zooland nine, an aggregation of the heaviest hitters in the world.

Resinol the home remedy for sick skins

When someone in the family develops an itching patch of rash or eczema, you want something that will give immediate relief and heal the trouble before it has a chance to become serious. The success of Resinol for skin-troubles has been proven by years of use by physicians and in the home.

Resinol is also a valuable healing dressing for chafes, cuts, burns, and sore places generally. Sold by all druggists.

TREASONABLE ACTS AT FLAG RAISING

Those Who Shouted for Kaiser and Threatened United States Flag May Be Prosecuted.

Decatur, Ind., July 10.—Word from Honduras is to the effect that the flag-raising ceremony there on Saturday night was attended by considerable excitement. It is stated on good authority that a party of German sympathizers, inflamed by liquor, tried to make things unpleasant for the citizens taking part in the ceremony. Cheers for the Kaiser, threats to tear down the flag and German yodels, sung while the speaking was in progress, were among the treasonable diversions indulged in. As far as learned here there was no actual clash. It is said that the matter has been reported to the federal authorities and that the local citizens of the community, who are greatly in the majority, are determined that the men guilty of the performances on Saturday night shall be severely dealt with.

COULD GIVE $200,000 BOND.

Redkey, Ind., July 10.—Bond to the amount of $200,000, it is said, can be obtained here within a few minutes' time and with but little effort, to bring about the liberty of Kyle Hale, if he should be arrested on the warrant already issued from the court of Squire E. W. Anders, on an affidavit filed by John May, local barber, charging Hale with shooting Roy Brown to death on January 29, 1916. So far no officer has been secured who will serve the warrant.

STILL CAMPED AT DELPHOS.

Delphos, Ohio, July 10.—The Uncle Tom's Cabin company, held up in this city Thursday by orders of the board of health, is still camped here. The orders given by the health board were that the company should not give an exhibition until the state board disposes of the case.

TWELVE MILES OF BRICK.

Ligonier, Ind., July 10.—The county commissioners of Noble county have awarded the contract for twelve miles of brick pavement. The road extends out of Ligonier to the east. The total cost of the improvement will be $177,500.

TWO STROKES OF PARALYSIS.

Bluffton, Ind., July 10.—Harry Kirkwood, ex-sheriff of Wells county, has suffered two strokes of paralysis. Kirkwood lives at Petroleum.

MAIL ROUTE RESTORED.

Bluffton, Ind., July 10.—Word has been received by local postal authorities that the Uniondale rural route recently abolished, will be restored and enlarged soon.

ROMAN STRIPES NEWEST NOTE IN SWEATER FAD.

Roman stripes have entered the sweater arena. They are much newer than the plaids or the checkboard effects. It is proper to have them in connection with the slipover sweater of silk or of Shetland wool, and these may be minus those features heretofore thought absolutely essential to outing garments.

Not a few of the most recent models seen are braided in soutache, and there are others that show a stenciled design which is frequently outlined in silk embroidery.

Such models are ordinarily accompanied by a self sash, and this may be tied at the back, toward one side or directly in front, to suit the individual fancy.

The basque sweater is a comparatively newcomer. One thing about it that recommends itself is the fact that it adjusts itself most agreeably to almost any type of figure. There are also fish-tail sweaters which are decidedly novel. These come in silk and in wool.

Kokomo friends consisting of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kistler and family. The party is on the way to Chicago.

The women of St. Paul's Lutheran church will have a picnic at Lakeside park on Wednesday afternoon. Miss Elizabeth Siler will be present with a notary public to register those who have not already done so.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bohn motored to New York recently, accompanied by two of their sons and their wives, who came here from New York and spent a day and then joined their parents for the automobile return trip.

Major Ivers W. Leonard, Eleventh infantry, U. S. A., is now stationed at Camp Chickamauga, Ga. Major Leonard is a Fort Wayne man and his family are now living in Ann Arbor, Mich., where they have been since their return from the Philippines.

Mrs. Edgar Smith and Miss Martha Bolkins, who came here to attend the patriotic tea given at the home of O. R. Bickel, of Lawton Place, and visit Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Haaga and several other friends, have returned to their homes in Lafayette.

Mrs. W. Barnes and son, Robert, and Mrs. R. C. Lyman, of Chicago, and Mrs. Frank Greenwell, of Huntstown, are guests of Mrs. W. M. Clutter, 1023 Columbia avenue, Mrs. C. Claude Travis and daughters are in Chicago, and Rev. Mr. Travis will join them for a few days and will be absent over Sunday.

A house party of the week at Lake James is composed of the Misses Florence Trowbridge, Mary Leonard, Ann Pulver, Elsie Simminger, of the shipping department of the General Electric works, and the Misses Hermine Simminger and Doris Pulver. The party is occupying the Willis A. Fox cottage.

Rev. Otto Leussenhop, of Colorado Springs, pastor of the Lutheran church in that city, left for his home this morning, after a short visit with his brother, Louis Leussenhop. Rev. Leussenhop had been attending the general conference of the Missouri synod and stopped over here en route to Colorado Springs.

Her fourth birthday anniversary was one to be long remembered by little Fylene Brandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Brandt, of 1728 Bayer avenue, because she had a party. The party was last Saturday and there were many sweets, including a cake, games, music and a general good time. Mrs. Brandt was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Childers, of Garrett.

The B. P. O. club girls give a pleasant social affair on Friday in the way of a supper party at Robinson park. The table was handsomely decorated in red and white. The members of the club are active in Red Cross work at headquarters. Enjoying the picnic were Misses Edith Kleeneyer, Viola Beard, Katherine Vogel, Frieda Raefling, Anna Hengsteler, Chis Crab, Emma Vogel, Loretta Patterson and Pearl Miller, of Elkhart.

Friends among the young people of this city and also of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Pixley and Miss Louise Pixley are interested in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Nathalie Roquemore, of Jacksonville, Fla., to Dr. Samuel Oliver Burdette, of Washington, D. C. Miss Roquemore spent a year in Fort Wayne, a guest at the Pixley home, and only returned south a few months since. She has known Dr. Burdette for several years. The wedding will take place this fall.

A happy surprise party was given on Miss Blanche Westerman on Saturday evening at her home, 2310 Anthony boulevard, in celebration of her natal anniversary. Music and games were the pastime until a late hour, when a lunch was daintily served. There were present Misses Alec Wolf, Florence Maines, Grace Frey, Loretta Crab, Eva Blosser, Vera Ames, Blanche and Gladys Westerman and Harvey Maines, Walter Haller, William Schneider, Albert Trautman, Clifford Brockmeyer, Harry Neff, Oscar Deahl, Ervin Tegtmeyer and Frank Haller.

Webster—Pierro.

A lovely bride was Miss Hilda Elizabeth Pierro, whose marriage to Mr. John Stephen Webster took place on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. Rev. John R. Quinlan celebrated the nuptial mass. The church was prettily decorated with palms, ferns and baskets of daisies. The bride wore a pretty costume of white lace and was handsomely embroidered in white and gold and a leghorn hat faced in flesh color chiffon and trimmed with white fallie ribbon and pink flowers. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and swansonia. Miss Mae Staub was bridesmaid and the groom's brother, Mr. Leo Weber, was groomsmen. Miss Staub wore a beautiful gown of yellow georgette crepe embroidered in blue with leghorn hat trimmed with pearl beads and black velvet ribbon, while a beautiful bouquet of pink Killarney roses and pink sweetpeas made a charming Tinsley—Crawford.

A quiet wedding took place Tuesday afternoon at the parsonage of the Wayne Street Methodist Episcopal church, when Miss Hazel Crawford and Mr. Carol Tinsley were united in marriage. The attendants were a sister of the bride, Miss Marie Crawford, and Mr. Herman Kortum. The bride and groom left at once for an eastern trip. The bride wore a dark blue taffeta suit with gold colored georgette crepe blouse, and full hat and boots to match. Mr. Tinsley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tinsley, formerly of this city. At present Mr. Tinsley is connected with the Pennsylvania lines in the capacity of motive power inspector. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crawford, of South Wayne avenue.

Laird—Hartman.

At Ann Arbor, Mich., at noon on June 25, occurred a quiet wedding when Marian Josephine, eldest daughter of Major and Mrs. Ivers W. Leonard, Eleventh infantry, U. S. A., became the bride of Dr. Joseph Stanley Laird, of the faculty of the University of Michigan. The date was the golden wedding anniversary of Dr. Laird's parents. His father, Rev. James Laird, of Caladonia, Ontario, performed the marriage service, assisted by Rev. Stocker, of the M. E. church.

The date approached a bower of green and spring blossoms on the arm of her father, preceded by her cousin, little Edith Hartman, scattering rose petals, and followed by baby Patricia Ross, carrying the veil.

Miss Dorothy Thomas, of Toledo, O., played the wedding march from Lohengrin and Nevin's "Water Lily" during the service.

The bride wore a gown of exquisite Philippine hand embroidery and her mother's wedding veil. The going-away gown was blue silk poplin with hat to match.

Mr. H. T. Hartman, of Philadelphia; Miss F. T. Hartman, of Albany, N. Y.; Mrs. H. C. Hartman and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hartman, of New Haven, Ind.; Rev. and Mrs. James Laird, of Caladonia, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ross, Rochester, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. E. Burns of Inlay City, Mich., were the relatives present, together with a few friends who graduated in the class of 1917 with the bride.

After September 1st the young couple will be at home in Ann Arbor, corner of Ravina boulevard and West Huron street. No cards.

Hettler Family Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Hettler family will be held in Swinney park on July 29. It was inadvertently stated in Monday's paper that the reunion had already been held and some confusion arose among members of the family as a result. About one hundred people are expected to attend and a big dinner is to be a feature of the day. Officers of the family society are Albert Hettler, president; Christ Marhenke, vice president; Mary Crouse, secretary, and Frank Schaefer, treasurer. A committee on refreshments consists of Mrs. William Schaefer, Mrs. Catherine Crouse, Mrs. Clara Hartman. Another committee is on entertainment and the members are Joe Hartman, Gus Walter, Miss Esther Stahl, Mrs. Rose Marhenke and Miss Mary Wyatt.

POWDERED ORIS ROOT MAKES BATH FRAGRANT.

Every one knows the comfortable feeling which results from a hot bath after a hard day's work. That feeling is enhanced when the bath is made fragrant by the addition of a muslin bag of powdered oris root, about a tablespoonful in a bag, and a dessert-spoonful of tincture of benzoin, which is a balsam.

The aromatic and perfumed atmosphere that reigns in your bathroom as the result of this herb and spice mixture is delicious, soothing and mildly stimulating.

contrast to her gown. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pierce, 1004 Washington boulevard west, to the immediate relatives only. The house was very attractive with many garden flowers for its decoration such as daisies, roses and Canterbury bells. The bride's table was kept in green and white coloring, roses and feathery ferns furnishing its decoration. Later in the day the bride and groom left on an eastern trip, not naming their route of travel. After the first of September Mr. and Mrs. Weber will be at home in a Home avenue residence, but until that time will be with the bride's parents. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weber and he is in business with his father in real estate, loans and insurance. Both bride and groom are admired and esteemed by friends in circles of their own age and among those of their parents. Guests from away who were present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Larimore, of Toledo, and Mr. Edward Pierce, of Detroit.

FLYING STICK CAUSES DEATH OF ARCOLA MAN

Cyrus McCoy Killed by Wood Hurlled from Revolving Saw.

Cyrus McCoy, of Arcola, was almost instantly killed Monday afternoon when a stick of wood, an inch square and four feet long, was hurled from an idling saw, struck him in the groin, severing an artery.

The accident occurred at the mill of Gandy Brothers, Arcola, where McCoy was employed as a bearer-off. McCoy had just lifted a plank from the log on the machine. The saw was revolving at high speed. Another member of the crew was using the stick to clean sawdust from the machine. The stick caught in the teeth of the saw, and after whirling around several times, flew off and struck McCoy at the far end of the saw. A blood vessel was shattered, and the man died before the flow of blood could be stopped. The left femoral artery was twisted around the end of the stick.

McCoy was born in Whitley county. He had made his home near Coesee for several years, but was boarding at Arcola while working at the Gandy mill. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. H. Ecker, of Arcola, and four children, Mrs. Clarence Thomas, Mrs. E. J. Jantner and Ralph McCoy, of Fort Wayne, and Miss Mabel McCoy, of Columbia City.

The body was brought to the undertaking parlors of Klahn & Melching, after an investigation by Coroner J. E. McArdle.

DAISY AGE, THE RINGLING CIRCUS BABY, AND SOME OF HER MENAGERIE PLAYMATES

"They wouldn't hurt a flea." That is the verdict of little Daisy Age regarding the trio of tiger cubs which she daily fondles with all the joy of the mistress of a family of dolls.

The spotted pets belong to Judy, jungle queen of the Ringling Brothers' circus menagerie. Daisy belongs to Mrs. John Age, wife of the question director of the big show. The mothers, for reasons that may well be imagined, have merely a nodding acquaintance. Mrs. Age frequently pauses to pay her respects at Mrs. Judy's rear apartment, but she has never been inside.

Daisy has named her playmates. She calls them "Winklin, Blinkin and Nod." When she strokes their backs they purr like kittens. Sometimes Daisy tries to make the trio sit up in chairs just as her teddy bears do. But the cubs are much more content when sprawled out on the floor. Of course there will come a time when Mrs. Age will forbid Daisy from further associating with Mrs. Judy's young-

IMPROVED CONDITION BRINGS HIGH PRAISE FOR IRONATED HERBS WITH PEPsin.

People in nearly every line of business are daily praising Ironated Herbs with Pepsin and telling of the great benefit which they have derived from its use. Among those who have made statements in regard to the new preparation is R. L. Brickley, proprietor and manager of the Dookey hotel, Anderson, Ind. Mr. Brickley said:

"Ironated Herbs with Pepsin means a great deal for me, for I really believe this new medicine has kept me from being a real sick man. Before I began taking Ironated Herbs I suffered with severe stomach trouble. In fact, I was all rundown and very weak. I hardly felt that I had strength enough to tend to my business at times. My appetite was poor and my food did not seem to give me the proper nourishment. I did not sleep well and when I got up in the morning, I felt just as tired as if I had not been in bed at all."

"I heard about Ironated Herbs through a friend of mine who had taken it for a similar trouble and obtained fine results. Taking my friend's advice, I bought a bottle of Ironated Herbs with Pepsin and began taking it. Now I feel like a new man. My appetite has improved and I seem to have new strength and energy. I sleep like a log every night and get up feeling fresh and ready for a good day's work. I can surely recommend Ironated Herbs to anyone who is suffering as I was and I will be glad to tell everyone who asks me, what a great remedy it is."

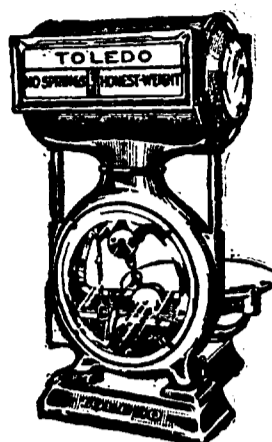

"Ironated Herbs with Pepsin (liquid form), that did so much to improve the health of Mr. Brickley, is daily bringing new strength and vigor to nervous, rundown men and women. The organic iron which it contains, puts good red blood in the veins, bringing strength and vitality, the pepsin aids digestion and the herbs tone up the liver."

July Cost Clearance Sale of Linens, Domestic Art Goods

As in all our July Clearance Sales, the outstanding feature will again be the sharp price reductions on all items in these departments. Were we to base our prices on present market conditions, it would be impossible to offer such values, but we will continue these prices as long as our stocks last, and the same policy of "value giving" (that distinguishes each and every Sale of this progressive store) will again make this store the shopping center throughout the entire Sale. Watch for weekly specials. Replenish your linen closets now.

RULE GOES INTO EFFECT

Bakers Will Not Take Back Stale Bread After Tuesday.

THIS APPLIES ALL OVER THE STATE
Elimination of This Waste Will Result in a Tremendous Saving.

Bakers of Fort Wayne and surrounding towns in common with those of the rest of the United States are preparing to take the first important step requested of them by Herbert C. Hoover in his campaign to conserve the food resources of the United States and on Tuesday they will discontinue the practice of taking back unsold bread from the retailer. Grocers will buy their bread as they buy everything else on their shelves and will sell it as merchandise and not as something taken or approval.

"I am sure the bakers of this district are patriotic and appreciate the need of co-operation with the government," says J. B. Franke, local chairman, acting under appointment of the war emergency committee of the baking industry. "I am convinced that the change will be for the best interests of all concerned and I am anxious that the consuming public shall understand that this is a patriotic service we are rendering the government as a part of the necessary war program."

Mr. Franke has received word from Cincinnati, Omaha and other cities where the reform was instituted several weeks ago and in each instance the change has been made without trouble and without loss to the baker or the grocer. In some instances increases are reported, due to a new tendency of housewives to buy instead of bake their bread.

It is estimated by baking authorities that the elimination of this waste will result in the saving of from $12,000,000 to $20,000,000 a year. Mr. Hoover recently made the statement that the bakers were moving more rapidly than any other industry to comply with the requests made of them. Their co-operation, he says, makes it extremely unlikely that it will be necessary to bake the grey or so-called "war bread," which is being eaten in Europe.

DENIES THAT NEW BOND ISSUE WILL COME SEPTEMBER

Washington, July 10.—Published reports setting September 15 as the date of the next liberty loan and the amount at $3,000,000,000 drew a formal denial today from Secretary McAdoo.

JULY 19 IS DATE OF SOLDIERS' PICNIC

Thursday, July 19, has been selected as the date for the picnic to be held by the comrades of Lawton-Wayne post, Grand Army of the Republic, at Swinney park. A meeting of the committee was held Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of making final arrangements. Members of Lion S. Bass post, W. R. C. and Stirk circle of the G. A. R., will be guests of Lawton-Wayne post.

MAKE IMPROVEMENTS.
School Board Decides Upon Changes at Meeting Monday.

At the meeting of the school board held Monday afternoon several improvements and changes were decided upon for school property. Funds for fitting out the gymnasium of the Clay and Hamilton schools were considered and the contract awarded to the Jacob Willig company of Chicago.

Property on the east side of the Lakeside school will be improved and the normal school moved there, and the Hazard property near the Bloomington school will be converted into a library branch. Because of the closing of the school year no more bills will be considered or received until September. Little money has been spent in helping needy students this year, the amount being $73, as compared to $400 last year.

CLEAR MAIDEN LANE.

Chief Lenz has given the order that automobiles must not be parked in Maiden Lane. He points out that the short street is very narrow and that in case of fire it would be impossible to speed apparatus through the street if the way is choked by standing automobiles.

EDUCATORS IN SESSION.

Portland, Ore., July 10.—Conferences on extension education and educational associations and numerous departmental meetings were on the morning schedule of the National Education association convention today.

TOLD WIFE LORD WOULD GIVE HIM BEST CHAIR

If He Would Kill Her, Mrs. Henry Waltke Alleges in Divorce Complaint.

Telling his wife that the Lord would give him the best chair in heaven if he killed her, Grace A. Waltke says that Henry A. Waltke frequently had threatened her life, in a complaint for divorce filed in the superior court Tuesday.

Mrs. Waltke sets forth that on three different occasions she has left him, but each time Waltke has promised to do better and she would return to give him another chance. But there was no living with him, she alleges. He was cruel and inhuman and failed to support her, necessitating her having to sew and clean house in order to clothe herself and two children, Kenneth, 10 years old, and Elwood, 5 years old.

She asks the custody of the two children and a restraining order enjoining the General Electric company from paying her husband his wages until disposition has been made of the suit and also to enjoin him from interfering with her. Mr. and Mrs. Waltke were married July 9, 1907, and separated July 8, 1917.

MARRIED FORTY-FOUR YEARS.

Lizzie Boone Now Files Suit for Divorce.

After forty-four years of married life, Lizzie C. Boone has filed in the superior court asking for a divorce from John S. Boone, Mr. and Mrs. Boone were united in wedlock on November 25, 1873. Mrs. Boone is represented by Attorney Stephen A. Callahan.

The plaintiff sets forth in her complaint that she and the defendant are the joint owners of a forty-acre farm in Wayne township, Allen county, and by reason of his failure and refusal to properly care for the horses and cattle a number have died and the property has greatly depreciated in value. She alleges that her husband has often cursed and abused her, and for the past few years has urged her to seek a divorce.

Mrs. Boone in addition to a decree for divorce is asking for $3,000 alimony and a restraining order enjoining her husband from selling the real property belonging to himself and the plaintiff, and from molesting or interfering with her in any way, as she fears he may do her bodily harm.

SUED FOR DIVORCE.

Commodore Keck, of Cedarville, Faces More Trouble.

For the second time Mrs. Bertha Keck has filed a complaint for divorce from Commodore Keck, whom she charges with cruel treatment. She sets forth that once before she filed a complaint, but later withdrew it upon the entreaty of the defendant and his faithful promise of doing better in the future. She says, however, that he has failed to keep his promise. Mrs. Keck charges her husband with being an habitual drunkard and while under the influence of liquor his treatment of her is almost unbearable. Mr. and Mrs. Keck were married November 20, 1912, and have two children, whose custody the wife asks. The plaintiff is represented by Eyan, Ryan & Ulrich, Commerce block, who was arrested Monday afternoon for assaulting members of his family. The Keck live at Cedarville.

DREAM LASTED FORTY DAYS.

Anna Reed Says Her Husband Was Cruel to Her.

Mrs. Anna Reed's dream of a cozy home built for two and extreme happiness lasted just forty days. She has brought suit for a divorce from Bert Reed to whom she was married on May 30, 1917. They separated July 3, 1917.

Mrs. Reed charges her husband with extreme cruelty in that he frequently would call her bad names, failed to support, compelling her to work, and had threatened to do her bodily injury. She also charges him with the excessive use of intoxicating liquor. The court is asked to enjoin him from molesting her or in any way interfering with her. She is represented by Emrick & Emrick.

FAILED TO PROVIDE.

Ethel Rowe Brings Suit for Divorce From Leander Rowe.

Charging her husband with failure to provide, Ethel Rowe has brought suit in the superior court asking for a divorce from Leander Rowe through her attorneys, Hartzell & Todd. They were married June 13, 1910, and separated October 24, 1916. Mrs. Rowe lives at 216 West Main street.

Mrs. Rowe alleges that her husband failed to provide a home for her and the necessities of life. She also charges that he is addicted to the drink habit and while in an intoxicated condition has frequently struck and beat her, calling her vile and improper names, also accusing her of being unfaithful. She asks that her maiden name of Ethel Burg be restored.

MORE CRUELTY.

Laura Oser Says She Can No Longer Live With Her Husband.

Because her husband persisted in cursing and abusing her without provocation, Laura Oser has filed suit in the superior court asking for a divorce from John Oser, to whom she was married on July 13, 1911. She alleges that her husband had ordered her to leave, at the same time declaring that he no longer wanted to live with her. They have two children.

CHANCELLOR VON HOLLWEG HAS NO TERMS OF PEACE

Berne, Switzerland, July 10.—According to Berlin newspapers the German chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, said to members of the reichstag:

"I repeat that the formula of peace without annexations is unacceptable to us. We cannot declare our terms of peace. We must fight and conquer."

Oser is a clerk in a local grocery store. Mrs. Oser is represented by Ryan, Ryan & Aldrich.

KOEHLER AGAIN.

He Refuses to Pay Rent When His Saloon Is Closed.

Suit for $125, alleged to be due for rent, was filed Tuesday in the circuit court by Catherine McKiernan, Theresa Kubaich and Leonora Kubaich against the Buckeye Brewing company. The plaintiffs are represented by Somers & Kennerk.

The suit is for one month's rent for the building occupied by "Sammy Koehler," who was convicted in circuit court for criminal assault on a little girl. When Koehler was put out of the saloon business the Buckeye Brewing company, who held the lease, refused to pay further rent on the building.

MUST SHOW CAUSE.

A citation was issued in superior court Tuesday morning on petition of Lulu Taylor against Alvin Taylor, who must show cause why he has not turned over to Mrs. Taylor the custody of their two children and pay to her $3 a week as ordered in the decree for divorce granted by the court.

WILL ARGUE MOTION LATER.

Because Robert B. Dreibeiss, one of the attorneys in the case, has had some teeth removed, arguments for new trial which were to have been made Tuesday in superior court in the case brought by Floyd M. Worman against William J. Steckbeck were postponed. Worman was recently awarded damages in the sum of $175 for injuries alleged to have been sustained when he was hit by Steckbeck's automobile on the Decatur road some time ago.

SUIT ON A NOTE.

Clifton H. Lines, doing business under the name of the Chalmers Sales company, has brought suit against Henry F. Schwartz and Richard G. Weller for $275, alleged to be due on a note long past due.

NOTES OF THE COURT.

William Ringgenberg has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late Mary Ringgenberg. He gave bond in the sum of $2,000.

Wilbur Gandy has brought suit against Samuel Heiber for foreclosure of a mechanic's lien to satisfy a claim of $530. Gandy is represented by Attorney Frank M. Hogan.

Judge Carl Yapple in superior court Monday evening granted a decree for divorce to Hannah Delaney from John Delaney.

Art Lamont, deputy county clerk, has returned from a short vacation at Barbee lake and Pleasant lake, Mich.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

GREAT DAMAGE BY HAIL.

Shelbyville, Ind., July 10.—A hail storm which lasted for thirty minutes, destroyed a stretch of corn two miles long and one mile wide in the southern part of this (Shelby) county, late last night, according to reports reaching here this morning. Fruit was also damaged and wheat suffered some.

The hail stones were said to be as large as hen eggs. The damage will total close to $100,000, according to reports received here.

SENTENCE TIME POSTPONED.

Indianapolis, July 10.—Sentence of Samuel V. Perrott, former chief of police of Indianapolis; Herman Adams, city sealer of weights and measures, and four other police officers, recently convicted in federal court of election conspiracy, was postponed today until July 30. Perrott, Adams and the police officers convicted, resigned their positions last Saturday.

BAR SILVER BOOMS.

New York, July 10.—Bar silver was quoted at 75 1/2 an ounce in the local market today, the highest price since the beginning of the war. The advance was almost wholly attributed to the increased foreign demand for the metal, silver having been substituted for gold by most of the European countries.

MARRIED AT HILLSDALE.

Hillsdale, Mich., July 10.—Ross Lee and Miss Helen V. Burlage, both of Fort Wayne, were married at the Presbyterian manse by Rev. J. W. Will. Rev. Will also united in marriage Steven D. McKinley and Miss Stella T. Burlingame, both of Hicksville, O.

UNFILLED STEEL TONNAGE.

New York, July 10.—The unfilled tonnage of the United States steel corporation on June 30, 1917, was 11,883,287 tons, a decrease of 503,304 tons, compared with figures for May 31, according to the monthly report issued today.

MAY MODIFY FOOD BILL

New Effort Made to Whip Measure in Shape to Gain Support.

GORE AMENDMENTS CURTAIL ITS SCOPE

Suspicion is Voiced That Men in Advisory Work Are Greedy.

Washington, July 10.—In an effort to modify the food bill to meet various objections, the agriculture committee was called together today. Chairman Gore prepared amendments limiting government control to foodstuffs and fuel, eliminating iron, steel, copper, cotton and many other products.

Senator Smith, of South Carolina, said the bill should be amended to limit government control to foodstuffs alone. The time will be spent in drilling, instruction and final preparations for going into training camp.

Senator Owen declared oil drilling had stopped because of high steel prices, adding:

"Unless the government puts its hand on unrestrained greed, this country cannot go on to a successful conclusion of the war. There is a possibility of their coming sooner. It is expected that after mobilization at the local headquarters the company will be in the city a week or ten days, during which time the members will be on duty from 7 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night. The time will be spent in drilling, instruction and final preparations for going into training camp."

The necessity of members of the national guard having to register after it was stated by the adjutant general that they would not have to cause no end of confusion and trouble. But few members of Battery B have registered.

Only one new recruit was secured for Battery B Monday. Michael Wambach, 111 1/2 Grand street, was accepted. One other applicant was rejected because of physical disability.

A strenuous effort is being made to bring Battery B up to war strength without the necessity of using any of the men that will be drafted into the service.

Nearly every member of the battery, attending the drill practice Monday evening in charge of Lieutenant Lee Hensley. The greater part of the evening was spent in foot movements and instruction in semaphore signaling. Arrangements have been made to secure uniforms for the men before their departure, which is expected sometime next week. Pending the arrival of the uniforms the men are wearing neat arm bands of artillery red, with a white letter "B" on them. The battery is indebted for them to the Steele-Myers company, which furnished the goods and the letters of the Red Cross, who kindly made them.

Dr. J. H. Gilpin, secretary of the city board of health, has received a commission as captain in the army medical reserve corps. He took the examination for the position five years ago. He expects to be called out when the new national army is mobilized.

CAME FROM GEORGIA.

Michael W. Rumble, 1911 Hicks street, Atlanta, Ga., was visiting in Fort Wayne, Monday, when he decided that he was needed in the navy again. Rumble had served four years as a second class seaman. He was enlisted under Chief Petty Officer West as a ship fitter and is now in Indianapolis, from which point he will be sent east.

FORT WAYNE IS CENTRAL STATION

Chairman E. C. Miller, of the Fort Wayne chapter of the Red Cross has been notified that Fort Wayne has been named as the central station for northern Indiana for the distribution and inspection of hospital supplies for the Red Cross. All material from the surrounding chapters will be sent in here, inspected, and then forwarded to various points where it is needed. A separate committee and chairman will probably be named to take charge of the inspection and distribution of the hospital supplies at the local headquarters.

JOE TINKER A SPITTER.

Chicago, July 10.—Joe Tinker, manager of the Columbus club of the American association, today was fined $100 by President Hickey for spitting in Umpire Knapp's face during an argument in a game at Columbus last Thursday. Pitcher Mordecai Brown, who also participated in the demonstration against the umpire, was fined $10.

Fort Wayne friends have been advised of the recent birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Griffin, of Cleveland, formerly of this city. Mrs. Griffin will be remembered to Mrs. Alice James.

WANT COOKS AND BAKERS

Army Must Have Food Artists for the New Outfits.

NON-COMBATANT JOBS ARE OFFERED TO MEN

Twenty-Five Recruits Sent from Here in Twenty-Four Hours.

Telegrams are still pouring into the local recruiting station asking that every effort be made to enlist cooks and bakers. Men with experience in either of these lines are preferred but those who wish to serve the army in some non-combatant branch will be taught the food preparing trades.

Five hundred cooks and seventeen hundred bakers will be necessary right away in order to feed the new troops. This is the shortage in the culinary branch of the service. The pay for cooks and bakers is $30 a month to start with and all necessities are furnished. Promotion will be rapid and with it an increase in pay.

Within the last twenty-four hours twenty-five men have been sent to Fort Thomas, Ky., from the local station. Twenty-one of them went Monday night and four Tuesday morning. Recruiting never goes on in earnest in the station before noon.

Signal Corps Drills. Company B, Indiana signal corps, will hold its regular weekly drill Tuesday evening with Capt. L. O. Knowlton in command. Following the drill an examination will be given for the members who wish promotions.

Mobilization orders for Company B will probably come on Aug. 5, when the state guard is mobilized. Although there is a possibility of their coming sooner. It is expected that after mobilization at the local headquarters the company will be in the city a week or ten days, during which time the members will be on duty from 7 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night. ## SOAP BATH IS BAD FOR PARASITE BUGS

Best Way of Removing Aphids Which Have Attacked City Gardens.

Aphids are the "Weary Willies" of the bug kingdom. They toil not neither do they like a soap bath. They gain their livelihood by lazily clinging to a growing plant and drawing the substance out of the vegetable.

A large per cent of Fort Wayne gardens have been attacked by the "hobnob" of aphids. Thousands of potato plants have already been destroyed by the insects, which are grayish-green in color and about a sixteenth of an inch long. They cling to the under side of vegetable leaves.

The remedy is a soap bath. The soapy water must come in contact with the insect. One-half pound of laundry soap to a gallon of water forms an effective mixture. Two persons should do the spraying for eradicating the pests. One citizen should hold back the plants while another works the spraying apparatus. The drenching job should be a thorough one. Careless spraying is worse than no effort at all, declares F. W. Gray, food expert.

Old fashioned and many colored potato bugs are the next worst enemy of the city and may be able to give the citizens keep in touch with the food relief headquarters. Every help possible will be given those who seek assistance with their gardens. Advice will be gladly given by those who have made a careful study of the garden culture.

F. W. Gray believes that the government estimate, expressed in a recent bulletin, on the number of food gardens in Fort Wayne is a bit over enthusiastic. He does not think this city has 15,000 gardens within its borders.

Gray is making a careful survey of the city and may be able to give the exact number of gardens later. The figures will fall under 15,000, he states. He was also employed at Indianapolis earlier in the season and he doubts if there are quite 40,000 gardens in that city. Fort Wayne no doubt ranks second or third in the number of gardens for Indiana cities, Gray says.

The necessity of members of the national guard having to register after it was stated by the adjutant general that they would not have to cause no end of confusion and trouble. But few members of Battery B have registered.

CHANG HSUN PLAYS SAFE

Beaten Leader of Chinese Coup Retires to Temple of Heaven.

TAKES REFUGE IN THE SACRED PLACES

Holds China's Most Priceless Antiquities as His Hostage.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—General Chang Hsun, leader of the attempt to restore the Manchukuo dynasty in China, was reported by Minister Reinsch today to have withdrawn his troops into the imperial city and the temple of heaven, the two most historic and beautiful sections of Peking.

Damp Weather Puts Crimp in Game With Grand Rapids

Quit in Fifth Inning With Score Tied at One Run Apiece.

It was most unkind of the rain to take a hand in matters yesterday afternoon when the Chiefs might just as well as not have had another win, but the rain did take a hand and as usual won out, leaving the opposing clubs stranded at 1 and 1 in the fifth inning. Grand Rapids was furnishing the opposition to our gang, and doing a good job, the warriors would have been willing to take a chance on coming through on the big end.

Had things worked out right the locals would have won in spite of the weather but one little slip occurred which kept the game out of the win column. In the second inning after Gleich had scored Mike Kelly was on third and a signal for a squeeze was given. Shorty Norton was batting and he missed the sign, with the result that Mike was caught between the sacks.

In both the first and the second the visitors were cautious, but Higbee with some very valuable aid was able to pull through. In the initial round Siegfried threw to the plate, nabbing off a runner just as slick as a whistle.

One man was down in the second when Gleich went to the plate and hammered the pill for two bases. A caplay in the second inning after Gleich had scored Mike Kelly was on third and a signal for a squeeze was given. Shorty Norton was batting and he missed the sign, with the result that Mike was caught between the sacks.

In the next inning Mathes opened with a double for the visitors and went up a notch on Edgington's out. With a chance to cut off Mathes at the plate, Norton juggled the next offering and threw too late. A popout, a walk and an out at first put this inning away. In the fifth inning Mathes and Edgington singled and Alcock sacrificed them but Miller flew out to Kelly and Norton picked off Collins by some fast fielding.

From the defunct South Bend club Fort Wayne will get Hoffman, a third sacker, and hitter of no little ability, according to the records. Hoffman has been playing first but his real position is on the right corner and there he will probably be played. He has been hitting .352 this season and for that reason is most desirable. Hoffman was claimed by Evansville but a little talking convinced the league heads that Fort Wayne should have a look-in when the division of players was made, and as a result Hoffman comes here.

In order to make room for the players who are due to report, the Chiefs had to release somebody and because of the work which they are going to have to climb nearer the top, it had to be the player of least value at the present time. They released Richardson. Rich can work with any of them when he is right, but he hasn't been right this season and doesn't look as if he will recover in time to be of use. Just the same, his size and good nature are going to be missed considerably.

CENTRAL LEAGUE.

Honor the Umps.

Richmond, Ind., July 10.—Umpire Kuhn was the honor guest at a shower here yesterday, the shower being made up of pop bottles. His work was considered bad by the players of both clubs, and the displeasure soon communicated to the fans, who forgot that they weren't in St. Louis. Two runs in the eleventh won for Richmond 4 to 3, after the Reapers had broken the tie in the first inning. Score: R.H.E. Springfield, 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1-3 9 2 Richmond, 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0-4 11 2

PEORIA STRENGTHENING.

Newcomers Prepare for Fight to Rise from the Cellar Position.

Peoria, Ill., July 10.—Five new players will join Peoria for the opening Central league game here today with Muskegon. Outfielder Bousch, infielder Callahan and Catcher Kelly, of the South Bend club, will join the locals, also Pitcher Joe Willis, of Bloomington, and Infielder Ray Falk, of Moline.

FALL OF THREE-EYE GIVES POOR OUTLOOK

Defunct Circuit Considered the Strongest of Minor Leagues for Years.

For the first time in many years the minor leagues are seriously threatened.

Every year since the Federal league invaded there has been talk of disbanding minor leagues and many of the smaller aggregations have been wrecked on the rocks of poor attendance and financial deficits.

But the situation has assumed graver proportions this year. It demands the earnest consideration of all interested in minor league activities.

A real blow was handed the national minor league organization when the Three Eye league disbanded a few days ago.

This league, one of the oldest minors, has withstood every financial difficulty. Composed of wealthy prosperous towns in Iowa and Illinois it has laughed while other weaker leagues were going under. Even when brought face to face with serious difficulties the Three Eye has managed to find some way out.

But this year the Three Eye could not stand the pressure and went on the rocks.

In this action it followed three other leagues which have been forced to close shop since the season opened two months ago.

The Virginia league was forced to discontinue a few weeks after its opening. Then the North Carolina league disbanded. The Northern league closed at the same time the Three Eye went under.

Several other minors are on the verge of going to the wall.

There has even been talk this season of closing the parks in the super-minors, the American association and the International league, but it is believed these with the Coast organization, the Western and Southern leagues in Class A and the Texas and western outfits will be able to weather out the season. The Central league also seems to be in pretty fair shape this season and may be able to finish its schedule.

The Western league has been forced to divide its season into two championship seasons to keep up interest. Patrons in the Western is said to be below normal.

Many of the minors could be put on their feet with a little help from the majors, but there is little chance of aid from that quarter.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

New York, July 10.—New York defeated St. Louis here yesterday for the fourth straight time, the score being 3 to 2. Rain fell at intervals during the game and stopped play for forty-five minutes in the fifth inning. Many of the players had run off the field when Umpire Kien ordered the game to be resumed. The Giants won by breaking a tie in the seventh inning when Hinkle received the only base on balls Ames issued, and scored on Rariden's double. A portion of the receipts were devoted to the Red Cross. Score: R.H.E. St. Louis.....0 0 1 0 1 0 0-2 8 2 New York.....0 0 2 0 0 1 0-3 6 0

Batteries—Ames and Snyder; Sallee and Rariden.

Boston, July 10.—Hard hitting by Kopf, Groh and Rousch gave the Cincinnati Reds a 4 to 0 victory over the Braves here yesterday. Eller was tight in the pinches and was only in danger once during the game. Score: R.H.E. Cincinnati.....1 0 1 0 1 0 0-4 14 0 Boston.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0 0 0

Batteries—Eller and Clark; Nehf and Traggesser.

SPORTE CHATTER.

Bill Donovan has been suspended. How could anyone look at Bill's grin and then find nerve to suspend him? Cy Falkenberg has gone back to the minors. Cy must be used to the trip by this time.

Killbane and Donny Leonard are to box six rounds for $20,000. After which Leonard, no doubt, will find another alibi for not rushing to the colors.

Frank Kramer, bicycle champion for thirteen years, has lost his title.

WELL-DOGT.

Frank ought to be glad because now a few people know who was bicycle champion.

Fred Fulton has been trying to get a match with Big Jess for two years now, but if he follows his own precepts, he will get the match and cold feet simultaneously.

The Italian Mannlicher-Carcano rifle is of the 1891 pattern. It is rather slow, discharging only fifteen rounds of shot a minute.

The value of Canadian manufactures last year was $2,000,000, compared with $1,392,000,000 in 1915.

LOOK WHO'S HERE! MATTY DEFIES PRECEDENTS, PUTS CINCINNATI REDS IN FIRST DIVISION.

(BY PAUL PURMAN.)

For the first time in years the Cincinnati Reds are in the first division this late in the season.

This is a tremendous achievement for Christy Mathewson, the first of half a score of managers who have been able to pull the Reds into the first four in the National league race.

Matty, one of the greatest and smartest pitchers the game has ever known, has established himself as a smart manager—a manager who does things.

It is quite possible that Matty will finish the season in fourth or even in third place. He has a better club than the Cubs and is making his athletes play the kind of ball which brings out all the latent power in a ball club.

His club is fully as strong as the Cardinals and he is getting as much from it.

Matty has four players hitting over .300. Rousch, who leads the league with an average around .350; Groh, who leads both leagues in run getting; Chase, last year league leader, who has hit his stride, and Tom Clarke, the veteran catcher.

Greasy Neale and Tom Griffith are near the .300 mark.

Base ball critics have watched Matty carefully this year. His success or his failure was a great question.

Matty wasn't given a great ball club, but he was given one with possibilities. He had stars in Chase, Groh and Neale. The rest of the club ranged between medium and fair.

The club was torn by internal dissension. Buck Herzog had left a bunch of suckers.

Matty's first job was to eradicate this. He established good feeling among his players. He showed them that he was for them and with them and soon they started to work for him. Then the Reds began to climb.

Fred Toney, one of the great pitchers in the league, has been going well. Fred Schneider is getting back where he was a couple of years ago. Mitchell is pitching good ball. Eller and Ring are doing well.

Matty has two good catchers in Clarke and Wingo.

With Chase and Groh as a nucleus he has developed a good infield with Shegan, a youngster, and Kopf, a Mackinn cast-off at keystone corner. His outfield is up to average.

Matty has made good.

CONSIDER SPORT THE 365-DAY A YEAR GAME

Trapshooting Has Been Big Boon to Yacht and Country Clubs in Off Season.

Seasonable sports come and go with their respective seasons, but the trap game goes on forever, and 365 days a year at that.

When Thanksgiving rolls around football follows baseball into the discard, and tennis, golf et al. reach the vanishing point close to the heels of football—yet trapshooting, being the "fittest," survives, this for the double reason that clay target shooting is no more hampered by weather conditions than is field shooting at live birds, and, too, because several hundred thousand red-blooded Americans require something a bit more strenuous and exciting than checkers, pinocle and other indoor games.

Time was when country club activities languished during the winter months and yacht clubs boarded up their clubhouses until after the spring thaw; now, when snow or slush lies deep on the golf links, the lure of the traps draws erstwhile golfers to the club ground to enjoy the shootin' game, while across the distant meadows come the popping reports of shotguns as yachtsmen blaze away at the flying saucers skimming above the frozen river.

In short, trapshooting not only holds country club and yacht club membership together during the cold days, but actually recruits additional strength from the numbers of outdoor devotees drawn to the clubs by the fascination of the scatter-gun sport.

THREE WAY DOUBLE.

BILL HERE SUNDAY.

Semi-pro baseball will come into its own here Sunday when a double-header will be staged with three high-class clubs participating. In the initial contest the Kendallville Reds will play the fast Colored Giants of this city, the game starting at 2 o'clock. Ten minutes after this game is over the winning club will meet Mart Cleary's Lincoln Life. Both games will be played for one admission.

The Giants will have two pitchers ready

BASEBALL DISPLACES BULL FIGHTS IN S. A.

Much has been written about the expansion of baseball into an international game and the popularizing of the sport by games between Canadian and American teams behind the trenches has done much to introducing it in Europe.

The latest country to take up baseball is Venezuela, where it is said to have become very popular.

There are 25 amateur teams in Caracas, capital of the South American republic and many other towns have teams.

Baseball is one of the really popular games in Cuba and Panama and is taking the place of bull fights in other South and Central American countries.

ACCIDENT VICTIM RECOVERING.

G. O. Heger, residing north of the city, is recovering from the injuries he received some weeks ago in an automobile accident on the Lincoln highway and is now able to be about some.

He had several ribs broken as a result of the mishap.

BIG NINE MEDAL TO COLUMBIA CITY MAN

DeWitt Mullett Honored for Proficiency in Athletics and Books.

Bloomington, Ind., July 10.—For excellence in athletics and scholarship, DeWitt Mullett, of Columbia City, football and basketball man, has been awarded the western conference medal for 1916-17 at Indiana university. Mullett was an exceptionally good end on the football team last fall and proved a wonderful guard on the 1916-7 basketball quintet. His grades have been excellent the past year.

Mullett came to Indiana without previous experience in athletics, but by hard work and perseverance became one of the best all-round athletes in school. At the present time he is with an engineering corps of the United States army in Texas and soon is to be sent to France. He was graduated with the class of 1917.

The conference athletic-scholarship trophy is a medal presented each year by each of the big nine schools to the best scholar-athlete. The individual is chosen by the athletic committee and then acted upon by the university board. The medal is presented by Avery Brundage, secretary-treasurer of the intercollegiate conference association. The medal is of gold and is about three inches in diameter. It is engraved on one side with the recipient's name, on the other by an engraving of an athlete, with the following Latin expression, "Mens servida in corpore lacertoso." The presentation of the medal was first started in 1914-15. Other Indiana athletes awarded this prize are Matthew Winters, 1916, and George B. Shively, 1916.

Indiana's athletes had a good season the past year, which shows remarkable improvement in all branches since the regime of Athletic Director Ewald O. Stehm. The football team under the direction of Coach Stehm ended a truly successful season, surpassing all unfavourable prophecies by holding the Tufts eleven to a 12 to 10 score. The freshman team had many men of varsity caliber, among whom are Springer, Hanny, Howard, Hammos, Ewert, Bach, Adams, Rieley and Minton. In the hands of Coach Whisman the Hoosier baseball team finished third in the big nine race. Coach Lowman had charge of basketball and turned out a quintet that had a most successful season.

ELKS TAKE UP BUSINESS.

Boston, July 10.—The delegates to the annual convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, got down to business today with the opening of the grand lodge session. One of the matters to be considered was an appropriation of a million dollars for war relief.

BROUGHT HERE FOR X-RAY EXAMINATION

Physicians Find Bullet Embedded in Brain of John Loe.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Columbia City, Ind., July 10.—John Loe, who was accidentally shot, he claims, in the head a few weeks ago at his home northwest of the city, was taken to the Lutheran hospital Sunday by his father, Joe Loe, and Drs. C. L. Souder and E. V. Nolt. An X-ray taken at the hospital showed that the bullet was imbedded about one inch in the lower lobe of the brain over the left ear, and that the skull was fractured. Loe was taken to Long-cliff asylum Monday by Sheriff Bodley, application for admission having been granted recently, and it is believed he will be soon discharged.

Columbia City Short Notes.
Clarence Shaffer, son of John Shaffer, of the south side, and Miss Mabel, daughter of the late Josiah McCoy, of Arcola, were wedded Sunday evening at 9 o'clock in this city by Rev. H. C. Herendeen, and will reside here, where the groom is employed as a laborer. The bride is the daughter of the man who was fatally injured in the stove mill at Arcola Monday afternoon.

Adley Cole, aged 35 years, who died at Eastham asylum, Richmond, where he had been for several months, was buried in Salem cemetery, near his home in Noble county, Tuesday afternoon, following services by Rev. Chaplin.

Trustee Charles Prickett, aged 45, trustee of Noble township, Noble county, bordering upon the Whitley county line, died Sunday following tubercular trouble.

When their horse took fright, they say, at a cow near the Collins school Monday evening and ran two miles east, dragging the buggy and all but demolishing it after first throwing the four occupants from within, Forrest Harter and Virgil McGuire and Misses Dewey Rocky and Nellie Truman were bruised up considerably.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

WILL DISPOSE OF 500 CHAUTAUQUA TICKETS

General Electric Opens Ticket Sales Campaign at Factory.

In keeping with its policy of looking after the interests of the employees whenever anything that will be of benefit to them comes in sight, the General Electric company has inaugurated a campaign to enable all who wish to attend the chautauque to be held on the old golf grounds July 17 to 24, inclusive, at a greatly reduced price. A. A. Serva, sales manager of the local company, has general charge of the campaign and Fred G. Duryee, foreman of the operating department, has charge over the men who will solicit and sell the tickets to employees. Mr. Duryee has divided his solicitors into sections corresponding to the buildings which compose the plant. They are: H. Gargett, building No. 19; R. O. Orr, No. 6; Raymond Hoffman, No. 17; William Garihan, No. 18; F. G. Fleming, No. 10; F. S. Walburn, No. 26; H. W. Baals, No. 15; Fred Smith, No. 2, and Ben O'Brien, No. 16. The company has purchased 500 tickets and will dispose of them to employees at $1 each. The works will be thoroughly cleaned and everybody wishing to get tickets at the reduced prices can do so. It is expected to dispose of over 500 tickets. The subjects to be handled by the lecturers at the chautauque are of special interest to office and shopmen and the General Electric officials want every employee to receive the benefit.

BACK ON FREIGHT.

Conductor H. M. Dochtermann Takes Local Train.

M. H. Dochtermann, veteran passenger conductor on the Lake Erie and Western, was one of the men affected by the reduction in passenger train service. The train he had charge of was dropped from the list Sunday and Mr. Dochtermann was given a local freight run. In speaking about the change Monday Mr. Dochtermann said that the run he now assumed was the one he had twenty-five years ago, before he was advanced to the passenger service.

HORTON PLACES CONTRACT.

One of Buildings to Be Erected by Fort Wayne Firm.

One of the buildings to be erected by the Horton Manufacturing company in place of the ones burned several weeks ago is a one-story sawtooth roof brick 200 feet square, with cut stone trimmings. Buesching-Hegeman & Co. are the contractors and they have already commenced to excavate and assemble the material. Other contracts will be let later in the week.

BOB REILLY ON VACATION.

Robert Reilly, chief clerk to General Motive Power Superintendent P. F. Smith, Jr., of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, is here to spend a week's vacation. Mrs. Reilly has been here visiting her mother, Mrs. Augusta Viberg, for a week and may remain two or three weeks longer. Mr. Reilly is well known in Pennsylvania railway and shop circles in Fort Wayne, having been employed in the motive power offices several years, going to Pittsburgh with D. F. Crawford when that gentleman was appointed general motive power superintendent.

AN ERSTWHILE PAINTER.

Harry Emerson, foreman of the lathe department of the Pennsylvania machine shop, entered upon a two weeks' vacation this morning. During the "layoff" he will paint his home on Hurd street, and has already commenced to assemble the material and the scaffolding equipment. During Mr. Emerson's absence, Machinist William F. O'Connor is acting foreman and Bernard Wyss, a member of the night gang, has been temporarily transferred to the day trick to operate the turret lathe usually operated by Mr. O'Connor.

TO VISIT SON.

Machinist Henry Hohman, of the Pennsylvania shops, and Mrs. Hohman are making preparations for a visit with their son, Robert Hohman, in New York and will leave Saturday, July 21, for that city to be absent two weeks. Robert Hohman holds an important position with a manufacturing company in New York. He was the winner of a Frank Thomson scholarship several years ago and attended and graduated from Stevens Institute of Technology at Hoboken, New York.

OUT ON INSPECTION TRIP.

Supt. Otto Schroll, of the Pennsylvania, and his staff officers, are out on sub-division C today inspecting the property. They have a special train and will devote the entire day to the trip. With Mr. Schroll are Division Engineer Guy Scott, Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, Division Operator H. B. Reynolds, Chief Dispatcher Harry Hart, Master Mechanic E. E. Griest, Assistant Division Engineer May, Road Foreman of Engines O. E. Maxwell and two or three others.

KELLER FUNERAL WEDNESDAY.

Local Wabash employees have been advised that the funeral of O. D. Keller, the company's freight and passenger agent at Huntington, who died suddenly yesterday morning, will be held at the family home Wednesday afternoon, Rev. F. H. Diehm officiating. Several Fort Wayne people, friends of the deceased, will attend.

JOINS THE MARINES.

When A. D. Long reported for duty at the Pennsylvania erecting shop yesterday afternoon he announced that it would be his last day there until the close of the war. He has enlisted in the marine corps and will leave soon for active service. Mr. Long worked five years at the shops.

MOVING TO CALIFORNIA.

Mr. and Mrs. James McLaughlin left today for Milwaukee, where they will spend a few days with their folks and then continue to San Jose, Cal., where they will reside in the future. Mr. McLaughlin, who conducted a cigar making shop in this city, has disposed of that interest.

CHILD HURT IN A FALL.

F. A. Long, a helper in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, who was off duty yesterday, reported that his child was injured by a fall from a wagon and he could not resume work for a day or two. It is understood that the child is painfully injured.

CRIPPLED WITH CARBUNCLE.

Leo Sorg, a helper at the Bass blacksmith shop, is sorely afflicted with carbuncles on one of his arms. The arm is swollen to double normal size and causes much pain. He will be unable to work for several days.

SHORT ON POWER.

"We are short on power to handle the westbound freight business today," said Road Foreman of Engines O. E. Maxwell, of the Pennsylvania, yesterday. The eastbound movement is not so heavy, however.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

This was payday at the Bass Foundry and Machine works.

H. Hoke resigned a position at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning and will leave for Chicago, he said. Conductor S. W. Sylvester, of the Pennsylvania, has been off duty a few trips on account of sickness.

Miss Agnes Lamboley, of the General Electric works, is out on a two weeks' vacation, spending a portion of it at the lakes.

O. S. Adams, a moulder at the Pennsylvania shops, has recovered from an illness which kept him from work about a week.

W. F. Beckman, a helper at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, has been transferred to the G. R. & I. to work as a fireman.

Motive Power Superintendent T. W. Demarest, of the Pennsylvania North-west system, is looking after railway business in Pittsburgh today.

Bernard Meyers, a machine operator, has taken a position at the Pennsylvania shops and for a while will work in the night gang.

D. M. Kagay, head of the publication department of the Bowser company, has completed a vacation and resumed his duties in the office.

A. L. Berghman, representing the Westinghouse company, is in the city on business for the company. This is one of his regular business trips here.

Henry C. Gollmer, clerk for F. T. Huston, assistant engineer of motive power of the Pennsylvania, is taking a two weeks' vacation.

G. H. Zimmer, piecework clerk at the Pennsylvania shop offices, has entered upon a vacation and left today for Kentucky, where he will spend a part of it.

Mrs. S. A. Welten, wife of the Pennsylvania assistant road foreman of engineers, is at Alliance, Ohio, visiting her father and other relatives and friends.

Elmer Kamm, a messenger at the office of General Foreman W. B. Madara, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, is back on duty after being sick several days.

F. C. Reiter, Pennsylvania boiler-maker, who was sick, reported for duty this morning and Boiler-maker C. Heckel is now off duty on account of sickness.

D. D. Wansittler, the Pennsylvania boiler-maker, who had a foot severely injured two months ago, has recovered and this morning reported for duty at the shop.

Charles H. Knothe, Pennsylvania machinist, accompanied by his wife and daughter, is spending a few days with relatives and friends in Dayton, O., and vicinity.

Albert Serva, son of Salesmanager A. A. Serva, of the General Electric works, has taken employment for the summer months with Foreman Frank Goetz, of the stationery department.

John Kayser, who took employment at the power plant of the Pennsylvania company several weeks ago, resigned yesterday and returned to his old position in the General Electric works.

Ringling Bros' circus is drawing immense crowds in Ohio, it is said. The company gives two exhibitions at Lima tomorrow and comes to Fort Wayne the following day.

A new telephone directory connecting all the departments and several desks of each at the General Electric works has been issued. It contains many new names and is quite an elaborate work.

C. C. Boyer and E. L. Lash have taken employment at the factory of A. F. Bowser & Co. They formerly worked as helpers in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, resigning positions there yesterday.

B. B. Ormiston, a Pennsylvania caller, will be operated upon at St. Joseph hospital for appendicitis next Friday. As soon thereafter as he is able to travel he will go to Mackinac island to recuperate.

John Pulver, who has been recuperating after an illness on a farm near Huntertown, has recovered completely and has resumed charge of the shipping department of the General Electric works.

Al Diem, Pennsylvania motive power inspector, who is assisting in some "front end" locomotive tests on the E. & A. division, returned today, after spending a couple of days with his folks.

A. B. Wood, of Schenectady, arrived here yesterday to join his wife in a visit with her relatives. They will remain here a week. Mr. Wood formerly resided in Fort Wayne and is well known here.

Chief Clerk J. H. Hobrock, of the Pennsylvania shop department, returned to his duties in the office this morning. He had been in Chicago attending the funeral of his brother-in-law, George Meyers, which took place yesterday.

Flagman C. C. Beard, of the Pennsylvania, was thrown violently against the side of a car in which he was standing when a locomotive bumped against it at Delphos, Ohio. His left arm was sprained, but no bones were broken and Mr. Beard was able to remain on duty until the train reached the city.

Louis Roeger, price clerk in the Pennsylvania division storekeeper's office, is at his desk again, after an absence of several weeks on account of an affection of the eyes. He was not off duty all the time he was away from his desk, but was assigned to work in another department which was less severe on the sight.

Wayne Street Women Organized for Work

Have Eight Sections, Each Working Three Hours Every Other Week.

The Woman's league of the Wayne street M. E. church has organized the women of the congregation for Red Cross sewing. Four days each week the women meet in the church parlors and sew.

The schedule for the next two weeks of work is as follows:

Monday, July 9.—Section No. 2; Mrs. Mary Quicksell, chairman.

Tuesday, July 10.—Section No. 5; Mrs. Stephen Morris, chairman.

Wednesday, July 11.—Section No. 8; Mrs. L. L. Miller, chairman.

Thursday, July 12.—Section No. 7; Mrs. Geo. Melton, chairman.

Monday, July 16.—Section No. 1; Mrs. F. Y. Gross, chairman.

Tuesday, July 17.—Section No. 3; Mrs. Carrie Staver, chairman.

Wednesday, July 18.—Section No. 6; Mrs. Arthur Ross, chairman.

Thursday, July 19.—Section No. 4; Mrs. N. J. Fulton, chairman.

Every woman of the church and congregation is expected, as far as possible, to give three hours of her time every two weeks to this splendid work.

Congregational Session.

On Thursday evening there will be a congregational meeting of Westfield Presbyterian church, at which Rev. H. B. Hostetter will preside. There will be no Wednesday evening prayer meeting this week.

Church Notes.

WHERE THE WEEK'S CHAUTAUQUA WILL BE HELD.

GETZ WILL NOT BE RETAINED BY CITY

Council Members Are Not Inclined to Allow $2,000 Salary.

Carl J. Getz will not be kept as city forester, council members state. At a council session Tuesday night the request that Getz be paid $2,000 a year is expected to be turned down. Council members say that they do not feel that it would be a matter of propriety to allow the marked increase in the pay of the city employee.

Guy E. Firestone, of Butler, is expected to be the successful candidate for the place of park superintendent. Firestone has offered to work for the city for the wages now paid Getz. Like the present city forester, Firestone is also a graduate of Purdue university and has had practical experience in park work. A part of the park board members have declared their approval of the recommendations offered by Firestone.

Seven candidates are clamoring for the place to be made vacant when Getz leaves the city office to take up real estate work. One of the applicants writes from Calgary, Alberta, Canada. He will come for the present salary of the position, he states. Other men who seek the place are eastern men.

"We have appreciated the services of Mr. Getz," stated a council member Tuesday. "We do not like to see the man go. He has done fine work here. We do not feel, however, that the city should afford to double the salary of the park superintendent."

Park Board Members Fox, Ackerman and Broeyer will appear before the council members at the committee of the whole meeting to be held at 7:30 Tuesday evening. They will ask that demand for money on the part of Getz and Charles J. Steiss, secretary to the park commission, be met. They will argue that good employees should be retained by the city.

Council members state that the salary of Charles J. Steiss should be raised with that of the park superintendent, if either are advanced. Steiss has been one of the most efficient park workers in the state, city officers believe.

Warm words may pass between members who advocate strict economy and those who wish more money for park purposes.

The matter of the installing of sidewalks along Killea street, from Weisner to Calhoun, is expected to be before the regular council session. The committee is expected to return a favorable report on the proposed improvement, despite the objection of several property owners along the street. A part of the land owners have stated that they will attend council meeting and voice their opinion on the subject.

Council members favor the improvement. It is believed that the matter will be passed Tuesday night.

Building Permits.
Building permits were issued to William Nassenstein to remodel a store building at Columbia and Clinton streets, $2,500, and to J. W. Moninger to build house, 2112 Short street, $2,600.

TO CROSS CANAL.
Board of Works Vacates Several Short Streets.

The opening of State street, from Spy Run avenue to Clinton street, was passed upon by the board of works, Monday afternoon. It is expected that all at the feeder canal will be started as soon as possible. The name of the short strip of street now known as Centerville avenue will be changed to State street. It will be necessary to cross the canal and build a bridge in order to lengthen State street to Clinton street.

Resolutions were also adopted by the board for vacating alley west of Weisner Park avenue from Eckart street to Weisner Park avenue; also alley east of Weisner Park avenue and south of Eckart street; also vacating of alley east of Hanna street from Eckart street to Weisner Park avenue; for opening and extending Shady court from Burnett to Oakdale; also vacating that portion of Burnett avenue west of South Wayne avenue and east of Shady court; also that portion of Burnett avenue west of Shady court and east of Indiana avenue; also widening Richardson street at its intersection with Osage street; also vacating streets and alleys in the John H. Jacobs third additions.

A resolution was adopted for opening State street from the east property line of the feeder canal to Clinton street.

WILL DISCUSS SHIFTS.
Light Corporations Have Grounds of Common Woe.

A conference has been called between city officials and Robert M. Fuestle, president of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, for next Thursday, in which shifting customers will be discussed. Many citizens have figured schemes of changing from one light company to the other when they wish to avert payment of bills, it is believed.

The matter of changing meters of the two light corporations will be taken up. Citizens have not been giving three day notice when they shift their patronage, it is claimed.

Mr. Fuestle states that there is no intention of adding a surcharge to all service bills for lights or that the public utilities commission will be asked to do so.

QUIT SHOBER'S BAND.
Park board members decided to discontinue the services of Shober's Military band for park concerts, at the Monday afternoon session of the board. The fact that the organization failed to appear for a number of the concerts this season is the reason for the action. The concert booked by Carl Shober, director of the band for the remainder of the season, will be filled by the Citizens' band.

Insurance Men Here.
Officials of the Southern Surety company, which gave bond for the guarantee of work on the sewer in the east end, which caved in two weeks ago, are in the city. They will hold a meeting with members of the board of works Tuesday afternoon. Together members of the board and the surety representatives will go over the ground of the damaged sewer. The drain has been installed but a year. It is thought that the collapse is due to defective tiling.

said that he was marrying for something millions cannot buy—a "real home." Colonel Green, who said he had been perhaps the "most proposed to man in the world," and who declared that the newspapers had caused him to receive 9,000 letters of proposal in the past five years, showed a human and democratic side in discussing his marriage.

"I am marrying the best and most sensible little lady in the world," he said. "I am marrying a quiet little lady to whom I can rely when I am burdened with the troubles of the world; I am marrying for a real home. I want to say right now that I am not marrying a society girl. I am marrying a truly sensible woman. I do not know who is going to be the boss. All I can say is that I am going to try to be."

been decided upon by Emperor William.

DECIDING UPON POLICY.

Copenhagen, July 10.—Although it is difficult to gain a clear impression of the political crisis in Germany from conflicting accounts in German papers and dispatches sent abroad, reichstag leaders were expected to be sitting this afternoon or evening in council upon a declaration of policy. This, according to some, would decide the fate of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, and the present governmental system, while others declare it would end the whole crisis. The party leaders were concerned chiefly with the question of the chancellor's position.

Those for or against new blood in the ministry and a change in the political system and questions of submarine policy and peace conditions were given only secondary consideration.

Should the party leaders in conference wherein only radical socialists and conservatives were not represented, reach an agreement the decisions would be presented, according to the Vossische Zeitung, in the form of leaving the chancellor the alternative of accepting them or facing rebellion in the reichstag, which will vote to ad-journal if it finds co-operation with the chancellor impossible.

Radicals Fear the Issue.

The radical party, according to the Vossische Zeitung, is wavering on the question of forcing a change, fearing that von Bethmann-Hollweg's successor, if one were chosen, might be worse than the present chancellor. The Hamburg Fremdenblatt, which yesterday said the entire clerical party in the reichstag with the exception of three members had voted to support the stand of Herr Erzberger, now corrects its previous announcement regarding the clericals' vote, saying the party has taken no decision.

In pursuance of its policy of extending the influence of the German press big business interests under Krupp leadership have purchased the radical Weser Zeitung, one of the oldest Bremen newspapers, and will make it like the recently purchased Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, an out and out pan-German and annexationist organ. The same company is reported to be negotiating for the purchase of a number of other prominent liberal and radical provincial papers.

Chancellor May Hold On.

Theodore Wolff, of the Berliner Tageblatt, doubts whether Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg will fall and whether anything beyond the usual compromise will emerge from the crisis. He says it would be curious though not surprising dispensation if the chancellor should be toppled by attacks directed against submarine warfare and the policy which forced America into the war after repeatedly risking his position by persisting in an opposite course.

Reports on the crisis are that Foreign Secretary Zimmerman retires with Admiral von Capelle, who succeeded him, and that the head of the ministry of marine and that Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg and Lieut. General von Stein, Prussian minister of war and state, opposed vigorously the idea of peace without annexations and that General von Stein read a letter from Field Marshal von Hindenburg to bolster up the submarine policy.

Discussion before the reichstag main committee in the course of which the chancellor again spoke adjourned Tuesday morning.

REVENTLOW IN FURY.

Copenhagen, July 10.—Although the German censor has kept out of the newspapers the speech before the reichstag main committee of Matthias Erzberger, leader of the Catholic center party, in which he attacked the German admiralty and the pan-Germans, an idea of the nature of his references to the submarine campaign may be gained from the angry comment of Count Ernest von Reventlow, naval expert of the Tages Zeitung, of Berlin. The count declares that in attempting to end the submarine campaign, Herr Erzberger and his supporters are aiming at destruction of the nation's confidence in victory, which depends so largely on the submarine, and of the prospect of a German peace.

Herr Erzberger's criticisms seem to hit a tender point in the German submarine policy, namely the failure to produce results within fixed time limits, for, says the count, "it would be grotesque childishness or partisan politics to say to the government in common sense thing as follows:

"You fixed the submarine program for a definite number of months. This period has expired. No decision has been reached. You therefore erred where no error was permissible."

Count Reventlow answers this hypothetical presentation of the case by insisting that the sole question to be answered in weighing a decision in the submarine war was whether it would have a decisive success within a specified period. That Herr Erzberger's attack took these lines is further indicated by citations of statistics by Vice Admiral von Capelle and Vice Chancellor Helfrich to prove that the submarine campaign is winning. Great Britain down, and the war minister's attempt to show how submarine ruthlessness is helping the land campaign.

burg along two first class railway lines. A dangerous salient already has been created around Halicz.

Petrograd's official statement besides announcing a retreat of the teutons to the Lomnica river and reporting the penetration of the enemy lines to a depth of six and two-thirds miles in the two days' fighting in the Stanslau sector, gives indications that the offensive further north in Galicia is soon to be resumed.

Intense artillery activity south of Brzezany, an important bridgehead point which the Russians are closely pressing, is now reported.

Berlin admits the Austro-German retirement in the Stanslau sector behind the Lomnica. The headquarters report contains the additional interesting statement of increased activity on the northern Russian front at Riga, Dvinsk and Smolensk.

A Russian stroke at the German lines on this northern front would show conclusively that the rehabilitation of the Russian armies had also extended to those nearest Petrograd and most subject to the disturbing influences which during the critical weeks immediately succeeding the revolution emanated from the extreme radical elements there.

Each day now witnesses a new attack by the German crown prince along the

will be able to register in the limited time that remains.

As a matter of fact voters have not been coming in as rapidly as was expected. Three women have registered up to the present time to one male voter, notwithstanding the decision of Judge Thornton at Indianapolis in which he held that the women cannot take part in the election. An early decision by the supreme court is expected.

David Stout, county clerk, received a letter Tuesday from the attorney-general of the state asking that the registration board remain on the job one night out of each week from now until Aug. 20. Announcement of the night will be made later. This action is made necessary because of the inability of many laboring men and those employed in factories to get down to the court house during the day.

Officials declare that there has been a most pitiful lack of interest in the constitutional convention. The total registration up to the present time will not exceed 4,000.

NORWEGIAN SHIP SUNK.

London, July 10.—The sinking of the Norwegian steamship Henrik (3,829 tons gross) and Lovrakk by German submarines is reported in a Central News dispatch from Copenhagen. The crews were saved. The Norwegian steamship Victoria II, 2,789 tons, was sunk by a German submarine while on the way to the United States. One life boat in which were a number of the crew was lost.

FRENCH LINER TORPEDOED.

Paris, July 10.—The French liner Caledonian, of 4,140 tons gross, was sunk by a mine or torpedo in the Mediterranean June 30, according to an announcement issued last night by the ministry of marine. Fifty-one persons were lost and 380 were saved.

BIG VERDICT FOR BOY.

Chicago, July 10.—John Curran, a newsboy, 17 years old, was given $30,000 damages by a jury in the state circuit court yesterday for the loss of his right arm in a railroad accident two years ago. The joint defendants were the Chicago & Western Indiana and the Chicago & North Western railroads, and the sum ordered was the largest ever given in this state for the loss of a limb. A year previously young Curran suffered the loss of his left arm in a street car accident.

Aisne front in northern France, suggesting an attempt at a sustained offensive. The French guns are proving too much for the attacking ranks of teutons, however.

Last night's attack on the Chemin-des-Dames plateau, the high ridge which the Germans lost in the spring campaign and are now trying desperately to recover, was even less fruitful than others have been at the outset. The Germans were not able even to get near the French lines at the Hurtelise monument and the Dragon, where their attacks were launched, and they fell back with severe losses.

The General Haig is again nibbling at the German lines in Belgium. Last night he took another bite into the territory east of the Messines ridge and advanced the British lines slightly near Oosttaverne, a mile northeast of Wytchate.

Markets.

Although prices in wheat have not dropped here in the past few days, the grain is becoming weaker steadily and a decrease in quotations by millers is expected soon. The prices now are $2.00@2.02. Receipts in wheat are very little better, but the tendency throughout the country is in a downward direction.

Receipts in both the wholesale and retail divisions of the local street market were slightly heavier Tuesday. At the city scale 28 loads were weighed as compared with 21 on Monday. Twenty-one loads were of hay, which was bought at $12.00@14.00. Two loads of corn were sold at $1.65 and five loads of oats at 66¢@67¢.

HAD LEFT PIPE IN HOUSE, WOMAN SAYS

Councilman Mistaken About Bare Feet and Smoke Clouds.

A vivid imagination has Councilman Peter A. Deitschel, Ninth ward representative, says Mrs. Mary Kindall, 1208 Marion street. The woman denied details of the unrefined picture which the councilman presented in his testimony relating to Mrs. Kindall in police court Tuesday morning. Councilman Deitschel stated that he saw Mrs. Kindall saunter from the back door of her home, a few days ago, and wander leisurely out into the alley, near the side of the house. The woman wore a wrapper gown, the Ninth ward business man said. She smoked a pipe and volumes of gray clouds curled about her head, Deitschel said. In her hand she carried a pail. She tossed the contents of the slop basin into the alley, averred the councilman. It was not the pattering feet nor the well seasoned pipe which was made the issue in the city court case. The serious matter was that of throwing waste into the alley way. Mrs. Kindall faced a city charge on the ground of hurling garbage into the lane. In a word involving directions, locations, wind movements and other complications which somewhat entangled the attorney for the defense, and City Health Officer Josse, the lawyer snapped at the health official, "Who is crazy, you or I?" "It is about fifty-fifty," came the unheated reply. Mrs. Kindall denied throwing refuse into the alley near her home. She denied carrying her pipe outside the house on the day in question. Several neighbors of the woman stated that they had never seen her throw waste into the alley and that the driveway was kept clean. Judge Kerr continued the case indefinitely.

The woman wore a wrapper gown, the Ninth ward business man said. She smoked a pipe and volumes of gray clouds curled about her head, Deitschel said. In her hand she carried a pipe. She tossed the contents of the pipe basin into the alley, averred the councilman.

It was not the patter of feet nor the well seasoned pipe which was made the issue in the city court case. The serious matter was that of throwing waste into the alley way, Mrs. Kindall faced a city charge on the ground of hurling garbage into the lane.

City Health Officers William Brown and Charles Josse testified that they were called to the Kindall home on the day referred to by Councilman Deitschel. Both officers said that they saw the defendant traversing the back yard with her feet exposed to the elements and garbed in the "mother Hubbard."

In a word involving directions, locations, wind movements and other complications which somewhat entangled the attorney for the defense, and City Health Officer Josse, the lawyer snapped at the health official, "Who is crazy, you or I?"

"It is about fifty-fifty," came the unheated reply.

COUNTY SURVEYOR

BORN IN TURKEY

Often Meets Election Trouble Because of Sojourn of Parents.

This story is in the nature of a receipt.
To whom it may concern, it establishes the American citizenship of County Surveyor A. W. Grosvenor. This account, if properly clipped and presented by the surveyor, will head off the usual tangle of red tape, which has accompanied his efforts to pass the polling portals for the past several years.

Mr. Grosvenor was born under the ensign of the crescent. His birthplace was Turkey because his father and mother were both school teachers and were acting as instructors in a Turkish school when the present county surveyor came into the world. The Grosvenor family remained in Turkey for fourteen years after the Fort Wayne man was born.

Is Mr. Grosvenor an American citizen?

A PECULIAR TRADE CUSTOM

Five hundred and fifty manufacturers of furniture, scattered all over the United States, have now on exhibition at the great Furniture Exposition, samples of all their new styles for the fall season. Just these samples will total in value over two millions of dollars. They will cover a floor space of more than fifty acres. How would you like the job of picking out from these tens of thousands of samples the particular pieces which ought to be secured for the "Big Store" of the Foster Furniture company? It takes two weeks of hard work and long hours in which to do it. Some job, isn't it? But their buyers are trying desperately hard to let no specially pretty thing escape their notice. Already their purchases are commencing to arrive. As usual, they want to beat all their competitors in displaying the new styles. This custom of semi-annual expositions is peculiar to the furniture trade. It does not obtain in any other line of business.
Buyers attend them by the thousand from every section of the United States, from the Atlantic to the Pacific.
Great care is taken to admit none but dealers—all are made to register, and the credentials of buyers are carefully examined. Others than dealers are frequently caught trying to gain admission and are given "the grand bounce."

MASTER BAKERS MEET AT CEDAR POINT, O.

W. F. Geller, President of Association, Presides at Annual Session.

A very large attendance is expected at the annual convention of Master Bakers of Indiana, Ohio and Michigan to be held at Cedar Point, O., this week, July 10-12-13.

One of the interesting subjects to come up for consideration will be the plan of food conservation as outlined by the National Council of Defense.

Not only is the manufacturer of the "staff of life" cautioned to eliminate all waste in the bakery, but he is to caution the consumer of his wares as well to make a loaf of bread go as far as possible and to be saving to the last crumb. The baker is no longer permitted to give credit for unsold bread and the dealer must see to it that every loaf is sold and used for human consumption only.

W. F. Geller, president of the Tri-
State Bakers association, and Mrs.
Geller, as well as a number of the local bakers and their wives went to Cedar Point Monday night to attend the convention.

JOY BELLS.

WAR STRIKES NEWPORT.

Newport, R. I.—Report from Chicago that they're wearing 'em higher this year shocks society circles here.

Reason that here they're not wearing 'em at all any more. The beach crowd is said to have reasoned that what's good enough for men is good enough for women, especially in war time.

FROM BANK TO BANK.

Arlington, Fla.—When Carlotta
Brown went into the local bank to make a Red Cross donation she told the cashier she would have to first take the money from her own bank, whereupon she did. The bank was silk and before Carlotta could complete the transaction almost the whole town population had gathered to do their bit for the Red Cross.

METALIFEROUS BABY.

Excelsior, S. D.—Mr. and Mrs. Nat Bascom have a child wonder. The infant is a year old and eats nails, scissors, fifty-cent pieces and dollar watches with great gusto. This diet seems not to harm the child in the least. Doctors are puzzled, naturally.

Snow's son had written to his pal about how he'd done it down in the city, and if he could do it in the city she could do it right here at home.

BRAINS? LISTEN.

Flagstaff, Ariz.—A discarded railroad headlight, thrown into a scrap heap in such a way that it caught the sun's rays, reflected a patch of heat on the ground below. On a cool day last week a big rattler was found warming himself beneath the old lens.

Binjo Jinks thinks the snake is about the brightest ever heard of.

PETE FOOLS 'EM.

Oroville, Cal.—Pete Murphy has found a new way of totting his booze with him. Pete is town stew bum.

Many ways have been tried to separate him and red licker. Now Pete 'seps the stuff in a hole he has made in his wooden leg. When he wants a bracer he takes off his leg and puts his foot in his mouth.

CAN'T FOOL ELIZA.

Tracy, Vt.—Eliza Simpkins has found a new way to beat the high cost of living. She snares the neighbors' chickens. She said she'd heard Eli

Snow's son had written to his pal about how he'd done it down in the city, and if he could do it in the city she could do it right here at home.

MUST STRAIGHTEN OUT HIS FLAG UTTERANCE

Schmidt Seemed to Tell
Many Stories About American Standing

Adam Schmidt, 45, who came to America nine years ago and to Fort Wayne last Saturday, must reach an understanding with Federal Commissioner T. J. Logan as to what Schmidt meant when he made statements which sounded to several citizens Saturday night like "to 'ell with the flag."

The German born laborer talks broken English, although he understands the language when it is spoken to him. He stated that he did not mean to insult the American flag, when he talked rapidly, Saturday evening. His worst tangle came when he tried to make the court understand that he had taken out citizenship papers. He had lost his papers, he says.
It was this utterance which caused Judge Kerr to bind him over to the federal authorities.

Schmidt is to be delivered to Commissioner Logan for a second investigation. The man was briefly questioned by the federal agent on Monday. Mr. Logan believed that Schmidt was not rebellious, when he sounded the man at the first hearing.

Frank Kuhns, arrested at the Bergh-off brewery Saturday, and also charged with profaning the flag, was released by order of Commissioner Logan Monday. He had questioned the man closely.

"I find that much of the trouble in such cases is due to a misunderstanding of the faulty English of these people," Commissioner Logan states.
"Such folks should be careful where they talk and then speak but little, in these moments."

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGNERS
TO HAVE RE-UNION

Make Plans for Picnic at Lake Maxinkuckee in August.

Team captains in the campaign for the Y. M. C. A. building were entertained at the Country club Monday night by Arthur F. Hall and S. B.
Bechtel, generals. It was decided at this meeting of the captains to have a reunion of all the forces which participated in the campaign in the form of a picnic to be held at Lake Maxinkuckee on August 25. Plans for the event were discussed and seven committees were appointed to make arrangements. Another meeting will be held in the near future.

It is probable that the reunion will include everybody who took part in the campaign and letters will be sent out this week.

The children's barber shop of Patterson-Fletcher Co.'s is the busiest place in town.

Wayne circle No. 45 will meet in Vordermark hall Tuesday night to discuss important business. All members are requested to be present.

PROMINENT GOLFERS REMAIN IN RUNNING

Bobby Jones and Ouimet Claim the Galleries in First Round.

Chicago, July 10.—With most of the prominent golfers entered in the western amateur championship surviving the elimination round, the contest for qualification was staged today at the Midlothian Country club, the best 32 to play the first match round of 18 holes in the afternoon.

Scores ran higher than expected yesterday. Kenneth P. Edwards, of Midlothian, being the only one of the 145 starters to equal par, 72.

Francis Ouimet, of Boston, and John G. Anderson, of New York, headed the eastern entrants invited to participate to make the tournament national in scope, with 77 strokes. That was the score also of Arthur Lee, of Detroit.

Mich., main hope after the unexpected elimination yesterday of James D.
Standish, Jr., who scored 90.

While Perry Adair, with 79, had the best score of the southern contestants, Bobby Jones, the youthful southern champion was only one stroke behind with Tom Prescott, also of Atlanta.

With Chas. Evans, Jr., out of tournament play, with the avowed intention of devoting his golf to Red Cross exhibitions, Jones and Ouimet claimed the galleries while the professionals among the spectators followed the long drives of Jesse Guilford, Massachusetts champion, who almost came to grief in the first round with an 84, having become entangled with a log to the tune of 9 strokes on the 18th hole.

The international entrants, Jack May, champion of Argentina, and J. S. Worthington, of England, did not measure up to the American opponents in the first round, taking 82 each. While more than half the survivors of the first round are Chicagoans, the second qualification round contains 3 from the New York field, 2 from Boston, 3 from Detroit, 6 from the south and one from Grand Rapids, Mich.

CATHOLIC PARTY IN DRIVE FOR PEACE

END OF SUBMARINE WARFARE AND MOVE FOR CLEAR TERMS

That Is the Basis of Center Leader's Sensational Speech Before the Reichstag Committee.

KAISER SLATES ZIMMERMANN FOR AXE

Copenhagen, July 10.—A German arriving here last night from Berlin makes the statement that the purpose of Herr Erzberger, the Catholic center party leader, in making his sensational speech before the main committee of the reichstag on Saturday was to secure an abandonment of the submarine campaign as well as the proclamation of a peace program without annexations or indemnities.

The majority in the reichstag has been practically formed on these demands, which, it is thought, will align America and Russia for peace and powerfully influence France and England. It was said, the same majority has been secured for a demand for the institution of a parliamentary ministry with Dr. Gustave Stresemann, nationalist, and Philip Scheidemann as candidates for portfolios.

ZIMMERMANN TO GO.
 London, July 10.—It is reported in Amsterdam, says the correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company, that the resignations of Dr. Karl Helfferich, the German vice chancellor and secretary of the interior, and Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, the German secretary for foreign affairs, have

MARE ISLAND IS CUT OFF WHILE HUNT PROCEEDS

Vallejo, Cal., July 10.—Military law and strict censorship were in force today at the Mare Island navy yard as the result of an explosion of a black powder magazine there yesterday with the loss of six lives and injuries to thirty-one persons.

Federal investigators of the department of justice, who were sent to Mare Island by United States District Attorney John W. Preston, of San Francisco, have begun an investigation into the cause of the explosion independent of that being conducted by navy officials of the yard. Within

BIG FIRE AT VALPARAISO

Two Buildings of University Are Destroyed by the Flames.

ROOMING HALLS ARE WIPED OUT
 Students Save Little from Dormitories That Had Bad Case of Jinx.

Valparaiso, Ind., July 10.—Vineyard and Bliss halls, two of the largest and oldest dormitories of Valparaiso university, were destroyed by fire late last night with a damage estimated at $50,000.

The fire, which originated in the furnace room of Bliss hall, is thought to have been started by a student who earlier in the evening built a fire to heat water. Damage of $2,000 was inflicted upon Bliss hall only three weeks ago, and this was the fifth fire since the hall was built thirty years ago. Vineyard hall burned in 1900, but was rebuilt. Almost the entire block was occupied by the two halls.

Students of the two halls saved very little. Low water pressure hindered the fire-fighting. Members of the fire department were slightly burned and members of Company L. I. N. G., took the place of regular firemen.

Miss Ida Coyer, Frank Olesinski and Freeman Lane, an express driver, were injured when a taxi crashed into an express wagon in a rush to the fire.

DELEGATE TO MEETING.

SAY EMBARGO MEANS RUIN

Officials of Holland-American Line Want to Get Liners Going.

FORTY OF DUTCH STEAMERS HELD UP
 Loaded With Grain and Other Foodstuffs That Must Clear by July 15.

New York, July 10.—Officials of the Holland steamship firms which have sixteen vessels loaded with grain and foodstuffs waiting in this port to sail for Europe, declared today that some of the consignees in Holland may be forced into bankruptcy and many people were actually starving, while waiting assurances from the British government that the ships would be given safe conduct. It was estimated that between thirty and forty Dutch steamers, 10,000 to 12,500 tons, were tied up in Atlantic ports.

Although the shippers declared that the delay was serious, as many people in Holland consumed their supplies of grain and foodstuffs, an English diplomat said that, according to the most reliable information, the Dutch people are not in danger of starving as has been stated. He also said the question of permitting foodstuffs and grain to be sent to Holland was most serious, considering the reports that some merchants of that country

 Federal Militia Bureau is Rushing Work Following Proclamation.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—The federal militia bureau was today arranging for transportation of the national guard which will be mobilized for active service August 5, in accordance with a proclamation issued by President Wilson.

The various state units will be organized into sixteen tactical divisions and assigned to camps for final training before being sent to France.

The constitutional inhibition against use of military militia outside the country has been avoided by the insertion of a clause in the proclamation specifically discharging the forces from their militia status.

Regiments in the northern and eastern sections of the country are called into federal service in two increments, July 15 and 25. Many units are already federalized and the remainder will be mobilized on August 5.

GREAT DAMAGE TO KRUPPS.

Amsterdam, July 10.—Les Louvelles of Maestricht, Holland, reports that Dutch workmen who were laid off at the Krupp works on account of the destruction of buildings in the recent French air raid, assert that a quarter of the Essen plant was destroyed.

The material damage is placed at millions of francs, and it is said that one hundred employees were killed and hundreds of others, including forty-five French prisoners, were killed.

One and possibly two French airplanes dropped bombs on Essen last Friday. The official German report of the raid said only two bomb holes were found.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S WAR NEWS

Several villages captured and more than 1,000 additional prisoners and three field guns taken attest the success of the second day's attack by General Korniloff in eastern Galicia. Already this branch of the Russian offensive movement has resulted in a deep wedge being driven into the Austro-German line between Stanislaw and Galicia, southeast of Lemburg. It took the throwing in of strong German reserves and the launching of heavy counter attacks even to slow up the rush of Korniloff's men.

The strategic position in this sector is now clearly in the hands of the Russians. The long established tautonic line has been definitely broken and the rush of Russian pressure points to the probable speedy fall of Halicz, opening up the way to Lem-

German War Office Announces Retirement of Teutonic Forces in Galicia and Increase of Fighting.

FRENCH AGAIN STOP THE CROWN PRINCE

Berlin, July 10.—(Via London.)—The German war office today announced that the German forces fighting in the Stanislaw sector of the Galician front were yesterday withdrawn behind the Lomica river.

Near Bugu, Dvinsk and Smorgon, on the northern end of the Russian front, the official statement added, fighting between the Germans and Russians has increased.

AISSNE ATTACK RENEWED.
 Paris, July 10.—The Germans returned to the attack on the Aisne front last night and again met with defeat, the war office reports say. A strong attack on the French position at Herbitise and Dragon was repulsed. The attacking waves suffered severely and were unable to reach the French lines.

Local attacks at Laifaux mill, Ailles, Corbeny, Courcy and Aubeville were unsuccessful. The French took prisoners.

BRITISH ADVANCE LINES.
 London, June 10.—"Last night we advanced our line slightly east of Oost-taverne (one mile northeast of Wytschaete)," says today's official announcement. "South of the Ypres-Comines canal we carried out a successful raid. We captured some prisoners."

LOOTERS HAVE RAVAGED SOME GERMAN SHIPS

New York, July 10.—On orders received from Washington early today secret service agents removed all articles of intrinsic value from the seized German steamships in this port and placed them in storerooms that a court in the order, it was said, was issued following the discovery that a portrait of Abraham Lincoln that for years had hung at the head of the grand companionway of the liner President Lincoln had been stolen. About $50,000 worth of paintings alone were removed from the Vatterland, it was said, in addition to silverware and other articles, including several busts of Emperor William, of Germany.

FIREMEN DASH FOR TWO CALLS AT ONCE

Fire gongs rattled and big motor trucks sped in several directions when two alarms were sounded simultaneously at 9:30 Tuesday morning. One telephone call had stated that the knitting mills were on fire. Another reported a blaze at the Van Arnum Manufacturing company, corner of Taylor and Lake streets.

The fire was at the Van Arnum plant. A heap of oily rags were burning. One room in the factory was damaged. Loss is $75.

BAKERS OF NEW YORK TAKE BACK UNSOLD BREAD

New York, July 10.—Bakers here today discontinued the practice of taking back unsold bread from retailers under an agreement arranged by the local branch of the war emergency committee of the baking industry.

A bread saving for the entire country of from $12,000,000 to $20,000,000 a year will be possible if similar action by bakers is put into general effect it was estimated today. Reports received from Cincinnati, Omaha and other cities where the plan has been in operation for several weeks, states the change had been made without trouble or loss to either baker or retailer.

THE LATEST BY BURBANK

Super-Wheat Perfected by Plant Wizard to Halt World Famine.

WILL QUADRUPLE
AMERICAN CROPS

Says He is Sure of Result of Long Experimenting and Stands by It.

BY JACK JUNGMEYER.
(Copyright, 1917, Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

Santa Rosa, Cal., July 10.—Luther Burbank, the world's greatest scientific agriculturist, today announced the perfection of a "super-wheat" which he believes will go far toward solving the universal problem of grain shortage.

Its yield is five times as much per acre as the average production throughout the United States today. Where 15 bushels are now garnered, 40 to 70 is the measure of the new Burbank variety. It is as if this genius of the plant kingdom had suddenly extended many fold America's wheat acreage.

The promise of this achievement for a hunger-threatened world can scarcely be overestimated. It is the product of ten years' extensive and very expensive experimenting to combine into one wonderful new grain the best food qualities, hardiness and fecundity of many strains of wheat selected from all parts of the earth.

It has been carefully tested in comparison with 68 of the world's best wheats and exceeds every one of them in productiveness.

Burbank told me about this wonder grain here for the first time today. Until now he has kept it secret for fear the result of his labors would be appropriated by exploiters.

"I have," he said, "perfected and ready for the market the most productive wheat ever evolved by man—you may say that without qualification, and I'll back it up."

"The average yield will run about 50 to 70 bushels to the acre. It is hardy, barbed, smooth and milky, and will grow anywhere in the temperate zone."

"Were it universally planted, the same acreage today under cultivation should yield many times as much wheat."

No man's time is of more value to the nation than Luther Burbank's. Identified with the National Emergency Food Garden commission, he is working feverishly against time in his home and experiment gardens here—living on his nerve, toiling often far into the night, giving the world freely the benefit of his genius.

He gave me half an hour from his precious tasks; a quiet, smiling man whose face is as gray as his hair and whose clothes were stained with the dust from his garden.

"This country has raised over 800,000,000 bushels of Burbank potatoes since I produced them in 1873," resumed the former Massachusetts farmer, "and I am sure that the world's plant wizard, 'Twenty-seven million carloads.'"

"According to official statement more than 35 per cent of all plums and prunes annually shipped out of California in fresh state are my own creations."

"But I make the confident prediction that my new wheat will do as much or more for the nation than the Burbank potato and the fruits."

He showed me a sheaf of the super grain, fondling it with the scientist's passion for his creation. The heads were like clovered grass—long, heavy and amazingly big grained.

"Protein," he resumed, "is the important food element in wheat. I am still working to increase the protein in this new type and in other western varieties of grain which are particularly lacking in it."

"With that element now improved and the yield per acre greatly augmented, a big step forward has been taken in meeting the world's cry for bread."

"And now you'll have to excuse me," he concluded, hurrying back into the garden which is far more precious than any arsenal to the government that must feed the legions fighting to make the world safe for democracy.

COSANTINO WANTED IN ATLANTIC CITY

Man Arrested Here Will Be Taken Back to New Jersey.

Anton Cosantino, 39, wears a light-checked suit and a fiery gleam in his eye. That was the reason why Detective Sergeant Rundell led him from Calhoun street to police headquarters Monday afternoon. Joseph Brennan, in charge of the detention department, studied Cosantino and also the police records. He found that the man is wanted in Atlantic City, N. J., for three offenses.

Atlantic City police were notified and a return telegram stated that an officer will be here to recover the prisoner as soon as possible. Cosantino is held under $1,000 bond to await the arrival of the eastern officials.

Was Neglected.

William Sprout, 40, neglected to provide for his wife and seven children. It was proven. He has given the wife, who keeps the family at 1427 St. Mary's avenue, the sum of $7 during the past month. Sprout was fined $1 and sentenced to thirty days at road work.

Must Hold Job.

Dorris Deutchman, 19, must get a job and stay with it. His stepfather, Frank Strain, had the young man in police court on a trespass charge, because he claims Dorris stayed at the home and did not pay board. Dorris has had eight jobs since February. He pays board when he works. Judge Kerr continued the case with the order that Dorris work more.

Other Police Court Cases.

Commodore Keck, the Cedarville man who extracted his mother-in-law, his wife and several children from his home at the cost of a blackened eye and other bodily bruises, Monday afternoon, was released to the Cedarville marshal, Tuesday. Keck will answer an assault charge.

Cases of public intoxication were: Carl Anderson, fined $1 and costs; Jack Riskey, will be tried on Saturday, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hays will be given a hearing on next Friday.

ELKS TO ENJOY STAG
PICNIC ON JULY 29

Red Letter Day for Antlered
Home.

Fort Wayne Elks are arranging for another big day at their new country club, formerly Germania park. On Sunday, July 29, they will give an all day stag picnic at their new home, and it is expected to be one of the red letter days of the organization. Bills have been printed bearing the words, "Best Picnic On Earth," and also the alliterative announcement that "In bilanes—on hubs—in street cars and subs—we'll pack to this party in the park that will pale all previous pretensions."

All day the Elks will feast on chicken, pork chops and veal chops. A sixteen-foot grill has been made, and white clad cooks will hand out the food. Arrangements are being made by Charles Spangler, chairman; Harry Hattersley, Dr. C. J. Rothchild and William Bayer.

Out of town Elks will be invited, and prizes of $50, $25 and $5 will be offered for the largest delegations from other cities.

RAILWAY HOSPITAL BURNS.

Paduach, Ky., July 10.—Two persons were injured and damage approximating $175,000 was done by a fire which destroyed the hospital of the Illinois Central railroad company here early today.

The night watchman at the institution reported that the fire followed an explosion. An investigation is being made.

VALPARAISO MAN ENDS LIFE.

Valparaiso, Ind., July 10.—Henry Defries, aged 30, wealthy manufacturer, committed suicide at his home here today by slitting his throat with a razor. He was an invalid and was said to be despondent because of his condition.

WORE DIAMONDS IN JOURNEY FROM CITY

Negress Apprehended by Detective Pappert Denies Guilt.

Ida Cadie Washington, 40, colored, wore diamonds and carried a $100 watch when she rode in a taxi cab from the A. B. Frank home to the railroad station several days ago, it is claimed. The domestic is charged with robbing the Frank residence, in which she was employed, while the family were at Rome City.

Detective Sergeant W. F. Pappert was called on the case when the Frank family returned home the first of June, and could not locate a part of their valuables. The negro woman who had been employed as a domestic was gone. So were two gold rings, a watch, a suit case and some clothes.

The detective learned that Mrs. Washington had taken a taxi cab from the Frank home several days before and had left the city. He was unable to locate the woman. She came back to Fort Wayne, Monday. The detective with Bailiff George Eisenhut arrested her. She denies taking the articles in question. She is held under $500 bond for trial next Tuesday.

Public Safety.

Insurance men of the city are seeking the aid of the state forces in an effort to prevent the change of city ordinance which would permit companies to build and maintain tanks containing 15,000 gallons of oil above the ground inside the city limits.

It was learned that a deputy had been sent to this city by the state fire marshal and had conducted an investigation quietly last week, not making any report to anyone in Fort Wayne. C. B. Fitch, of Pitch & Fishering, had written the state officials asking if some action could not be taken to prevent the storing of large quantities of oil and gasoline in the city.

Insurance men consider the ordinance, which was passed over the mayor's veto, with the alleged object of allowing the St. Clair Oil company to build tanks at McCulloch and Hayden streets, to be contrary to state fire laws.

FORT WAYNE WOMAN HURT.

Word has been received here from Meadville, Pa., that Mrs. Minnie Tinker, who recently moved there from this city, was struck Monday and seriously hurt by an automobile in attempting to cross the street. Her injuries consist of a dislocated hip and shoulder. She was also hurt internally. A son, H. Tinker, of this city, left for Meadville immediately upon receiving word of the accident.

This Map Shows You Exactly Where Shady Brook Park is Located

Two Concrete-Paved Drives and an Interurban Railway Lead Directly to Shady Brook Park

Readers of The Sentinel who wish to drive to Shady Brook Park will find it necessary for awhile to make the run over the Lincoln Highway to Bueter road and then turn south (see the map). The more southerly route, by way of the New Haven road, is at present cut off on account of the paving of this highway with concrete like the Lincoln Highway. J. S. Peddicord and the C. S. Kitch Company, who have developed this splendid residence property, have not only provided concrete pavements in the subdivision, but will lay a concrete road from New Haven road southward to the entrance to Shady Brook Park, this providing a continuous stretch of pavement from down town directly to the front door of every home in Shady Brook Park.

While many good lots have already been taken in Shady Brook Park, there are many choice ones left to select from. The present week would seem to afford a splendid opportunity to visit the place and choose a home site. Mr. Peddicord and the C. S. Kitch Company have opened a ground floor office at No. 1022 Calhoun street, three doors north of the Jefferson theater, and they will be glad to take anyone to Shady Brook Park in their automobiles or provide free round-trip tickets on the interurban line.

According to one account, Gerbert, afterward Pope Sylvester II, learned the use of the numerals from the Moors in Spain in the tenth century. Another account is that Leonardo of Pisa introduced them from the east into Italy about 1202. The use of them was not general until the invention of printing.

It was at one time stated that there were in Holland at least 9,900 large windmills, of which the sails ranged from 80 to 100 feet long. At that time their yearly cost was reported to be nearly $10,000,000. The mills are used for many purposes—for sawing timber, beating hemp, grinding, but their principal use has always been to pump water from the lowlands into the canals, to protect the little country from being inundated.

HOW LONDON LOOKS AND ACTS DURING A RAID BY THE GERMAN AIR PIRATES DESCRIBED BY WRITER.

So Far from Being Terrified, London Goes Up to the Ridgepole for Good View of the Airships That Are Dropping Big Bombs on the City.

BY K. W. PAYNE.

London, July 9.—The Germans may try to wipe out London from the air, this summer, by an endless series of furious airplane attacks, say many observers here.

Utterly foolish as the attempt would be, these observers claim air raids on London are still in their infancy, both as to extent and ferocity. They assert the Kaiser might logically attempt to keep hundreds of planes in operation against the world metropolis, actually expecting to accomplish thereby some military purpose.

It is held the Germans, in an effort to overcome British air supremacy in France, will persist in bombing English women and children, thus hoping some of the British air fighters may be forced to protect home towns and give up service at the front.

Commentators suggest America can play here a role of unparalleled utility by hastening to bring to her allies a still greater preponderance of aerial power.

In fact, it is suggested, the Germans in forcing the fight from the skies are actually ensuring their own more speedy downfall, through an allied air navy so powerful as to dominate completely the whole future course of the war.

Meanwhile Londoners continue to take the Kaiser's doses of airplane frightfulness with curiosity and increased determination to fight until frightfulness is crushed in Germany.

Here is a typical experience of an air raid:

Over the click of typewriters in the office we note a succession of dull thuds, like the distant banging of doors. Then it sounds as though somebody was dropping heavy boxes in a room down the hall. Suddenly a crash and shiver near at hand makes everybody stop work.

"Guess it's a raid," says the stenographer, unmoved.

Out in the corridors and stairways are two leisurely moving currents of people. Some are going downstairs to the cellars; most are climbing up to the roofs. All are joking and laughing; there is no sign of undue excitement; men are continuing to talk business as they go!

On the roof, the view is extraordinary. London's whole skyline is alive with humanity. Office boys are perched up on the chimneys. Girls are clustered on all flat spaces, gazing up into the dazzling sky. From the spirit of the sightseers you'd think some thrilling aerial circus was being staged.

All the time there echoes the crash of bombs and the sound of anti-aircraft guns. Now and again for a few seconds airplanes, gliding like silver in the sun, are visible maneuvering in the clouds. They disappear. The bomb spot where the bombs fell. But because of these things their resolve grows more grim than ever that there can be no peace with the Hohenzollerns.

SIMON SHOE SHOP

Now Located in New Quarters on Second Floor of Shoaff Building.

The Simon Shoe Shop, for the past several years occupying salesrooms on the fifth floor of the Shoaff building, are now located in their improved new quarters on the second floor of the same building. The move was necessitated for several good reasons. Their constantly growing business needed more room, the new quarters having an additional floor space of 250 square feet more than they had before. The ceilings are higher, and the lighting and ventilating everything that can be desired. The buying public will find the new quarters more easily accessible, there being but one flight of stairs to negotiate for those who do not desire to take the elevator. "Business as Usual" only more so is exemplified in the splendid business this popular firm is enjoying. It is the intention of the firm to hold a formal opening at a later date, when all the new fall models in Ladies' and Men's Shoes will be on display. The moving into these new quarters is a good one and shows the spirit of this firm to be right up to date.

The Jews learned the art of brick-making in Egypt. We find the use of the brick kiln in David's time (11 Samuel, xii, 31). A complaint is made by Isaiah that the people built altars of brick instead of unhewn stones as the law directed (Isaiah, xiv, 3; Exodus xx, 25).

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, etc. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

MORE SHAMED THAN HURT.

The public mind in London is in a great state of heat because of the latest of the German air raids over that city. The extent of the material damage and the loss of life in Saturday's sensational raid, when the kaiser's airmen bombed the heart of the metropolis, may not have been greater than the censured dispatches indicate, but the results could scarcely have stirred the people to a higher pitch of wrath if half the city had been destroyed and thousands of people slain.

Britons appear to be much less concerned with the destruction of property and the human casualties than with the fact that the raid itself and another that preceded it some three weeks earlier, when the loss of life was quite heavy, should have been possible at all. They believe the war office has fallen down in its duty to furnish all possible protection against the German air raids. They are ashamed, humiliated and angered by the evident impunity with which the enemy can sail over the city, drop bombs, destroy property, take life and wing his way in safety back to his base. The feeling is natural and it is aggravated by the boasted superiority of England and her allies in the air. That superiority, however, is for the most part on the battle fronts in France and Belgium and may go largely to account for England's weakness of defense against air raids over her own soil.

It is pointed out with some force that if Germany can dispatch aerial squadrons of a dozen or a score planes over London she may quite as readily send fleets of one hundred or two hundred planes and visit upon London a description of consequences which will not leave the British people feeling more ashamed than hurt. The success of the two German air raids of the past month does not leave the possibility of such a pretentious adventure involved in great doubt, nor would it be a violent surprise to see the Germans soon attempt an air raid on a scale of such magnitude. There has now and then come from Germany something more definite than a boast and hint that the British would be struck from the air so often and so hard they would realize the horrors of war were not reserved wholly for the other side of the channel.

It was the conviction of the late Count Zeppelin that in his giant dirigibles he had perfected the weapon which should humble England. He believed that with a fleet of those great aerial craft the destruction of London would be a matter of no great difficulty. Repeated Zeppelin raids were made over England, but no military advantage resulted and the consequences were not in any instance important. Zeppelins made good targets for anti-aircraft guns on the ground and were vulnerable to attack by airplanes. Germany lost a good many Zeppelins in air raids over England.

The three air raids in force by airplanes have proved them superior to Zeppelins for the purpose. They have the speed, mobility and low visibility that altogether afford the highest degree of safety against counter-attack. The answer to the airplane is the airplane. Big fleets of high-powered machines ready to arise to repel aerial invaders the moment their appearance is apprehended would serve most effectually to create defense and make the enemy wary of risking his machines against superior numbers.

Great Britain is now said to be looking confidently to the United States to produce the aerial arm that shall at length put Germany out of business in the sky. That also is the hope and expectation of the aerial enthusiasts here. Congress already has a bill that would appropriate over $600,000,000 for aeroplanes and equipment. Secretary Daniels has just added to that vast program a request for $45,000,000 to be expended in advancing the aerial arm of the navy. There ought to be no great delay by congress in getting these appropriations through so that money may be available for developing American military aviation. The importance of this is not that it may save London, though the safety of any and all of America's allies is now of supervening importance, but that if this nation is going to create adequate defenses and is going to prosecute the war to win, it can do so in no better way than to make itself supreme in the air. This is the country that should claim to maintain aerial supremacy. It is a pity to give the world a mighty weapon of which we make no use.

DR. LYCURGUS S. NULL

The people of New Haven and the eastern part of Allen county will greatly miss Dr. Lycurgus Sampson Null who, after more than half a century of the practice of his profession among them, has passed on to the angelic reward there must be for those who do good in the world. Dr. Null was a physician "of the old school" in more respects than that he applied himself to the profession of healing a good while ago. He had the manners and the spirit that marked the goings and comings of the "old family doctor" among his people. And he had something else that is not quite so common as it was once. Dr. Null's professional life was to himself something of a trusteeship of mercy. He bestowed his learning and skill where they seemed to be needed and the question of his fee, if not a matter of indifference at least never was paramount. Now that he is gone, men and women feel free to say of him what his own sense of obligation to humanity and his own genuine modesty forbade them to disclose while he was living. His charities and benevolences—perhaps not large in any special instances—were numerous and in the aggregate, made up of uncounted acts of generosity and kindness during half a century, amounted to a great deal. His neighbors and other friends and men and women throughout the entire countryside that was the theater of his professional work now testify to this. Dr. Null was a true physician and a genuinely good man. His life and his work deserve all that may be said of them and more. In the midst of his professional labors he found time to acquit himself of the duties of a spirited and patriotic citizen, serving his community and its people with usefulness and honor. Dr. Null will be greatly missed and sincerely mourned by the large circle in which he moved for more than fifty years.

AN INTERESTING SIDELIGHT.

That the railroads have not been destroyed by refusal of the interstate commerce commission to authorize the 15 per cent horizontal increase of rates and that certain big industrial concerns have not been plunged into disaster by the purpose of the government to assume control over certain commodities is apparent, even though the fluctuating recessions of the leading issues in Wall street would seem to argue somewhat otherwise. Dun's Weekly Review, in its last Saturday's summary of conditions, shed this interesting sidelight:

Discussion of the intrinsic value of securities is frequently heard in some quarters, but quotations of sixty railroad stocks are $1.35 net lower in the average than a week ago, with ten industrial down $1.85. Disappointment over the interstate commerce commission's rate decision ostensibly explained the decline in the rails, and the continued talk of commodity price-fixing by the government and the question of taxation were said to afford adequate reason for the recession in other issues. Yet there has been no indication of unloading by investors, and it has not required close observation to see that professionals have done most of the selling. The diminishing volume of business, with sales averaging less than 600,000 shares daily, has demonstrated that the so-called public is still keeping in the background, and in the absence of outside support, heavy traders have endeavored to depress the market sufficiently to induce liquidation by actual holders. That such efforts have failed of their purpose is evident.

The railway heads may be "plunged in a gulf of dark despair," and some of the captains of big industry may have visions of a down-hill road to the demerit bow-wows, but there is more of this in their talk for public consumption than in their honest minds. Investors who are holding on to their stock investments are satisfied with what they are getting and are little disturbed as to the future. If it were not so—if the railroads and the industries were in danger or threatened with any straits—the "public" would have begun days ago a furor to unload and would have plunged Wall street into a panic. Investors refuse to be coaxed or tricked into unloading. When stocks go to the bad dumping proceeds with great eclat without encouragement of any sort.

Governor Goodrich continues to suppose that he will be obliged to call the legislature into extraordinary session to deal with the fuel problem; or at least he designs to let the coal barons of Indiana suppose that is what he will do. And on the other equally interesting hand the coal barons steadfastly and stubbornly refuse to suppose that Governor Goodrich means to do anything of the sort. As for the merits of the difference, major opinion inclines to belief that the coal barons can get by on four cards with more finesse than the governor. It saves the situation in all nominal aspects that the federal government is slouching about the state to see what it can see about the way coal is mined and marketed. That likewise may be a stony pretense of getting ready to stand pat, but that word federal still hath power to conjure visions of doing something awful to trusts, combines and conspiracies.

THE TRANSFER CORNER

By R. E. M.

"Fare, please! All the glad ones, and the sad ones—all the good ones, and the bad ones—get a here!"

The Pacific Scuffle.

R. W. S. has been having a fight with one of those nightmares—those Pacific nightmares, 'til you read about it. Notice how serenely he gives the telly boot to his adversary.

Pacificist says:

"I do not want to go to war (I fear I might be shot). My flag? It's but a piece of cloth. My country? Tomorrow! I'll argue with the enemy. And talk him sane again. It is the only thing to do. With such mistaken men!"

"I'll let him walk upon my neck, And rip and swear and rave, And when he's all worn out, I'll say 'Behave!' But should it chance that he forgets Himself, and kills me?—Eh? I won't be here to care a hang. What happens, then, to YOU?"

R. W. S. replies:

"But we'll be here and so will you. When this damned war is done And our dear friend, the enemy, Has dropped his gun and run; But you—too blasted good to fight—May come down with a thud, And then decide to change your name From Pacificist to Mud!"

Snickers at Royalty.

It now seems that Jahrga was only the heir apparent, and not the heir apparent. Probably Alexander can live up to the traditions of the family, but it's doubtful. Alphonse must feel sad that the time has gone by when he could hog the limelight.

Doubtless Nick has at last learned to hoe a straight row. What's to be done with the Sultan's wives after we have done the Sultan?

Diplomacy.

Tommy had snined. The jam jar was empty. "Puss," said Tommy, "I see that you have arrived in time to save my life." Then with ham and cunning he smeared a small portion of the jam on the cat's face saying, "I'm sorry, but I can't let suspicion point at me—besides you've been blamed so often you probably won't mind this one time more."

Masculine Supremacy.

When I marry a maid in this city— (I'll do it if I get a chance!) I promise one thing that's a pity— I shall wear, most assuredly, the garments provided by nature to clothe and cover mankind, and I will rule my own house with the rod of authority never permitting the female, no matter how cunning and cunning she may be, to have any chance to wear—any of the clothes and appurtenances that serve as a badge or badges of authority. I thank you!

Cooked Stuff.

Employment Bureau Lady—This woman has the reputation of a good cook. Mrs. Richesse—Oh, that will be all right. I can trust my husband perfectly.

Question.

"Papa, do you think a new minister is any holier than an old one?" "I don't know—why?" "Well, the new ones are more particular about being called 'Reverend.'"

What's Good English?

"Let's cut the fire loss in half," says a forestry sharp. Agreed. But first of all let us put on the wise look by which we are known when we permit our scholastic ability free play. Now that we have our facial expression adjusted let us inquire—do we cut a thing in half or in two? We may cut it in halves, assuredly. Will some advanced highbrow dash quickly to our rescue?

Notice This.

"Prof. E. L. Rice, of Ohio Wesleyan university, spoke on 'The Chronocranium of the Blue-tailed Skink.'"—Harvard Bulletin. Well, for the love of the seven elementary deities, if the intelligent men of Ohio talk about things of that kind it is no wonder the Buckeyes have wars on their foreheads.

A Tiny Drop or Two.

Now that I come to think of it, I know a lovely song— Man needs but little here below, But likes that little strong!

Snickers at Royalty.

Says Nick to Conny, "My tobacco is all." Says Conny to Nick, "It is damn scarce in Gaul." The Sultan now has more trouble on his hands than he had when times were easier and wives were more plentiful.

Profound Idea.

On the highway of life, I tell you we must From the start to the end Take the rich man's dust!

Puritanical.

She—I have no use for anything but the legitimate drama. He—Oh, you always were too straight-laced in that matter of heredity.

Houses You Have Not.

Houses, like folks, have souls. There are big-souled houses which, only to enter, bless and sanctify our thoughts. Have you not entered, occasionally, a rather ordinary house which gave no promise of anything remarkable, and found that the atmosphere, or soul, began to permeate even the words you uttered?

"Clothes do not make the man," nor do furniture and surroundings make the house, though they help to crystallize the impression one gets of it, certainly. A well-furnished house, like a well-dressed man, may cover a multitude of sins, but be sure those sins will be found out. Some houses seem flimsy—as well as the people who live in them. Do you know houses like these—neither good nor bad, architecturally speaking, but rather nondescript? The rooms when entered, seem cluttered and small, and ten to one, the lady of the house is a tall Amazon whose long fingers point to the critical faculties.

Avoid such a house—and, look out for the Amazon! "Abandon hope all ye who enter here!" you know—E. S.

That's all right, E. S., but the house we like is the one by the side of the road. We have been there, and it's a wonderful place. And those who inhabit that house are quite wonderful, too. It is good to be a friend to man!

Country Surmises.

Ma Oldstyle—What's this here drum I be'n readin' about? Pa Oldstyle—I s'pose it's where 'th' dinked heads sit so tight they're all lit up.

Must Have Been a Slacker.

"Tessie would you accept me if I went down on my knees to you?" "No—not even if you went down on your hands and knees."

Mercy!

"It comes high," said Dessie Lightfoot, referring to the French silk stocking she was purchasing. "So I see, lady," returned the clerk, who was nothing if not obliging.

A NEW CONSTITUTION

By John A. Lapp, Bureau of Legislative Information

(Copyright, 1917, by John A. Lapp.)

Under the term "social justice" has come to be grouped a large number of measures for common welfare, such as workmen's compensation for accidents, shorter work days, protection of children, improved working conditions, minimum wages, old age insurance, sickness and unemployment insurance, health and housing.

A larger and growing part of our people have seen the necessity of such measures to protect all people from injustice and to distribute the burden of misfortune.

Men work long hours at confining labor; children are stunted by tedious work in their tender years; and women lose their vitality by working too long in unhealthy surroundings. If accident, sickness or unemployment come the burden falls upon the worker and on top of all, the wages paid may be insufficient to keep the worker in the necessities of life.

Conditions have improved somewhat. Labor of little children is prohibited, women's health is protected and safeguarded, and improved working conditions have been required for the safety and health of men. In times of prosperity we hear little complaint, but we know of the solemn dread which great numbers of people carry in their hearts that hard times, unemployment, sickness and accident may come and find them unprepared to meet them. Great masses of the population live on the verge of poverty. Very few are able to prepare for a competence in old age and must depend upon the care of relatives or friends or be a charge upon society.

What has been selfishly considered the individual's burden must be assumed by society through form of insurance which shall guarantee to each the protection and assistance of all. Life from beginning to end needs to be safeguarded and just as many of the calamities of life averted as justice, socialism, paternalism or whatever you please, it is the program which is essential to bulwark the foundation of society. Let us review it in detail.

1. Child Protection. We have begun to protect childhood, but only begun. We prohibit child slavery in industry—that is, we prohibit children under sixteen from working in certain industries—but we leave it to the children above sixteen to work in any kind of industry they choose. Vicious surroundings in industry soon undo all the good work of the schools. Youth are untrained to do the kind of work which they can do best, and they loaf, accept juvenile jobs, and become a part of the army of discontented misfits. The times require that society's care of children shall continue until they are safely established in the world's work.

2. Protection of Workers. There is no question any more about the necessity of enforcing health regulations in factories. Neither the employer nor employee may plead that it is their own business. The burden of it falls on society and the cause cannot be permitted. So also with accident prevention. No so-called rights of individuals, to do as they please, of individuals, to do as they please, can interfere with the broader rights of society. If conditions are unhealthy, machinery unsafe, hours too long, and work, particularly of women, unduly fatiguing, these matters must be corrected even though personal rights of employer or employee are invaded.

3. Insurance. We already have workmen's compensation for industrial accidents in a limited way. This was the most obvious need and the first attempted. But the system is voluntary. If the employer and employee agree to accept the terms of the law then in case of an injury the insured is paid to the employee. Only a small part of the workers are thus protected. The reason why the law was made voluntary was that a compulsory law, under which everyone would be included, would be unconstitutional. It would conflict with the right of the person to go into court to collect damages whenever his person, property or reputation is injured. If after drawing compensation under the law a man still had a right to sue his employer for more, it is plain that the whole thing fails.

Voluntary insurance laws of any kind are not sufficient because the very people who need insurance most are often excluded. To have compulsory workmen's compensation insurance, old age insurance, sickness and unemployment insurance, we must have the constitutional right to invade personal liberty sufficiently to compel the individuals, for their own good, to contribute to the insurance and share its benefits. The constitution does not establish any of these forms of insurance. It ought to be written so as to leave the people free to establish such form of compulsory insurance as they may desire.

4. Minimum Wages. There is a well settled belief among thinking people, that every form of industry must pay its own way. There should be sufficient profit in it to pay to the workers a wage at least high enough to provide for a decent living, or else the industry ought not to be permitted. It is perfectly plain that if the workers in an industry can not make a decent living that industry is a leech upon society. When a store pays less than a living wage to a girl clerk because the girl lives at home and gets the rest of her living from her parents, that store is a leech, not only upon society but also upon the girl's parents.

To meet the condition a number of states have passed a minimum wage law applying to women. These laws are administered by boards who fix a minimum wage in each industry. These boards do not fix the wage. They merely determine what is the minimum wage required for decent living and no woman may be employed at less than that wage. These laws have been held constitutional because of the greater need of safeguarding women and girls from exploitation. It is the general opinion that such laws would not be constitutional as to men because of the right of contract under which a man is supposed to be free to destroy his health, and his life if he wants to. Social justice demands that his foolish right be curtailed and that minimum wages be fixed.

5. Hours of Labor. The hours of child labor have been fixed in this and other states and no one doubts the necessity and justice of it. The hours of women's labor have been limited in many states and upheld by the courts because of the danger to society of permitting the women—the bearers of the race—to destroy their vitality from excess fatigue. Attempts to limit hours of men's labor have met the opposition again that man has the freedom to contract for as many or as few hours as he desires. It is held that man is his own keeper and it is nobody's business if he chooses to injure himself by excessive work. To subject all men, however, to the grueling effect of long hours is unequal and in the interests of society the individual is asked to forego his personal right of contract. The constitution grants him that right. There is a firm belief that it ought to be limited or taken away.

6. Health and Housing. Whenever the conduct of the individual imposes a danger upon others he may be controlled. No one may maintain a nuisance and endanger the health of his neighbors. Although a man's house is his castle it will not be protected against the rights of others. No one ever doubted the constitutional right to enter a man's house and compel the abatement of any danger to public health, but there are those who doubt the right to compel a man to clean up for his own benefit. And yet if an insanitary home results in disease, death and possible dependency, society certainly has a right to protect itself.

We meet the question of the invasion of personal rights and vested interests at every turn when correction of evils in health and housing is attempted. The rights of property are often held more sacred than the rights of life. We pass laws to say that buildings hereafter constructed must conform to sanitary requirements but we lack authority to interfere with the rights of property to say that existing buildings shall be ventilated properly and made sanitary.

The foregoing are illustrations of the many ways in which the constitution curbs the power of the people for social action. It was not intended to do so but phrases in the constitution which were meant to prevent wrongs have by the course of evolution become means of protecting wrongs and preventing rights. There were no such problems as workmen's compensation for industrial accidents in 1851 nor problems of housing or social insurance. These have come with the development of an industrial society.

The constitutional problem involved is simple. The people must be allowed to meet these new conditions with legislation enacted, altered and revised as the needs arise. Old theories of personal rights need to be revised when those personal rights become personal and public wrongs.

Questions for Investigation.

1. Why is compulsory insurance impossible under the present constitution?
2. Why is compulsory instead of voluntary insurance necessary to meet the conditions?
3. What are the arguments for and against old age insurance?
4. How far should personal rights be sacrificed for public rights?

No Selection for Service in New Army Until Local Boards Give Numbers to All on Rolls

(BY GILSON GARDNER.)

Giving a number to each man registered for the selective service army is to be the first job for the local selection boards.

As soon as these boards are properly organized they will make application and receive the registration cards belonging to their territory. They will then proceed to number the cards. The war department will be informed as to the numbers, but not as to the names opposite each number.

All the chances to eliminate will be worked out in Washington. The numbers chosen for duty—unless the board excuses—will be determined here. They may be put on marbles and rolled out of a big leather bottle. The exact method to be employed in this lottery has not been decided upon, but it will be sure to leave the first selections entirely to chance.

Enough numbers will be rolled out to allow for men not up to physical standards and men who must be excused for other reasons. The mails will be used to notify men of their selection. Letters will be sent to addresses which appear on the registration cards, while the names of those whose numbers come out of the bottle to appear before the registration board at a certain time and place to report further as to their qualifications for service.

The methods of the registration boards will be quite informal. The young man will be asked first if he wishes to serve or has any reason to ask exemption. If he desires exemption the examination will go on. He will be asked such questions as: How old is your dependent mother? Where does she live? Has she any property from which an income is derived? How long have you supported her? What other members of the family contribute to her support, and how much? What is your trade? How much do you earn? And so on.

In most cases this information will be a matter of common knowledge in the neighborhood. In little towns and in the country where everybody's business is known by everybody else, the answer to these questions may even be personally known to members of the board. In big cities the situation will be a little different. Examinations may have to run more deeply into facts. In some cases the boards may have to take steps to get independent information, or the government representatives may do the same.

About five days, it is believed, will be enough to get the information desired. After this will come the work of the special boards, one in each judicial district. These will pass on appealed cases.

Beginning within a few days the government will mail out forms which will be used in making claims for exemption or deferment. Affidavits which must be filled out by ministers of the gospel, judges, police, mayors and other public officers. Some dissatisfaction has been voiced with selections made for exemption attention.

boards. Nearly every member of congress has had an errand at the office of the secretary of war of this sort, but little attention is paid to these protests. The authorities here assume that any exemption officers are bound to make an satisfactory to some people. Their work is bound to be criticized. The policy of the department, therefore, is to accept the appointments of the governors and to tell the boards to go ahead regardless of kicks.

INCREASE IN INSANITY.

[Grand Rapids Press.]

A report by the national committee on mental hygiene that insanity in the United States has increased 24.64 per cent in seven years while the country's population has grown by but 11.80 per cent appears ominous on the surface. A survey of the facts, however, shows there is no cause for apprehension. The committee's statistics are based on the number of insane actually committed to institutions for their care, and as these places have grown rapidly in number and capacity during the period from 1910 to 1917, thereby permitting the care of many cases formerly kept in private homes, it may be seen that the increase in proportion to population is not so great after all.

As institutions for the insane improve, and they have been improving without doubt, they become less dreaded by the public and more mild cases are admitted. When these and other factors relative to the ever increasing efficiency for the care of those afflicted with mental diseases are considered the increase in cases does not appear so appalling as the face of the figures would have them appear.

Michigan is a state that has marched to the forefront in recent years in the matter of adequately handling its insane and feeble-minded. It is one of only nine states in the union that have adopted a comparatively new feature in the work, psychopathic hospitals for the temporary care of the insane. The expert attention that Michigan has given to this problem is beginning to produce results. The per cent of increase in the state's population from 1910 to 1917 was 2.41. The per cent of increase in the insane committed to institutions was but 19.12.

The state's high standing in this regard is revealed by comparison with other states, such as Indiana, where the growth in population was 4.64, and in insane, 27.44 per cent. Michigan is one of the few states where the difference between the increase in population and the number of insane has been 2 per cent or less. This speaks well for the state's enlightened attitude toward a problem that always has been complex and that yields only to the most constant and unselfish with selections made for exemption attention.

Time and patience are required in the solution of the question, but on the basis of recent advances it is safe to assume that it will not be many years before comparative statistics of population and insanity will be showing a disparity in favor of growth in population.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

Martha Bruick, 82 years old, widow of Moritz Bruick, is dead at her home in St. Joseph township.

Samuel L. Morris and family, of West Washington street, left today for Denver, Col., where the family will remain during the summer. Mr. Morris will return home in a few days.

Messrs. Martin Dettner, Harry Pickard and Ross McCulloch will attend the meeting of the League of American Wheelmen in Washington this week.

Bert Early, a young man about 21 years old, has evidently taken his own life, as he threatened to do in a letter written to his grandfather, Squire William Glenn, of Abbot township, with whom the boy made his home for years.

Miss Flick is cultivating some colored and white waterlilies that are remarkable for their beauty and fragrance. A cluster of these lilies were displayed in her show window today and were admired by a great many people.

The Congregationalists will break ground for their new church on the corner of Jefferson and Harrison streets Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The excavation will be commenced at once, and the work will be pushed until the new edifice is completed.

Will R. Emery, who presided over these columns six years ago, but now with the Lord & Thomas Advertising agency, Chicago, has recovered from the severe injuries received in an accident some months ago and is again able to attend to business. His arm was broken and his skull fractured in three places.

The approach to the Columbia street bridge is much too narrow on top and a good many people are concerned about the widening of it. Columbia street should be sixty-six feet wide on top at present. There is a great deal of travel over this route now by the people of Lakeside and those going to the Catholic cemetery.

Robert Ellis, a carpenter residing at 110 Gay street, died at an early hour this morning from injuries received while working in the shop of S. F. Bowser & Co. While working about a circular saw last Saturday a heavy plank which he was handling flew from its bearing and struck Mr. Ellis in the abdomen. By strange and what has proven to be a fatal coincidence, this was the second accident of the kind that happened at the same saw within twenty-six hours. A. P. Jackson, another employee, having had a close call only the day previous.

GENTRY BROS.' ZOOLAND HAS BASEBALL TEAM OF ELEPHANTS

Nowhere but in the arena of Gentry Brothers' shows, coming to Fort Wayne on Monday, July 16, to exhibit at South Calhoun and Packard avenue, will one find elephants, camels, dromedaries, horses, ponies, monkeys and dogs working together in big mixed animal acts.

And between the pachyderms and the beautiful Gentry collie dogs there is a firm and touching friendship. When the biggest elephant in the herd sinks to its knees over the reclining figure of the smallest collie, apparently crushing the dog flatter than the proverbial pancake, the canine's tail can be seen wagging its cheerful confidence in the big brother performer. All of the Gentry animals are versatile. The elephants play baseball, serenade on band instruments and engage in a wide range of acrobatics and drills. One of the pachyderms plays two instruments at once in the elephant band—the alto horn and the bass drum. How? Easy. The drum stick used is the product of another nature. It is the elephant's tail. This is the "jumbo" that pitches on the Gentry zooland nine, an aggregation of the heaviest hitters in the world.

TREASONABLE ACTS AT FLAG RAISING

Those Who Shouted for Kaiser and Threatened United States Flag May Be Prosecuted.

Decatur, Ind., July 10.—Word from Honduras is to the effect that the flag-raising ceremony there on Saturday night was attended by considerable excitement. It is stated on good authority that a party of German sympathizers, inflamed by liquor, tried to make things unpleasant for the citizens taking part in the ceremony. Cheers for the Kaiser, threats to tear down the flag and German yodels, sung while the speaking was in progress, were among the treasonable diversions divulged. As far as learned here there was no actual clash. It is said that the matter has been reported to the federal authorities and that the loyal citizens of the community, who are greatly in the majority, are determined that the men guilty of the performance on Saturday night shall be severely dealt with.

ROMAN STRIPES NEWEST NOTE IN SWEATER FAD.

Roman stripes have entered the sweater arena. They are much newer than the plaids or the checkered effects. It is proper to have them in connection with the slipover sweater of silk or of shetland wool, and these may be minus those features heretofore thought absolutely essential to outting garments.

Not a few of the most recent models seen are braided in soutache, and there are others that show a stencilled design which is frequently outlined in silk embroidery.

Such models are ordinarily accompanied by a self sash, and this may be tied at the back toward one side or directly in front, to suit the individual fancy.

The basque sweater is a comparatively new item. One thing about it that recommends itself is the fact that it adjusts itself most agreeably to almost any type of figure. There are also fish-tail sweaters which are decidedly novel. These come in silk and in wool.

How to Be Red Cross Nurse

As a Volunteer Nurse's Aide the Average May Serve at the Front.

JANE A. DELANO, CHAIRMAN, NATIONAL COMMITTEE ON NURSING AMERICAN RED CROSS, AND SCENE AT THE FRONT.

The only way which any woman but a professional trained nurse can go to the front is as a volunteer nurse's aide. Thousands of women have offered themselves in this capacity to the American Red Cross. Some have done it with the eager expectancy, now three years out-of-date, in Europe, that service in a war hospital is both the most picturesque and most important part of women's war sacrifice.

All war work is important, and the most strenuous relief work at the front is no more important toward winning the war than steadfast grinding in the smallest town back home. The Red Cross chain is as strong as its weakest link. The volunteer nurse's aide is far less the dramatic ministering angel of the patriotic maiden's dreams, than a maid-of-all-work in the hospital, buoyed for all her tasks by the knowledge that every unskilled chore she does leaves her superior, the Red Cross nurse, more free to render skilled professional service.

Six months ago Miss Jane Delano, national chairman of the committee on Red Cross nursing, laid out a practical plan for making use of volunteer service to relieve the nursing staffs of Red Cross hospitals of all but their professional duties. To the volunteers would be delegated supervision of the general housework of the hospitals, Miss preparation of food in the diet kitchens, care of the supply and linen rooms.

The primary qualifications for such volunteer work is health and a capacity for hard orderly work. Volunteers must be between 25 and 40 years old. Miss Delano further designated that no volunteer should be accepted who had not been registered in and passed the Red Cross course in elementary hygiene and home care of the sick, given at Red Cross centers throughout the country.

If the candidate for service as a volunteer nurse's aide without pay had had further training in home dietetics and the preparation of surgical dressings, well and good.

From lists of volunteers all of whom have had the simple Red Cross course, and all of whom have health certificates, it has been possible to select a number of applicants and give them short opportunities for practical experience in certain local hospitals.

From the moment the applicant offers herself, the various Red Cross authorities make note of any special aptitudes she may have for hospital service either in wards, supply stations, linen rooms or diet kitchens. The gifted cook, the swift seamstress, the woman who moves quietly and swiftly on her hospital errands, is of potential value to the country in winning the war.

Miss Delano's files catalogue thousands of willing laywomen who have fulfilled qualifications. When a hospital unit has been formed and is designed for work at some hospital, Miss Delano makes her selection. She is prepared to supplement every Red Cross staff with a competent group of volunteer nurses' aides. The woman who wants to serve as such next year or the year after should apply to her local Red Cross chapter at once.

FRANK DRY GOODS COMPANY

114 West Berry

730 Calhoun St.

Hengster, Clay Crab, Emma Vogel, Loretta Patterson and Pearl Miller, of Plymouth.

Friends among the young people of this city and also of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Pixley and Miss Louise Pixley are interested in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Nathalie Roquemore, of Jacksonville, Fla., to Dr. Samuel Oliver Burdette, of Washington, D. C. Miss Roquemore spent a year in Fort Wayne, a guest at the Pixley home, and only returned south a few months since. She has known Dr. Burdette for several years. The wedding will take place this fall.

A happy surprise party was given on Saturday evening at her home, 2310 Anthony boulevard, in celebration of her natal anniversary. Music and games were the pastime until a late hour, when a lunch was daintily served. There were present Misses Alen Wolf, Florence Maines, Grace Frey, Loretta Richard, Eva Blosser, Vera Ames, Blanche and Gladys Westerman and Harvey Maines, Walter Haller, William Schneider, Albert Trautman, Clifford Brockmeyer, Harry Neff, Oscar Deahl, Ervin Tegmeyer and Frank Halder.

Weber-Pierre.

A lovely bride was Miss Hilda Elizabeth Pierre, whose marriage to Mr. John Stephen Weber took place on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. Rev. John R. Quinlan celebrated the nuptial mass. The church was prettily decorated with palms, ferns and baskets of daisies. The bride wore a pretty costume of white lajertz that was handsomely embroidered in white and gold and a leghorn hat faced in flesh color chiffon and trimmed with white faille ribbon and pink flowers. The bride carried a bouquet of bride roses and swansonia. Miss Miss Staub was bridesmaid, and the groom's brother, Mr. Leo Weber, was groomsmen. Miss Staub wore a beautiful gown of yellow georgette crepe embroidered in blue with leghorn hat trimmed with pearl bands and black velvet ribbon, while a beautiful bouquet of pink Killarney roses and pink sweetpeas made a charming contrast to her gown. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pierre, 1004 Washington boulevard west, to the immediate relatives only. The house was very attractive with many garden flowers for its decoration such as daisies, roses and Canterbury bells. The bride's table was kept in green and white coloring, roses and feathery ferns, furnishing its decoration. Later in the day the bride and groom left on an eastern trip, not naming their route of travel. After the first of September Mr. and Mrs. Weber will be at home in a Home avenue residence, but until that time will be with the bride's parents. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weber and he is in business with his father in real estate, loans and insurance. Both bride and groom are admired and esteemed by friends in circles of their own age and among those of their parents. Guests from away who were present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Larimore, of Toledo, and Mr. Edward Pierre, of Detroit.

grin and Nevins' "Water Lily" during the service.

The bride wore a gown of exquisite Philippine hand embroidery and her mother's wedding veil. The going-away gown was blue silk poplin with hat to match.

Mr. H. T. Hartman, of Philadelphia; Miss F. T. Hartman, of Albany, N. Y.; Mrs. H. C. Hartman and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hartman, of New Haven, Ind.; Rev. and Mrs. James Laird, of Caledonia, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ross, Rochester, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. R. Burns, of Inlay City, Mich., were the relatives present, together with a few friends who graduated in the class of 1917 with the bride.

After September 1st the young couple will be at home in Ann Arbor, corner of Ravina boulevard and West Huron street. No cards.

Hettler Family Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Hettler family will be held in Swinney park on July 29. It was inadvertently stated in Monday's paper that the reunion had already been held and some confusion arose among members of the family as a result. About one hundred people are expected to attend and a big dinner is to be a feature of the day. Officers of the family society are Albert Hettler, president; Christ Marhenke, vice president; Mary Crouse, secretary, and Frank Schaefer, treasurer. A committee on refreshments consists of Mrs. William Schaefer, Mrs. Catherine Crouse, Mrs. Clara Hartman. Another committee is on entertainment and the members are Joe Hartman, Gus Walter, Miss Esther Stahl, Mrs. Rose Marhenke and Miss Mary Wyatt.

POWDERED ORIS ROOT MAKES BATH FRAGRANT.

Every one knows the comfortable feeling which results from a hot bath after a hard day's work. That feeling is enhanced when the bath is made fragrant by the addition of a mustard bag of powdered oris root, about a tablespoonful in a bag, and a desert-spoonful of tincture of benzoin, which is a balsam.

The aromatic and perfumed atmosphere that reigns in your bathroom as the result of this herb and spice mixture is delicious, soothing and mildly stimulating.

FLYING STICK CAUSES DEATH OF ARCOLA MAN

Cyrus McCoy Killed by Wood Hurling from Revolving Saw.

Cyrus McCoy, of Arcola, was almost instantly killed Monday afternoon when a stick of wood, an inch square and four feet long, was hurled from by an idling saw, struck him in the groin, severing an artery.

The accident occurred at the mill of Gandy Brothers, Arcola, where McCoy was employed as a bearer-off. McCoy had just lifted a plank from the log on the machine. The saw was revolving at high speed. Another member of the crew was using the stick to clean sawdust from the machine. The stick caught in the teeth of the saw, and after whirling around several times, flew off and struck McCoy at the far end of the saw. A blood vessel was shattered, and the man died before the flow of blood could be stopped. The left femoral artery was twisted around the end of the stick.

McCoy was born in Whitley county. He had made his home near Coscoe for several years, but was boarding at Arcola, while working at the Gandy mill. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. H. Ecker, of Arcola, and four children, Mrs. Clarence Thomas, Mrs. E. Manier and Ralph McCoy, of Fort Wayne, and Miss Mabel McCoy, of Columbia City.

The body was brought to the undertaking parlors of Klahn & Melching, after an investigation by Coroner J. E. McArdle.

DAISY AGEE, THE RINGLING CIRCUS BABY, AND SOME OF HER MENAGERIE PLAYMATES

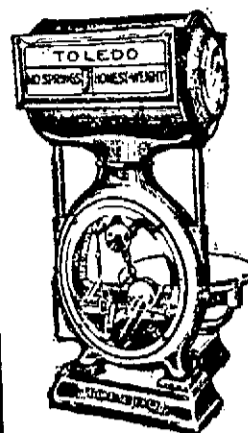

"They wouldn't hurt a flea." That is the verdict of little Daisy Agee regarding the trio of tiger cubs which she daily fondles with all the joy of the mistress of a family of dolls. The spotted pets belong to Judy, jungle queen of the Ringling Brothers' circus menagerie. Daisy belongs to Mrs. John Agee, wife of the equestrian director of the big show. The mothers, for reasons that may well be imagined, have merely a nodding acquaintance. Mrs. Agee frequently pauses to pay her respects at Mrs. Judy's barred apartment, but she has never been inside.

Daisy has named her playmates. She calls them "Winkin, Blinkin and Nod." When she strokes their backs they purr like kittens. Sometimes Daisy tries to make the trio sit up in chairs just as her teddy bears do. But the cubs are much more content when sprawled out on the floor. Of course there will come a time when Mrs. Agee will forbid Daisy from further associating with Mrs. Judy's youngsters. But just now they play together for hours at a time. The tiger kittens were born in captivity and this will have a tendency to make them less ferocious than their parents when they grow up. And wise men maintain that the influence of little Daisy Agee will have its effect too.

There are many baby animals with the Ringling circus this season and more than a thousand grown ones. Included are a number of trained dumb actors, such as polar and black bears that skate, dance or ride bicycles; monkeys and dogs that play upon musical instruments and ride bareback and whole companies of prancing Shetland ponies in war drills. Of course there are elephants, two score of them. The cabaret scenes are among the many novelties introduced by these ponderous actors this season. Three complete herds will enter the rings immediately after the curtain has fallen on the last scene of the fairland spectacle, "Cinderella," when the circus comes here next Thursday.

IMPROVED CONDITION BRINGS HIGH PRAISE FOR IRONATED HERBS WITH PEPsin.

People in nearly every line of business are daily praising Ironated Herbs with Pepsin and telling of the great benefit which they have derived from its use. Among those who have made statements in regard to the new preparation is R. L. Brickley, proprietor and manager of the Dookey Hotel, Anderson, Ind. Mr. Brickley said:

"Ironated Herbs with Pepsin means a great deal for me, for I really believe this new medicine has kept me from being a real sick man. Before I began taking Ironated Herbs I suffered with severe stomach trouble. In fact, I was all rundown and very weak. I hardly felt that I had strength enough to tend to my business at times. My appetite was poor and my food did not seem to give me the proper nourishment. I did not sleep well and when I got up in the morning, I felt just as tired as if I had not been in bed at all."

"I heard about Ironated Herbs through a friend of mine who had taken it for a similar trouble and obtained fine results. Taking my friend's advice, I bought a bottle of Ironated Herbs with Pepsin and began taking it. Now I feel like a new man. My appetite has improved and I seem to have new strength and energy. I sleep like a log every night and get up feeling fresh and ready for a good day's work. I can surely recommend Ironated Herbs to anyone who is suffering as I was and I will be glad to tell everyone who asks me, what a great remedy it is."

Ironated Herbs with Pepsin (liquid form), that did so much to improve the health of Mr. Brickley, is daily bringing new strength and vigor to nervous, rundown men and women. The organic iron which it contains, puts good red blood in the veins, bringing strength and vitality, the pepsin aids digestion and the herbs tone up the liver.

RULE GOES INTO EFFECT

Bakers Will Not Take Back Stale Bread After Tuesday.

THIS APPLIES ALL OVER THE STATE

Elimination of This Waste Will Result in a Tremendous Saving.

Bakers of Fort Wayne and surrounding towns in common with those of the rest of the United States are preparing to take the first important step requested of them by Herbert C. Hoover in his campaign to conserve the food resources of the United States and on Tuesday they will discontinue the practice of taking back unsold bread from the retailer. Grocers will buy their bread as they buy everything else on their shelves and will sell it as merchandise and not as something taken on approval.

"I am sure the bakers of this district are patriotic and appreciate the need of co-operation with the government," says J. B. Franke, local chairman, acting under appointment of the war emergency committee of the baking industry. "I am convinced that the change will be for the best interests of all concerned and I am anxious that the consuming public shall understand that this is a patriotic service we are rendering the government as a part of the necessary war program."

Mr. Franke has received word from Cincinnati, Omaha and other cities where the reform was instituted several weeks ago and in each instance the change has been made without trouble and without loss to the baker or the grocer. In some instances increases are reported, due to a new tendency of housewives to buy instead of bake their bread.

It is estimated by baking authorities that the elimination of this waste will result in the saving of from $12,000,000 to $20,000,000 a year. Mr. Hoover recently made the statement that the bakers were moving more rapidly than any other industry to comply with the requests made of them. Their co-operation, he says, makes it extremely unlikely that it will be necessary to bake the grey or so-called "war bread," which is being eaten in Europe.

DENIES THAT NEW BOND ISSUE WILL COME SEPTEMBER

Washington, July 10.—Published reports setting September 15 as the date of the next liberty loan and the amount at $2,000,000,000 drew a formal denial today from Secretary McAdoo.

JULY 19 IS DATE OF SOLDIERS' PICNIC

Thursday, July 19, has been selected as the date for the picnic to be held by the comrades of Lawton-Wayne post, Grand Army of the Republic, at Swinney park. A meeting of the committee was held Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of making final arrangements. Members of Sion S. Bass post, W. R. C. and Stirk circle of the G. A. R., will be guests of Lawton-Wayne post.

MAKE IMPROVEMENTS.

School Board Decides Upon Changes at Meeting Monday.

At the meeting of the school board held Monday afternoon several improvements and changes were decided upon for school property. Bids for fitting out the gymnasiums of the Clay and Hamilton schools were considered and the contract awarded to the Jacob Willig company of Chicago.

Property on the east side of the Lakeside school will be improved and the normal school moved there, and the Hazard school will be converted into a library branch. Because of the closing of the school year no more bills will be considered or received until September. Little money has been spent in helping needy students this year, the amount being $73, as compared to $400 last year.

CLEAR MAIDEN LANE.

Chief Lenz has given the order that automobiles must not be parked in Maiden Lane. He points out that the short street is very narrow and that in case of fire it would be impossible to speed apparatus through the street if the way is choked by standing automobiles.

EDUCATORS IN SESSION.

Portland, Ore., July 10.—Conference on extension education and educational associations and numerous departmental meetings were on the morning schedule of the National Education association convention today.

TOLD WIFE LORD WOULD GIVE HIM BEST CHAIR

If He Would Kill Her, Mrs.

Henry Waltke Alleges in Divorce Complaint.

Telling his wife that the Lord would give him the best chair in heaven if he killed her, Grace A. Waltke says that Henry A. Waltke frequently had threatened her life, in a complaint for divorce filed in the superior court Tuesday.

Mrs. Waltke sets forth that on three different occasions she has left him, but each time Waltke has promised to do better and she would return to give him another chance. But there was no living with him, she alleges. He was cruel and inhuman and failed to support her, necessitating her having to sew and clean house in order to clothe herself and two children, Kenneth, 10 years old, and Elwood, 5 years old.

She asks the custody of the two children and a restraining order enjoining the General Electric company from paying her husband his wages until disposition has been made of the suit and also to enjoin him from interfering with her. Mr. and Mrs. Waltke were married July 9, 1907, and separated July 8, 1917.

MARRIED FORTY-FOUR YEARS.

Lizzie Boone Now Files Suit for Divorce.

After forty-four years of married life, Lizzie C. Boone has filed suit in the superior court asking for a divorce from John S. Boone. Mr. and Mrs. Boone were united in wedlock on November 25, 1873. Mrs. Boone is represented by Attorney Stephen A. Callahan.

The plaintiff sets forth in her complaint that she and the defendant are the joint owners of a forty-acre farm in Wayne township, Allen county, and by reason of his failure and refusal to properly care for the horses and cattle a number have died and the property has greatly depreciated in value. She alleges that her husband would often curse and abuse her, and for the past few years has urged her to seek a divorce.

Mrs. Boone in addition to a decree for divorce is asking for $3,000 alimony and a restraining order enjoining her husband from selling the personal property belonging to himself and the plaintiff, and from molesting or interfering with her in any way, as she fears he may do her bodily harm.

SUED FOR DIVORCE.

Commodore Keck, of Cedarville, Faces More Trouble.

For the second time Mrs. Bertha Keck has filed a complaint for divorce from Commodore Keck, whom she charges with cruel treatment. She sets forth that once before she filed a complaint, but later withdrew it upon the entreaty of the defendant and his faithful promise of doing better in the future. She says, however, that he has failed to keep his promise. Mrs. Keck charges her husband with being an habitual drunkard and while under the influence of liquor his treatment of her is almost unbearable. Mr. and Mrs. Keck were married November 20, 1912, and have two children, whose custody the wife asks. The plaintiff is represented by Ryan, Ryan & Aldrich. Commodore Keck was arrested Monday afternoon for assaulting members of his family. The Keck live at Cedarville.

DREAM LASTED FORTY DAYS.

Anna Reed Says Her Husband Was Cruel to Her.

Mrs. Anna Reed's dream of a cozy home built for two and extreme happiness lasted just forty days. She has brought suit for a divorce from Bert Reed to whom she was married on May 30, 1917. They separated July 9, 1917.

Mrs. Reed charges her husband with extreme cruelty in that he frequently would call her bad names, failed to support, compelling her to work, and had threatened to do her bodily injury. She also charges him with the excessive use of intoxicating liquor. The court is asked to enjoin him from molesting her or in any way interfering with her. She is represented by Emrick & Emrick.

FAILED TO PROVIDE.

Ethel Rowe Brings Suit for Divorce From Leander Rowe.

Charging her husband with failure to provide, Ethel Rowe has brought suit in the superior court asking for a divorce from Leander Rowe through her attorneys, Hartzell & Todd. They were married June 13, 1910, and separated October 24, 1916. Mrs. Rowe lives at 216 West Main street.

Mrs. Rowe alleges that her husband failed to provide a home for her and the necessities of life. She also charges that he is addicted to the drink habit and while in an intoxicated condition has frequently struck and beat her, calling her vile and improper names, also accusing her of being unfaithful. She asks that her maiden name of Ethel Burg be restored.

MORE CRUELTY.

Laura Oser Says She Can No Longer Live With Her Husband.

Because her husband persisted in cursing and abusing her without provocation, Laura Oser has filed suit in the superior court asking for a divorce from John Oser, to whom she was married on July 13, 1911. She alleges that her husband had ordered her to leave, at the same time declaring that he no longer wanted to live with her. They have two children.

CHANCELLOR VON HOLLWEG HAS NO TERMS OF PEACE

Berne, Switzerland, July 10.—According to Berlin newspapers the German chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, said to members of the reichstag:

"I repeat that the formula of peace without annexations is unacceptable to us. We cannot declare our terms of peace. We must fight and conquer."

Oser is a clerk in a local grocery store. Mrs. Oser is represented by Ryan, Ryan & Aldrich.

He Refuses to Pay Rent When His Saloon Is Closed.

Suit for $125, alleged to be due for rent, was filed Tuesday in the circuit court by Catherine McKiernan, Theresa Kallbacher and Leonore Kallbacher against the Puckeye Brewing company. The plaintiffs are represented by Somers & Kenner.

The suit is for one month's rent for the building occupied by "Sammy" Koehler, who was recently convicted in circuit court for criminal assault on a little girl. When Koehler was put out of the saloon business the Puckeye Brewing company, who held the lease, refused to pay further rent on the building.

Must Show Cause. A citation was issued in superior court Tuesday morning on petition of Lulu Taylor against Alvin Taylor, who must show cause why he has not turned over to Mrs. Taylor the custody of their two children and pay to her $9 a week as ordered in the decree for divorce granted by the court.

Will Arise Motion Later. Because Robert B. Drebelbliss, one of the attorneys in the case, has had some teeth removed, arguments for new trial which were to have been made Tuesday in superior court in the case brought by Floyd M. Worman against William J. Steckbeck were postponed. Worman was recently awarded damages in the sum of $175 for injuries alleged to have been sustained when he was hit by Steckbeck's automobile on the Decatur road some time ago.

Suit on a Note.

Clifton H. Lines, doing business under the name of the Chalmers Sales company, has brought suit against Henry F. Schwartz and Richard G. Weller for $275, alleged to be due on a note long past due.

Notes of the Courts.

William Ringenberg has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late Mary Ringenberg. He gave bond in the sum of $2,000.

Wilbur Gandy has brought suit against Samuel Hieber for foreclosure of a mechanic's lien to satisfy a claim of $530. Gandy is represented by Attorney Frank M. Hogan.

Judge Carl Yapple in superior court Monday evening granted a decree for divorce to Hannah Delaney from John Delaney.

Art Lamonty, deputy county clerk, has returned from a short vacation at Barbours lake and Pleasant lake, Mich.

Marriage Licenses.

Jesse Oliver Carter, moving picture operator, to Alice Belle Bodey.

George Louis Miller, plasterer, to Grace Iona Weaver.

James Howard Stewart, to Lillian May Baker.

St. Stephen Weber, accountant, to Hilda E. Pierre.

Carol M. Tinsley, merchant, to Hazel L. Crawford.

GREAT DAMAGE BY HAIL.

Shelbyville, Ind., July 10.—A hail storm which lasted for thirty minutes, destroyed a stretch of corn two miles long and one mile wide in the southern part of this (Shelby) county, late last night, according to reports reaching here this morning. Fruit was also damaged and wheat suffered some. The hail stones were said to be as large as hen eggs. The damage will total close to $100,000, according to reports received here.

SENTENCE TIME POSTPONED.

Indianapolis, July 10.—Sentence of Samuel V. Perrott, former chief of police of Indianapolis; Herman Adams, city sealer of weights and measures, and four other police officers, recently convicted in federal court of election conspiracy, was postponed today until July 30. Perrott, Adams and the police officers convicted, resigned their positions last Saturday.

BAR SILVER BOOMS.

New York, July 10.—Bar silver was quoted at 75 1/2 c an ounce in the local market today, the highest price since the beginning of the war. The advance was almost wholly attributed to the increased foreign demand for the metal, silver having been substituted for gold by most of the European countries.

MARRIED AT HILSDALE.

Hillsdale, Mich., July 10.—Ross Lee and Miss Helen V. Bridge, both of Fort Wayne, were married at the Presbyterian manse by Rev. J. W. Will. Rev. Will also united in marriage Steven D. McKinley and Miss Stella T. Burlingame, both of Hillsdale, O.

UNFILED STEEL TONNAGE.

New York, July 10.—The unfiled tonnage of the United States steel corporation on June 30, 1917, was 11,233,287 tons, a decrease of 563,304 tons, compared with figures for May 31, according to the monthly report issued today.

MAY MODIFY FOOD BILL

New Effort Made to Whip Measure in Shape to Gain Support.

GOVE AMENDMENTS CURTAIL ITS SCOPE

Suspicion is Voiced That Men in Advisory Work Are Greedy.

Washington, July 10.—In an effort to modify the food bill to meet various objections, the agriculture committee was called together today. Chairman Gore prepared amendments limiting government control to food, stuffs and fuel, eliminating iron, steel, copper, cotton and many other products.

Senator Smith, of South Carolina, said the bill should be amended to limit government control to food-stuffs alone.

Senator Owen declared oil drilling had stopped because of high steel prices, adding: "Unless the government puts its hand on unrestrained greed, this country cannot go on to a successful conclusion of the war."

Senator Kenyon suggested that Chairman Gary and President Farrell, of the steel corporation, are on the advisory commission of the council of national defense and "ought to be able to remedy the matter."

Senator Owen replied that "some element of doubt exists" regarding the personal interest of men in advisory capacities whose interests are opposed to the government.

No Agreement Reached. Increased difficulties today beset the administration food control bill with its drastic prohibition features.

Convinced that the bill is "loaded down" and that the liquor provision for government purchase of all distilled spirits is unconstitutional and either must be amended or stricken out, senate leaders held conferences while the debate proceeded on the floor, in an effort to devise amendments to pave the way for final passage of the bill.

The democratic steering committee met before the senate convened, but was unable to reach an agreement and definite action was deferred. Senators said the situation among the steering committee members was as chaotic as that in the senate.

Too Sweeping, Says Lodge. Senator Lodge, acting republican leader, made a long speech in the senate criticizing the sweeping scope of the bill as impractical to business.

He regretted involving the closure rule. He spoke in commendation of Herbert C. Hoover's work in Belgium, but declared that the running of the business of this country was an entirely different matter and beyond the power of any one man.

Sensors from wheat producing states and the great centers of wheat distribution, the Massachusetts senator declared, had told him that the mere threat of this bill had for the moment destroyed the wheat market and disarranged the great machinery of distribution.

"I told them," he added, "that a proposition has already been made to fix the price of sugar which would make it impossible for the beet sugar manufacturers to make any profit."

KAISERIST JIM MANN ONCE MORE ESSAYS SERVICE

Washington, D. C., July 10.—Republican Leader Mann declared in the house today that hysteria and "any crazy" possess the administration. He was speaking in opposition to a section of the trading with enemy bill designed to permit the president to designate alien enemies. "The department have gone crazy," he said, "they see a German spy on every house top and street corner. We have to carry on this war, but that is no reason why we should be scared to death."

Mr. Mann's remarks were received in silence by the house. Fort Wayne friends have been advised of the recent birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Griffin, of Cleveland, formerly of this city. Mrs. Griffin will be remembered as Miss Alice James.

WANT COOKS AND BAKERS

Army Must Have Food Artists for the New Outfits.

NON-COMBATANT JOBS ARE OFFERED TO MEN

Twenty-Five Recruits Sent from Here in Twenty-Four Hours.

Telegrams are still pouring into the local recruiting station asking that every effort be made to enlist cooks and bakers. Men with experience in either of these lines are preferred but those who wish to serve the army in some non-combatant branch will be taught the food preparing trades.

Five hundred cooks and seventeen hundred bakers will be necessary right away in order to feed the new troops. This is the shortage in the culinary branch of the service. The pay for cooks and bakers is $30 a month to start with and all necessities are furnished. Promotion will be rapid and with it an increase in pay.

Within the last twenty-four hours twenty-five men have been sent to Fort Thomas, Ky., from the local station. Twenty-one of them went Monday night and four Tuesday morning. Recruiting never goes on in earnest in the station before now.

Signal Corps Drills. Company K, Indian signal corps, will hold its regular weekly drill Tuesday evening with Capt. L. O. Knowlton in command. Following the drill an examination will be given for the members who wish promotions.

Mobilization orders for Company B will probably come on Aug. 5, when the state guard is mobilized, although there is a possibility of their coming sooner. It is expected that after mobilization at the local headquarters the company will be in the city a week or ten days, during which time the members will be on duty from 7 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night. The time will be spent in drilling, instruction and final preparations for going into training camp.

Required to Register. The necessity of members of the national guard having to register after it was stated by the adjutant general that they would not have to have caused no end of confusion and trouble. But few members of Battery B have registered.

Only one new recruit was secured for Battery B Monday. Michael Wambsguth, 111 1/2 Grand street, was accepted. One other applicant was rejected because of physical disability.

A strenuous effort is being made to bring Battery B up to war strength without the necessity of using any of the men that will be drafted into the service.

Nearly every member of the battery, attended the drill practice Monday evening in charge of Lieutenant Lee Hensley. The greater part of the evening was spent in foot movements and instruction in semaphore signaling. Arrangements have been made to secure uniforms for the men before their departure, which is expected sometime next week. Pending the arrival of the uniforms the men are wearing neat arm bands of artillery red, with a white letter "B" on them. The battery is indebted for them to the Steele-Johns company, which furnished the goods and the ladies of the Red Cross, who kindly made them.

Dr. Gilpin Commissioned. Dr. J. H. Gilpin, secretary of the city board of health, has received a commission as captain in the army medical reserve corps. He took the examination for the position five years ago. He expects to be called out when the new national army is mobilized.

Came From Georgia. Michael W. Rumble, 1911 Hicks street, Atlanta, Ga., was visiting in Fort Wayne, Monday, when he decided that he was needed in the navy again. Rumble had served four years as a second class seaman. He re-enlisted under Chief Petty Officer Wort as a ship fitter and is now in Indianapolis, from which point he will be sent east.

FORT WAYNE IS CENTRAL STATION

Chairman E. C. Miller, of the Fort Wayne chapter of the Red Cross has been notified that Fort Wayne has been named as the central station for northern Indiana for the distribution and inspection of hospital supplies for the Red Cross. All material from the surrounding chapters will be sent in here, inspected, and then forwarded to various points where it is needed. A separate committee and chairman will probably be named to take charge of the inspection and distribution of the hospital supplies at the local headquarters.

JOE TINKER A SPITTER.

Chicago, July 10.—Joe Tinker, manager of the Columbus club of the American association, today was fined $100 by President Hickey for spitting in Empire Knapp's face during an argument in a game at Columbus last Thursday. Pitcher Mordecai Brown, who also participated in the demonstration against the umpire, was fined $10.

SHOP LEAGUE MEETING.

Frank O'Brien, president of the Fort Wayne Industrial Baseball league, has called a meeting of managers to be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

SOAP BATH IS BAD FOR PARASITE BUGS

Best Way of Removing Aphids Which Have Attacked City Gardens.

Aphids are the "Weary Willies" of the bug kingdom. They tell not neither do they like a soap bath. They gain their livelihood by lazily clinging to a growing plant and drawing the substance out of the vegetable.

A large per cent of Fort Wayne gardens have been attacked by the "hobo" hosts of aphids. Thousands of potato plants have already been destroyed by the insects, which are grayish-green in color and about a sixteenth of an inch long. They cling to the under side of vegetable leaves.

The remedy is a soap bath. The soapy water must come in contact with the insect. One-half pound of laundry soap to a gallon of water forms an effective mixture. Two persons should do the spraying for eradicating the pests. One citizen should hold back the plants while another works the spraying apparatus. The drizzling job should be a thorough one. Careless spraying is worse than no effort at all, declares F. W. Gray, food expert.

Old fashioned and many colored potato bugs are the next worst enemy of the city food forces. They are to be attacked by spraying and by removing them from the vines. The "rose chaffer" bugs have nearly all been destroyed by personal efforts of Gray and Mike Costello, aiding in the food relief work.

Food Superintendent Gray urges that citizens keep in touch with the food relief headquarters. Every help possible will be given those who seek assistance with their gardens. Advice will be gladly given by those who have made a careful study of the garden culture.

F. W. Gray believes that the government estimate, expressed in a recent bulletin, on the number of food gardens in Fort Wayne is a bit over enthusiastic. He does not think this city has 15,000 gardens within its borders. Gray is making a careful survey of the city and may be able to give the exact number of gardens later. The figures will fall under 15,000, he states. He was also employed at Indianapolis earlier in the season and he doubts if there are quite 40,000 gardens in that city. Fort Wayne no doubt ranks second or third in the number of gardens for Indiana cities, Gray says.

RICH AND GREAT SLING HASH AS WAITERS STRIKE

Boston, July 10.—Former Governor David I. Walsh, August Hermann, chairman of the National Base Ball commission, and Elks from all parts of the country today served as voluntary "strike breakers" in leading hotels of Boston, where dining room service has been virtually suspended by a strike of waiters. They similarly returned thanks for tips dropped into mite boxes for fresh air funds. The waiters in twelve hotels quit work last night to enforce demands for one day off in seven without loss of pay. Coming at the time of the Elks' convention, hotel managers were wholly unprepared and called in bell boys and women to meet the rush.

Learn Some French Today SIXTH LESSON PREPARED BY MME. ARCHINARD

I want to go to the American Hospital. Je vais à l'hôpital Américain. Juh vay a lopeetál Amareekan

What tram must I take? Quel tramway dois-je prendre? Kell trâmway dwa-ju pran-dr

Where must I get off? Où devrai-je descendre? Oo duhvray-ju dasan-dr

Where is the information bureau? Où est le bureau des renseignements? Oo ay luh hô-roh day ran-say-n-man

In these lessons the English sentence appears in the first line, the French equivalent in the second and the pronunciation in the third line. In the pronunciation key, straight lines over the letters A and U denote the long sound, as in "hâte" and "dûce"; curved lines over these letters denote the short sound, as in "hât" and "dûc"; two dots over the U indicate a sound somewhat like the German "ue," which Americans may approach by pronouncing long U and long E at the same time. Cut out these lessons and paste them in your note book. The purpose here is merely to give the young men who may serve with the army in France such a knowledge of French as will make simple wants known and some sort of friendly intercourse with French people and soldiers possible. No attempt is made to teach the grammar of the language.

Damp Weather Puts Crimp in Game With Grand Rapids

Quit in Fifth Inning With Score Tied at One Run Apiece.

It was most unkind of the rain to take a hand in matters yesterday afternoon when the Chiefs might just as well as not have had another win, but the rain did take a hand and as usual won out, leaving the opposing clubs stranded at 1 and 1 in the fifth inning. Grand Rapids was furnishing the opposition to our gang and doing a good job, the warriors would have been willing to take a chance on coming through on the big end.

Had things worked out right the locals would have won in spite of the weather but one little slip occurred which kept the game out of the win column. In the second inning after Gleich had scored, Mike Kelly was on third and a signal for a squeeze was given. Shorty Norton was batting and he missed the sign, with the result that Mike was caught between the sacks.

In both the first and the second the visitors were dangerous propositions, but Higbee with some very valuable aid was able to pull through. In the initial round, Siegfried threw to the plate, nabbing off a runner just as slick as a whiffle.

One man was down in the second when Gleich went to the plate and hammered the pill for two bases. A whiffy by Brant gave Kelly a life on second and left Gleich on third, and Brown's single sent Gleich home. Kelly, however, was caught in the midst of his own trick.

In the next inning Mathes opened with a double for the visitors and went up a notch on Edgington's out. With a chance to cut off Mathes at the plate, Norton juggled the next offering and threw too late. A popout, a walk and an out at first put this inning away. In the fifth inning, Mathes and Edgington singled and Alcock sacrificed then but Miller flew out to Kelly and Norton picked off Collins by some fast fielding.

From the defunct South Bend club Fort Wayne will get Hoffman, a third sacker, and hither to no little ability, according to the records. Hoffman has been playing first but his real position is on the hot corner and there he will probably be played. He has been hitting most desirably, son and for that reason is most desirable. Hoffman was claimed by Evansville but a little talking convinced the league, heads that Fort Wayne should have a look-in when the division of players was made, and as a result Hoffman comes here.

In order to make room for the players who are due to report, the Chiefs had to release somebody, and because of the work which they are going to have to climb nearer the top, it had to be the player of least value at the present time. They released Richardson. Rich can work with any of them when he is right, but he hasn't been right this season and doesn't look as if he will recover in time to be of use. Just the same, his size and good nature are going to be missed considerably.

CENTRAL LEAGUE.

Honor the Umps.

Richmond, Ind., July 10.—Umpire Kuhn was the honor guest at a shower here yesterday. The shower being made up of pop bottles. His work was considered bad by the players of both clubs, and the displeasure soon communicated to the fans, who forgot that they weren't in St. Louis. Two runs in the eleventh won for Richmond 4 to 3, after the Reapers had broken the tie in the fifth inning. Score: R.H.E. Vets Are Defeated.

Evansville, Ind., July 10.—Evansville's playing proved too much for the Vets yesterday afternoon and the Pioneers won 6 to 2. The locals played hard ball all the way, and after one inning Whitehouse was taken from the mound for Dayton and Spencer substituted. Score: R.H.E. Dayton, 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1—2 7 1 Evansville, 0 0 0 0 2 2 0—4 3 3 Batteries—Whitehouse, Spencer and Donahue; Winchell and Bozile.

PEORIA STRENGTHENING.

Newcomers Prepare for Fight to Rise from the Cellar Position.

Peoria, Ill., July 10.—Five new players will join Peoria for the opening Central league game here today with Muskegon. Outfielder Baurehang, infielder Callahan and catcher Kelly, of the South Bend club, will join the locals, also Pitcher Joe Willis, of Bloomington, and infielder Ray Falk, of Moline.

Bill Donovan has been suspended. How could anyone look at Bill's grin and then find nerve to suspend him? Cy Falkenberg has gone back to the minors. Cy must be used to the trip by this time.

Kilbane and Benny Leonard are to box six rounds for $20,000. After which Leonard, no doubt, will find another allibi for not rushing to the colors. Frank Kramer, bicycle champion for thirteen years, has lost his title.

Well, I got WHAT YOU WANT.

Frank ought to be glad because now a few people know who was bicycle champion.

Fred Fulton has been trying to get a match with Big Jess for two years now, but if he loses his own precedents, he will get the match and cold feet simultaneously.

LOOK WHO'S HERE! MATTY DEFIES PRECEDENTS, PUTS CINCINNATI REDS IN FIRST DIVISION.

(BY PAUL PURMAN.)

For the first time in years the Cincinnati Reds are in the first division this late in the season.

This is a tremendous achievement for Christy Mathewson, the first of half a score of managers who have been able to pull the Reds into the first four in the National league race.

Matty, one of the greatest and smartest pitchers the game has ever known, has established himself as a smart manager—a manager who does things.

It is quite possible that Matty will finish the season in fourth or even in third place. He has a better club than the Cubs and is making his athletes play the kind of ball which brings out all the latent power in a ball club. His club is fully as strong as the Cardinals and he is getting as much from it.

Matty has four players hitting over .300. Roush, who leads the league with an average around .350; Groh, who leads both leagues in run getting; Chase, last year league leader, who has hit his stride, and Tom Clarke, the veteran catcher.

Greasy Neale and Tom Griffith are near the .300 mark.

Base ball critics have watched Matty carefully this year. His success or his failure was a great question.

Matty wasn't given a great ball club, but he was given one with possibilities. He had stars in Chase, Groh and Toney. The rest of the club ranged between medium and fair.

The club was torn by internal dissension. Buck Herzog had left a bunch of sulkers.

Matty's first job was to eradicate this. He established good feeling among his players. He showed them that he was for them and with them and soon they started to work for him. Then the Reds began to climb.

Fred Toney, one of the great pitchers in the league, has been going well. Fred Schneider is getting back where he was a couple of years ago. Mitchell is pitching good ball. Eller and Ring are doing well.

Matty has two good catchers in Clarke and Wingo.

With Chase and Groh as a nucleus he has developed a good infield with Sheen, a youngster, and Kopf, a Mackian cast-off at keystone corner. His outfield is up to average.

Matty has made good.

FALL OF THREE-EYE GIVES POOR OUTLOOK

Defunct Circuit Considered the Strongest of Minor Leagues for Years.

For the first time in many years the minor leagues are seriously threatened.

Every year since the Federal league invasion there has been talk of disbanding minor leagues and many of the smaller aggregations have been wrecked on the rocks of poor attendance and financial deficits.

But the situation has assumed graver proportions this year. It demands the earnest consideration of all interested in minor league activities.

A real blow was handed the national minor league organization when the Three Eye league disbanded a few days ago.

This league, one of the oldest minors, has withstood every financial difficulty. Composed of wealthy prosperous towns in Iowa and Illinois it has laughed while other weaker leagues were going under. Even when brought face to face with serious difficulties the Three Eye has managed to find some way out.

But this year the Three Eye could not stand the pressure and went on the rocks.

In this action it followed three other leagues which have been forced to close shop since the season opened two months ago.

The Virginia league was forced to discontinue a few weeks after its opening. Then the North Carolina league disbanded. The Northern league closed at the same time the Three Eye went under.

Several other minors are on the verge of going to the wall.

There has even been talk this season of closing the parks in the super-minors, the American association and the International league, but it is believed these with the Coast organization, the Western and Southern leagues in Class A and the Texas and western outfits will be able to weather out the season. The Central league also seems to be in pretty fair shape this season and may be able to finish its schedule.

The Western league has been forced to divide its season into two championship seasons to keep up interest. Patronage in the Western is said to be below normal.

Many of the minors could be put on their feet with a little help from the majors, but there is little chance of aid from that quarter.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Win in the Rain.

New York, July 10.—New York defeated St. Louis here yesterday for the fourth straight time, the score being 3 to 2. Rain fell at intervals during the game and stopped play for forty-five minutes in the fifth inning. Many of the players had run off the field when Umpire Klein ordered the game to be resumed. The Giants won by breaking a tie in the seventh inning when Hinkle received the only base on balls Ames issued, and scored on Rariden's double. A portion of the receipts were devoted to the Red Cross. Score: R.H.E. St. Louis, 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 0—2 8 2 New York, 0 0 2 0 0 1 0 0—3 6 0 Batteries—Ames and Snyder; Salce and Rariden.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Split Double Bill.

Detroit, July 10.—Detroit and Washington split a double-header yesterday, the visitors winning 3 to 1 and the home club the second game 10 to 2. The winners hit Shaw very hard in the second game, scoring six runs in the second inning on five hits, two bases on balls and a sacrifice fly. Rice, the Washington right fielder, made four singles and a double in the five times at bat in the first game and started the second with a hit. Veatch's batting featured both games. Score: R.H.E. Detroit, 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—1 9 6 Washington, 2 0 0 2 0 3 1 0—8 10 0 Batteries—C. Jones and Spencer; Harper and Henry.

Second game: R.H.E. Detroit, 0 6 1 2 1 0 0 0—10 14 0 Washington, 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—2 8 0 Batteries—James and Stange; Shaw and Alansmith and Henry.

Win Three Straight.

Cleveland, O., July 10.—The Indians made it three straight from the Red Sox yesterday, winning 4 to 3.

With Mays pitching shutout ball, the Indians began the eighth with the score 3 to 0 against them. The Indian wrecking crew, however, got busy and an error and four hits scored four runs, just enough to win. Klepper was touched in the first inning for two runs and the Sox got one off Gould in the eighth. Score: R.H.E. Cleveland, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 4—4 6 3 Boston, 2 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—3 3 1 Batteries—Klepper, Gould and Billings and O'Neill; Mays and Agnew.

Six Are Walloped.

Chicago, July 10.—Four runs in one inning off of Williams were enough to give the Athletics a win over the White Sox here yesterday 5 to 2. Joe Bush was at his best and the hose were unable to reach him at all. Score: R.H.E. Chicago, 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0—2 8 0 Philadelphia, 0 0 0 0 4 1 0 0—5 9 1 Batteries—Williams, Denforth and Lynn; Bush and Meyer.

Yanks Are Right.

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—The Yankees yesterday beat the Browns 2 to 1. Score: R.H.E. New York, 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—2 5 1 St. Louis, 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—1 7 1 Batteries—Russell and Alexander; Davenport and Severid.

The Italian Mannlicher-Carcano rifle is of the 1891 pattern. It is rather slow, discharging only fifteen rounds of shot a minute.

CONSIDER SPORT THE 365-DAY A YEAR GAME

Trapshooting Has Been Big Boon to Yacht and Country Clubs in Off Season.

Seasonable sports come and go with their respective seasons, but the trap game goes on forever, and 365 days a year at that.

When Thanksgiving rolls around football follows baseball into the discard, and tennis, golf et al. reach the vanishing point close on the heels of football—yet trapshooting, being the "fittest" survival, this for the double reason that clay target shooting is no more hampered by weather conditions than is field shooting at live birds, and, too, because several hundred thousand red-blooded Americans require something a bit more strenuous and exciting than checkers, pinocle and other indoor games.

Time was when country club activities languished during the winter months and yacht clubs boarded up their clubhouses until after the spring thaw; now, when snow or slush lies deep on the golf links, the lure of the traps draws erstwhile golfers to the club ground to enjoy the shooting game, while across the distant meadows come the popping reports of shotguns as yachtsmen blaze away at the flying saucers skimming above the frozen river.

In short, trapshooting not only holds country club and yacht club membership together during the cold days, but actually recruits additional strength from the numbers of outdoor devotees drawn to the clubs by the fascination of the scatter-gun sport.

THREE WAY DOUBLE BILL HERE SUNDAY

Semi-pro baseball will come into its own here Sunday when a double-header will be staged with three high-class clubs participating. In the initial contest the Kendallville Reds will play the fast colored Giants of this city, the game starting at 2 o'clock. Ten minutes after this game is over the winning club will meet Mart Cleary's Lincoln Lifes. Both games will be played for one admission.

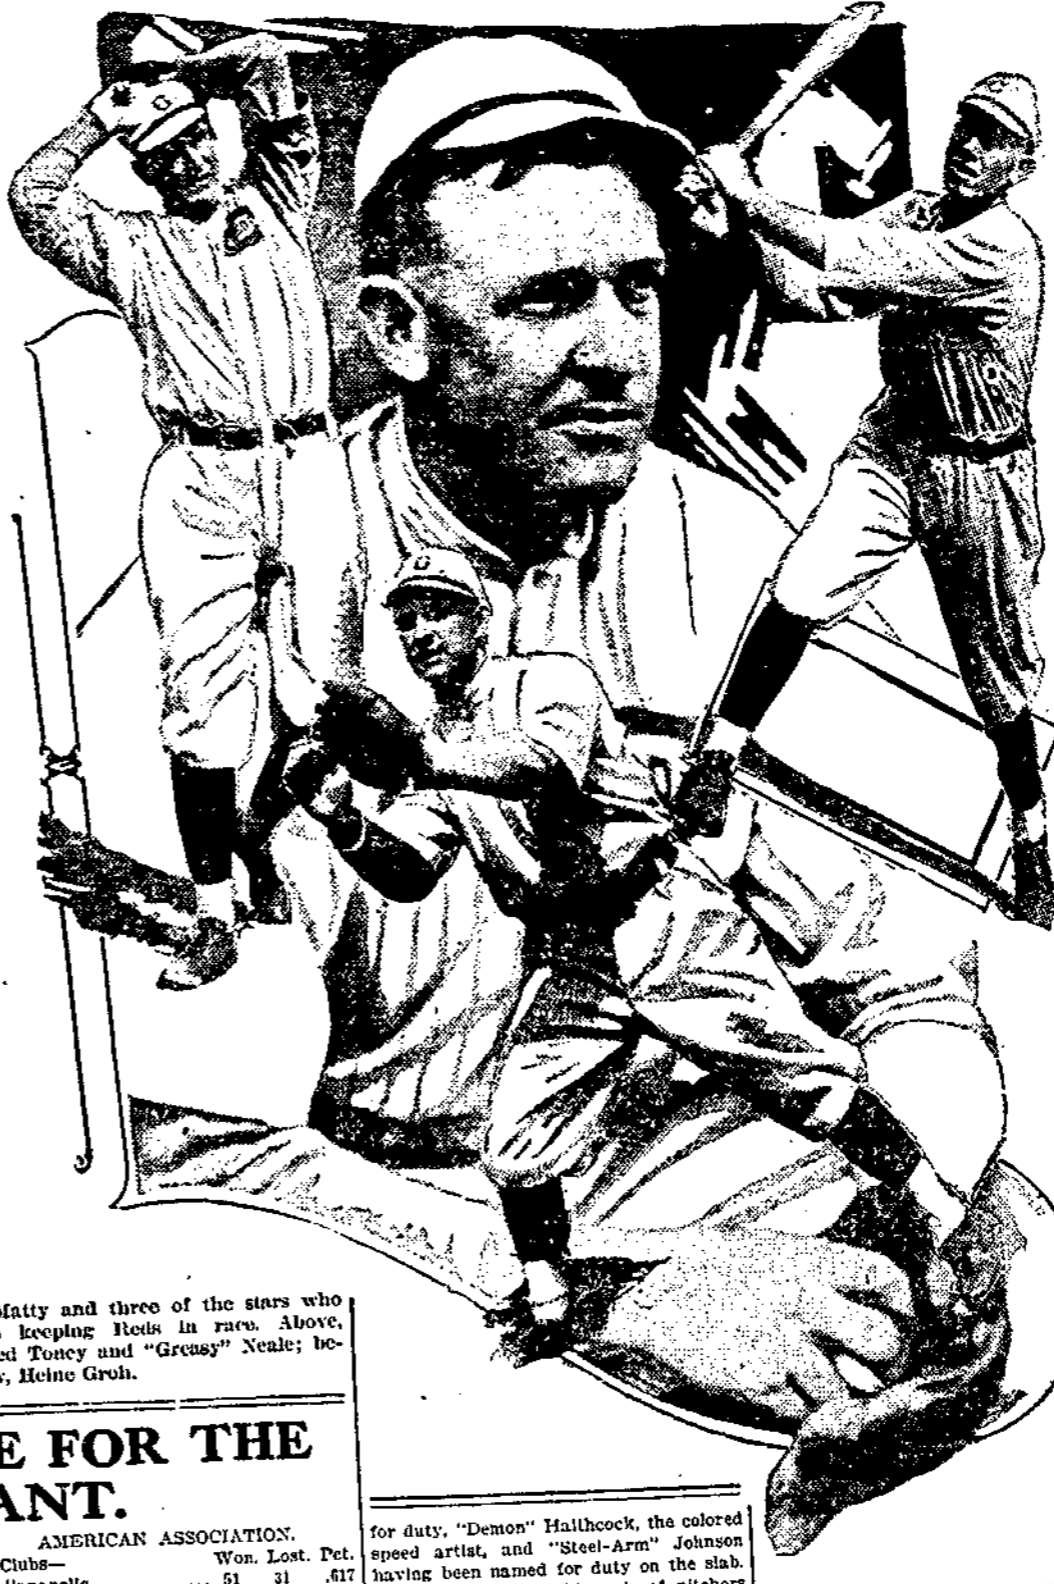

The Giants will have two pitchers ready

MISS ZINDERSTEIN IS STAR RIVAL OF MOLLA

New York tennis critics are booming Miss Marian Zinderstein, of West Newton, Mass., as a possible winner over Miss Molla Bjurstedt in the national tournament this year.

Miss Zinderstein is practically a newcomer on the tournament courts but has shown such amazing form in early matches that many believe she will be the Norwegian girl's star opponent.

The youthful New England star is said to combine a strong forearm stroke with a long sweeping follow through which rips the ball across the court with dazzling speed.

Her backhand strokes, it is said, are almost as effective as the forearm and her ground ball play is said to resemble that of William M. Johnson, former national champion.

COACH SAYS LARSEN IS A SUPER-JUMPER

If the prediction of Coach Lawson Robertson, of Pennsylvania university, is realized, America will have produced the super-high jumper in Clinton Larson, of Brigham Young university, Utah, who won that event at the Penn relay in April, clearing the bar at 6 feet 5 3/4 inches, a new college record.

Robertson believes Larsen will be able to jump 5 feet 3 inches or better before he is through.

"I never saw an athlete jump so neatly as this Utah boy," Robertson said. "He doesn't take a back jump as most athletes do when they reach the bar."

Robertson pointed out that Larsen jumps with both feet and lands with his right foot first.

BASEBALL DISPLACES BULL FIGHTS IN S. A.

Much has been written about the expansion of baseball into an international game and the popularizing of the sport by games between Canadian and American teams behind the trenches has done much to introducing it in Europe.

The latest country to take up baseball is Venezuela, where it is said to have become very popular.

There are 25 amateur teams in Caracas, capital of the South American republic and many other towns have teams.

BIG NINE MEDAL TO COLUMBIA CITY MAN

DeWitt Mullett Honored for Proficiency in Athletics and Books.

Bloomington, Ind., July 10.—For excellence in athletics and scholarship, DeWitt Taimage Mullett, of Columbia City, football and basketball man, has been awarded the western conference medal for 1916-17 at Indiana university. Mullett was an exceptionally good end on the football team last fall and proved a wonderful guard on the 1916-17 basketball quintet. His grades have been excellent the past year.

Mullett came to Indiana without previous experience in athletics, but by hard work and perseverance became one of the best all-round athletes in school. At the present time he is with an engineering corps of the United States army in Texas and soon is to be sent to France. He was graduated with the class of 1917.

The conference athletic-scholarship trophy is a medal presented each year by each of the big nine schools to the best scholar-athlete. The individual is chosen by the athletic committee and then acted upon by the university board. The medal is presented by Avery Brundage, secretary-treasurer of the Intercollegiate conference association. The medal is of gold and is about three inches in diameter. It is engraved on one side with the recipient's name; on the other by an engraving of an athlete, with the following Latin expression, "Mens fervida in corpore laetosa." The presentation of the medal was first started in 1914-15. Other Indiana athletes awarded this prize are Matthew Winters, 1915, and George B. Shively, 1916.

Indiana's athletics had a good season the past year, which shows remarkable improvement in all branches since the regime of Athletic Director Ewald O. Stehm. The football team under the direction of Coach Stehm ended a truly successful season, surpassing all unfavorable prophecies by holding the Tufts eleven to a 12 to 10 score. The freshman team had many men of varsity caliber, among whom are Springer, Hanny, Howard, Hammon, Ewert, Bach, Adams, Risley and Minton. In the hands of Coach Whitman the Hoosier baseball team finished third in the big nine race. Coach Lowman had charge of basketball and turned out a quintet that had a most successful season.

WILL DISPOSE OF 500 CHAUTAUQUA TICKETS

General Electric Opens Ticket Sales Campaign at Factory.

In keeping with its policy of looking after the interests of the employees whenever anything that will be of benefit to them comes in sight, the General Electric company has inaugurated a campaign to enable all who wish to attend the chautauqua to be held on the old golf grounds July 17 to 24, inclusive, at a greatly reduced price. A. A. Serva, sales manager of the local company, has general charge of the campaign and Fred G. Duryee, foreman of the operating department, has charge over the men who will solicit and sell the tickets to employees. Mr. Duryee has divided his solicitors into sections corresponding to the buildings which compose the plant. They are: H. Gargett, building No. 19; R. O. Orr, No. 6; Raymond Hoffman, No. 17; William Garihan, No. 15; F. G. Fleming, No. 10; F. S. Walburn, No. 28; H. W. Buais, No. 13; Fred Smith, No. 2, and Ben O'Brien, No. 16. The company has purchased 500 tickets and will dispose of them to employees at $1 each. The works will be thoroughly canvassed and everybody wishing to get tickets at the reduced prices can do so. It is expected to dispose of over 500 tickets. The subjects to be handled by the lecturers at the chautauqua are of special interest to office and shopmen and the General Electric officials want every employee to receive the benefit.

BACK ON FREIGHT.

Conductor H. M. Dochtermann Takes Local Train.

M. H. Dochtermann, veteran passenger conductor on the Lake Erie and Western, was one of the men affected by the reduction in passenger train service. The train he had charge of was dropped from the list Sunday and in the reassignment of crews, Mr. Dochtermann was given a local freight run. In speaking about the change Monday Mr. Dochtermann said that the run he now assumed was the one he had twenty-five years ago, before he was advanced to the passenger service.

HORTON PLACES CONTRACT.

One of Buildings to Be Erected by Fort Wayne Firm.

One of the buildings to be erected by the Horton Manufacturing company in place of the ones burned several weeks ago is a one-story sawtooth roof brick 300 feet square, with cut-stone trimmings. Eusebius Hegor and Co. are the contractors and they have already commenced to excavate and assemble the material. Other contracts will be let later in the week.

BOB REILLY ON VACATION.

Robert Reilly, chief clerk to General Motive Power Superintendent P. F. Smith, jr., of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, is here to spend a week's vacation. Mrs. Reilly has been here visiting her mother, Mrs. Augusta Viberg, for a week and may remain two or three weeks longer. Mr. Reilly is well known in Pennsylvania railway and shop circles in Fort Wayne, having been employed in the motive power offices several years, going to Pittsburgh with D. F. Crawford when that gentleman was appointed general motive power superintendent.

AN ERSTWHILE PAINTER.

Harry Emmerson, foreman of the lathe department of the Pennsylvania machine shop, entered upon a two weeks' vacation this morning. During the "layoff" he will paint his home on Hurd street, and has already commenced to assemble the material and the scaffolding equipment. During Mr. Emmerson's absence, Machinist William F. O'Connor is acting foreman and Bernard Wyss, a member of the night gang, has been temporarily transferred to the day trick to operate the turret lathe usually operated by Mr. O'Connor.

TO VISIT SON.

Machinist Henry Hohman, of the Pennsylvania shops, and Mrs. Hohman are making preparations for a visit with their son, Robert Hohman, in New York and will leave Saturday, July 21, for that city to be absent two weeks. Robert Hohman holds an important position with a manufacturing company in New York. He was the winner of a Frank Thomson scholarship several years ago and attended and graduated from Stevens Institute of Technology at Hoboken, New York.

OUT ON INSPECTION TRIP.

Supt. Otto Schroll, of the Pennsylvania, and his staff officers, are out on sub-division C today inspecting the property. They have a special train and will devote the entire day to the trip. With Mr. Schroll are Division Engineer Guy Scott, Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, Division Operator H. B. Reynolds, Chief Dispatcher Harry Hart, Master Mechanic E. E. Griest, Assistant Division Engineer May, Road Foreman of Engines O. E. Maxwell and two or three others.

KELLER FUNERAL WEDNESDAY.

Local Wash employees have been advised that the funeral of O. D. Keller, the company's freight and passenger agent at Huntington, who died suddenly yesterday morning, will be held at the family home Wednesday afternoon, Rev. F. H. Diehm officiating. Several Fort Wayne people, friends of the deceased, will attend.

JOINS THE MARINES.

When A. D. Long reported for duty at the Pennsylvania erecting shop yesterday afternoon he announced that it would be his last day there until the close of the war. He has enlisted in the marine corps and will leave soon for active service. Mr. Long worked five years at the shops.

MOVING TO CALIFORNIA.

Mr. and Mrs. James McLaughlin left today for Milwaukee, where they will spend a few days with their folks and then continue to San Jose, Cal., where they will reside in the future. Mr. McLaughlin, who conducted a cigar making shop in this city, has disposed of that interest.

GUILD HURT IN A FALL.

F. A. Long, a helper in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, who was off duty yesterday, reported that his child was injured by a fall from a wagon and he could not resume work for a day or two. It is understood that the child is painfully injured.

CRIPPLED WITH CARBUNCLE.

Leo Sorg, a helper at the Bass Foundry and Machine works, is sorely afflicted with carbuncles on one of his arms. The arm is swollen to double normal size and causes much pain. He will be unable to work for several days.

SHORT ON POWER.

"We are short on power to handle the westbound freight business today," said Road Foreman of Engines O. E. Maxwell, of the Pennsylvania, yesterday. The eastbound movement is not so heavy, however.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

This was payday at the Bass Foundry and Machine works.

H. Hoke resigned a position at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning and will leave for Chicago, he said.

Conductor S. W. Sylvester, of the Pennsylvania, has been off duty a few trips on account of sickness.

Miss Agnes Lamboley, of the General Electric works, is out on a two weeks' vacation, spending a portion of it at the lakes.

O. S. Adams, a moulder at the Pennsylvania shops, has recovered from an illness which kept him from work about a week.

W. F. Beckman, a helper at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, has been transferred to the G. R. & I. to work as a fireman.

Motive Power Superintendent T. W. Demarest, of the Pennsylvania North-west system, is looking after railway business in Pittsburgh today.

Bernard Meyers, a machine operator, has taken a position at the Pennsylvania shops and for a while will work in the night gang.

D. M. Kagay, head of the publication department of the Bowser company, has completed a vacation and resumed his duties in the office.

A. L. Berghane, representing the Westinghouse company, is in the city on business for the company. This is one of his regular business trips here.

Henry C. Gellmer, clerk for F. T. Huston, assistant engineer of motive power of the Pennsylvania, is taking a two weeks' vacation.

C. H. Zimmer, piecework clerk at the Pennsylvania shop offices, has entered upon a vacation and left today for Kentucky, where he will spend a part of it.

Mrs. S. A. Welten, wife of the Pennsylvania assistant road foreman of engines, is at Alliance, Ohio, visiting her father and other relatives and friends.

Louis P. Wright, foreman of the annealing department of the General Electric works, has entered upon a vacation and will be absent from the works a week or two.

Elmer Kamm, a messenger at the office of General Foreman W. B. Madara, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, is back on duty after being sick several days.

F. C. Reiter, Pennsylvania boiler-maker, who was sick, reported for duty this morning and Boilermaker C. Heckel is now off duty on account of sickness.

D. D. Wansittler, the Pennsylvania boiler-maker, who had a foot severely injured two months ago, has recovered and this morning reported for duty at the shop.

Charles H. Knothe, Pennsylvania machinist, accompanied by his wife and daughter, is spending a few days with relatives and friends in Dayton, O., and vicinity.

Albert Serva, son of Salesmanager A. A. Serva, of the General Electric works, has taken employment for the summer months with Foreman Frank Goetz, of the stationery department.

John Kayser, who took employment at the power plant of the Pennsylvania company several weeks ago, resigned yesterday and returned to his old position in the General Electric works.

Ringling Bros. circus is drawing immense crowds in Ohio. It is said. The company gives two exhibitions at Lima tomorrow and comes to Fort Wayne the following day.

A new telephone directory connecting all the departments and several desks of each at the General Electric works has been issued. It contains many new names and is quite an elaborate work.

C. C. Boyer and E. L. Lash have taken employment at the factory of A. F. Bowser & Co. They formerly worked as helpers in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, resigning positions there yesterday.

B. B. Ormiston, a Pennsylvania caller, will be operated upon at St. Joseph hospital for appendicitis next Friday. As soon thereafter as he is able to travel he will go to Mackinac island to recuperate.

John Pulver, who has been recuperating after an illness on a farm near Huntington, has recovered completely and has resumed charge of the shipping department of the General Electric works.

Al Diem, Pennsylvania motive power inspector, who is assisting in some "front end" locomotive tests on the E. & A. division, returned there today, after spending a couple of days with his folks.

A. B. Wood, of Schenectady, arrived here yesterday to join his wife in a visit with her relatives. They will remain here a week. Mr. Wood formerly resided in Fort Wayne and is well known here.

Chief Clerk J. H. Hobrock, of the Pennsylvania shop department, returned to his duties in the office this morning. He had been in Chicago attending the funeral of his brother-in-law, George Meyers, which took place yesterday.

Flackman C. C. Beard, of the Pennsylvania, was thrown violently against the side of a car in which he was standing when a locomotive bumped against it at Delphos, Ohio. His left arm was sprained, but no bones were broken and Mr. Beard was able to remain on duty until the train reached the city.

Louis Roeger, price clerk in the Pennsylvania division storekeeper's office, is at his desk again, after an absence of several weeks on account of an affection of the eyes. He was not off duty all the time he was away from his desk, but was assigned to work in another department which was less severe on the sight.

WAYNE STREET WOMEN ORGANIZED FOR WORK

Have Eight Sections, Each Working Three Hours Every Other Week.

The Woman's league of the Wayne street M. E. church has organized the women of the congregation for Red Cross sewing. Four days each week the women meet in the church parlors and sew.

The schedule for the next two weeks of work is as follows:

Monday, July 9.—Section No. 2; Mrs. Mary Quicksell, chairman.

Tuesday, July 10.—Section No. 5; Mrs. Stephen Morris, chairman.

Wednesday, July 11.—Section No. 8; Mrs. L. L. Miller, chairman.

Thursday, July 12.—Section No. 7; Mrs. Geo. Molton, chairman.

Monday, July 16.—Section No. 1; Mrs. F. Y. Gross, chairman.

Tuesday, July 17.—Section No. 3; Mrs. Carrie Staver, chairman.

Wednesday, July 18.—Section No. 6; Mrs. Arthur Rose, chairman.

Thursday, July 19.—Section No. 4; Mrs. N. J. Fulton, chairman.

Every woman of the church and congregation is expected, as far as possible, to give three hours of her time every two weeks to this splendid work.

Congregational Session.

On Thursday evening there will be a congregational meeting of Westfield Presbyterian church, at which Rev. H. B. Hostetter will preside. There will be no Wednesday evening prayer meeting this week.

Church Notes.

The Deborah Sewing society will be entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. Shoup, 236 East Williams street.

Word is Received Here of the Death of William A. Joyce.

Word was received in Fort Wayne, Tuesday, of the death at his home in Buffalo, New York, of William A. Joyce, a former resident of Fort Wayne.

The deceased resided in his youth at the southeast corner of Washington and Fulton streets and attended the old Jefferson school. He became a member of the firm of W. H. Walker &

Co., wholesale dealers in boots and shoes, of Buffalo, and made occasional business and social trips to this city. He was president of the Erie County Savings association and ex-member of the Buffalo park board. He was also a member of the Old Aqueduct club.

HERRMANN.

John M. Herrmann, age 61 years, died at his home, 2930 Welser Park avenue, Monday afternoon. Death was due to cancer and followed an illness of about four months. The deceased was born in Germany and came to this country when he was 20 years old. He settled in Ohio, where he cultivated a farm until seven years ago. He had been in the employ of the waterworks department until four months ago. Surviving relatives are the widow, ten children, Albert, Emil and John, of Ohio; Edwin and Herbert, of Wisconsin; Mrs. J. Rose, Mrs. Laura Murray, Mrs. G. Wilkins, Mrs. W. Gerding and Luella Herrmann, all of Ohio. Eleven grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. G. Stritz, of Delta, Ohio, and Mrs. F. Leininger, of Detroit, also survive. Funeral services Thursday afternoon at the home at 2 o'clock and at the Zion German Lutheran church at 2:30. Interment in Concordia cemetery.

TIMOTHY NICHOLSON HERE.

Hon. Timothy Nicholson, of Richmond, was a visitor in Fort Wayne Monday, while on his way to Winona Lake to attend the conference against crime. During his short visit here he was the guest of Dr. G. S. Bliss and T. E. Edilson.

Lemon Juice For Freckles

Girls! Make beauty lotion at home for a few cents. Try it!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—Advertisement.

GETZ WILL NOT BE RETAINED BY CITY

Council Members Are Not Inclined to Allow $2,000 Salary.

Carl J. Getz will not be kept as city forester, council members state. At a council session Tuesday night the request that Getz be paid $2,000 a year was expected to be turned down. Council members say that they do not feel that it would be a matter of proper economy to allow the marked increase in the pay of the city employee.

Guy E. Firestone, of Butler, is expected to be the successful candidate for the place of park superintendent. Firestone has offered to work for the city for the wages now paid Getz. Like the present city forester, Firestone is also a graduate of Purdue university and has had practical experience in park work. A part of the park board members have declared their approval of the recommendations offered by Firestone.

Seven candidates are clamoring for the place to be made vacant when Getz leaves the city office to take up real estate work. One of the applicants writes from Calgary, Alberta, Canada. He will come for the present salary of the position, he states. Other men who seek the place are eastern men.

"We have appreciated the services of Mr. Getz," stated a council member Tuesday. "We do not like to see the man go. He has done fine work here. It is not felt, however, that the city can afford to double the salary of the park superintendent."

Park Board Members Fox, Ackerman and Broyer will appear before the council members at the committee of the whole meeting to be held at 7:30 Tuesday evening. They will ask that demand for money on the part of Getz and Charles J. Steiss, secretary to the park commission, be met. They will argue that good employees should be retained by the city.

Council members state that the salary of Charles J. Steiss should be raised with that of the park superintendent, if either are advanced. Steiss has been one of the most efficient park workers in the state, city officers believe.

Warm words may pass between members who advocate strict economy and those who wish more money for park purposes.

The matter of the installing of sidewalks along Killeen street, from Webster to Calhoun, is expected to be before the regular council session. The committee is expected to return a favorable report on the proposed improvement, despite the objection of several property owners along the street.

A part of the land owners have stated that they will attend the council meeting and voice their opinion on the subject.

Council members favor the improvement. It is believed that the matter will be passed Tuesday night.

Building Permits.

Building permits were issued to William Nassenstein to remodel store building at Columbia and Clinton streets, $2,500, and to J. W. Moninger to build house, 2112 Short street, $2,500.

TO CROSS CANAL.

The opening of State street, from Spy Avenue to Clinton street, was passed upon by the board of works, Monday afternoon. Work of making a fill at the feeder canal will be started as soon as possible. The name of the short strip of street now known as Centerville avenue will be changed to State street. It will be necessary to cross the canal and two building lots in order to lengthen State street to Clinton street.

Resolutions were also adopted by the board for vacating alley west of Weisner Park avenue from Eckart street to Weisner Park avenue, also alley east of Eckart street; also vacating of alley east of Hanna street from Eckart street to Weisner Park avenue; for opening and extending Shady court from Burnett to Oakdale; also vacating that portion of Burnett avenue west of South Wayne avenue and east of Shady court; also that portion of Burnett avenue west of Shady court and east of Indiana avenue; also widening Richardson street at its intersection with Osage street; also vacating streets and alleys in the John H. Jacobs third addition.

A resolution was adopted for opening State street from the east property line of the feeder canal to Clinton street.

WILL DISCUSS SHIFTS.

Light Corporations Have Grounds of Common Woe.

A conference has been called between city officials and Robert M. Fuestel, president of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, for next Thursday, in which shifting customers will be discussed. Many citizens have figured schemes of changing from one light company to the other when they wish to avert payment of bills, it is believed.

The matter of changing meters of the two light corporations will be taken up. Citizens have not been giving the three day notice when they shift their patronage, it is claimed.

Mr. Fuestel states that there is no intention of adding a surcharge to all service bills for lights or that the public utilities commission will be asked to do so.

QUIT SHOBER'S BAND.

Park board members decided to disband with the services of Shober's Military band for park concerts, at the Monday afternoon session of the board. The fact that the organization failed to appear for a number of the concerts this season is the reason for the action. The concert booked by Gert Shober, director of the band, for the remainder of the season, will be filled by the Citizens' band.

Insurance Men Here.

Officials of the Southern Surety company, which gave bond for the guarantee of work on the sewer in the east end, which ended in two weeks ago, are in the city. They will hold a meeting with members of the board of works Tuesday afternoon. Together members of the board and the surety representatives will go over the ground of the damaged sewer. The drain has been installed but a year. It is thought that the collapse is due to defective tilting.

said that he was marrying for something millions cannot buy—a "real home." Colonel Green, who said he had been perhaps the "most proposed to man in the world," and who declared that the newspapers had caused him to receive 3,000 letters of proposal in the past fifteen years, showed a human and democratic side in discussing his marriage.

"I am marrying the best and most sensible little lady in the world," he said. "I am marrying a quiet little lady to whom I can go when I am burdened with the troubles of the world; I am marrying for a real home. I want to say right now that I am not marrying a society bud. I am marrying a truly sensible woman. I do not know who is going to be the boss. All I can say is that I am going to try to be."

DECIDING UPON POLICY.

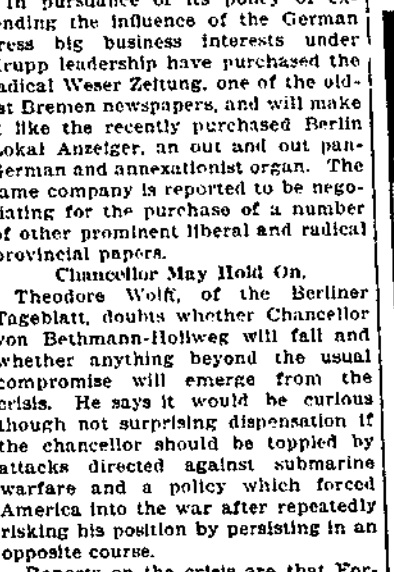

Copenhagen, July 10.—Although it is difficult to gain a clear impression of the political crisis in Germany from conflicting accounts in German papers and dispatches sent abroad, reichstag leaders were expected to be sitting this afternoon or evening in council upon a declaration of policy. This, according to some, would decide the fate of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, and the present governmental system, while others declare it would end the whole crisis. The party leaders were concerned chiefly with the question of the chancellor's position.

Those for or against new blood in the ministry and a change in the political system and questions of submarine policy and peace conditions were given only secondary consideration.

Should the party leaders in conference wherein only radical socialists and conservatives were not represented, reach an agreement the decisions will be presented, according to the Vossische Zeitung, in the form of leaving the chancellor the alternative of accepting them or facing rebellion in the reichstag, which will vote to ad-

REVENTLOW IN FURY.

Copenhagen, July 10.—Although the German censor has kept out of the newspapers the speech before the reichstag main committee of Matthias Erzberger, leader of the Catholic center party, in which he attacked the German admiralty and the pan-German idea of the nature of his references to the German submarine campaign may be gained from the angry comment of Count Ernest von Reventlow, naval expert of the Tageszeitung, of Berlin. The count declares that in attempting to end the submarine campaign, Herr Erzberger and his supporters are aiming at destruction of the nation's confidence in victory, which depends so largely on the submarine, and of the prospect of a German peace.

Herr Erzberger's criticisms seem to hit a tender point in the German submarine policy, namely the failure to produce promised results within fixed time limits, for, says the count, "it would be grotesque childishness or partisan politics to say to the government in common some thing as follows: 'You fixed the submarine program for a definite number of months. This period has now expired. No decision has been reached. You therefore erred where no error was permissible.'"

Count Reventlow answers this hypothetical presentation of the case by insisting that the sole question to be answered in weighing a decision in the submarine war was whether it would have a decisive success within a specified period. That Herr Erzberger's attack took these lines is further indicated by citations of statistics by Vice Admiral von Capelle and Vice Chancellor Heitrich to prove that the submarine campaign is wearing Great Britain down, and the war minister's attempt to show how submarine ruthlessness is helping the land campaign.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S WAR NEWS

burg along two first class railway lines. A dangerous salient already has been created around Halicz.

Petrograd's official statement besides announcing a retreat of the teutons to the Lomnica river and reporting the penetration of the enemy lines to a depth of six and two-thirds miles in the two days' fighting in the Stanislav sector, gives indications that the offensive further north in Galicia is soon to be resumed.

Intense artillery action south of Brzezany, an important bridgehead point which the Russians are closely pressing, is now reported.

Berlin admits the Austro-German retreat in the Stanislav sector behind the Lomnica. The headquarters report contains the additional interesting statement of increased activity on the northern Russian front at Riga, Divinsk and Smorgon.

A Russian stroke at the German lines on this northern front would show conclusively that the rehabilitation of the Russian armies had also extended to the disturbing influences which during the critical weeks immediately succeeding the revolution emanated from the extreme radical elements there.

Each day now witnesses a new attack by the German crown prince along the

will be able to register in the limited time that remains.

As a matter of fact voters have not been coming in as rapidly as was expected. Three women have registered up to the present time to one male voter, notwithstanding the decision of Judge Thornton at Indianapolis in which he held that the women cannot take part in the election. An early decision by the supreme court is expected.

David Stark, county clerk, received a letter Tuesday from the attorney-general of the state asking that the registration board remain on the job one night out of each week from now until Aug. 20. Announcement of the night will be made later. This action is made necessary because of the inability of many laboring men and those employed in factories to get down to the court house during the day.

Officials declare that there has been a most pitiful lack of interest in the constitutional convention. The total registration up to the present time will not exceed 4,000.

NORWEGIAN SHIP SUNK.

London, July 10.—The sinking of the Norwegian steamship Henrik (3,829 tons gross) and Lovakken by German submarines is reported in a Central News dispatch from Copenhagen. The crews were saved.

The Norwegian steamship Victoria II, 2,793 tons, was sunk by a German submarine while on the way to the United States. One life boat in which were a number of the crew was lost.

FRENCH LINER TORPEDOED.

Paris, July 10.—The French liner Caledonian, of 4,140 tons gross, was sunk by a mine or torpedo in the Mediterranean June 30, according to an announcement issued last night by the ministry of marine. Fifty-one persons were lost and 380 were saved.

BIG VERDICT FOR BOY.

Chicago, July 10.—John Curran, a newshy, 17 years old, was given $20,000 damages by a jury in the state circuit court yesterday for the loss of his right arm by a railroad accident two years ago. The joint defendants were the Chicago & Western Indiana and the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroads, and the sum ordered was the largest ever given in this state for the loss of a limb. A year previously young Curran suffered the loss of his left arm in a street car accident.

WALL STREET OPENS WITH PRICES RISING

Early Depression Follows Report of New Bond Issue at 3 1/2 Per Cent.

New York, July 10.—Many substantial gains were reported at the opening of today's operations. The improvement was attributed in part to the encouraging crop prospects and overnight developments at Washington. Trading was active and broad, although equipments and war shares were most prominent.

The reversal of the first half hour coincided with a report of a proposed new government issue of 3 1/2 per cent bonds and resulted in very heavy offerings of the existing liberty issue at par. Steel shares, oils, Central Leather, Motors and Ohio Gas receded 1 to 2 points. Standard rails and a few specialties, notably Tobacco, followed an opposite course. The general bond market was firm.

HAD LEFT PIPE IN HOUSE, WOMAN SAYS

Councilman Mistaken About Bare Feet and Smoke Clouds.

A vivid imagination has Councilman Peter A. Detschel, Ninth ward representative, says Mrs. Mary Kindall, 1203 Marion street. The woman denied details of the unrefined picture which the councilman presented in his testimony relating to Mrs. Kindall in police court Tuesday morning.

Councilman Detschel stated that he saw Mrs. Kindall saunter from the back door of her home, a few days ago, and wander leisurely out into the alley, near the side of the house. The woman wore a wrapper gown, the Ninth ward business man said. She smoked a pipe and volumes of gray clouds curled about her head, Detschel said. In her hand she carried a pail. She tossed the contents of the pail into the alley, averred the councilman.

It was not the pattering feet nor the well seasoned pipe which was made the issue in the city court case. The serious matter was that of throwing waste into the alley way. Mrs. Kindall faced a city charge on the ground of hurling garbage into the lane.

City Health Officer William Brown and Charles Josse testified that they were called to the Kindall home on the day referred to by Councilman Detschel. Both city officers said that they saw the defendant traversing the back yard with her feet exposed to the elements and garbed in the "mother Hubbard."

In a word involving directions, locations, wind movements and other complications which somewhat entangled the attorney for the defense, and City Health Officer Josse, the lawyer snapped at the health official, "Who is crazy, you or I?"

"It is about fifty-fifty," came the unheated reply.

Mrs. Kindall denied throwing refuse into the alley near her home. She denied carrying her pipe outside the house on the day in question. Several neighbors of the woman stated that they had never seen her throw waste into the alley and that the driveway was kept clean. Judge Kerr continued the case indefinitely.

COUNTY SURVEYOR BORN IN TURKEY

Often Meets Election Trouble Because of Sojourn of Parents.

This story is in the nature of a receipt. To whom it may concern, it establishes the American citizenship of County Surveyor A. W. Grosvenor. This account, if properly clipped and presented by the surveyor, will head off the usual tangle of red tape, which has accompanied his efforts to pass the polling portals for the past several years.

Mr. Grosvenor was born under the ensign of the crescent. His birthplace was Turkey because his father and mother were both school teachers and were acting as instructors in a Turkish school when the present county surveyor came into the world. The Grosvenor family remained in Turkey for fourteen years after the Fort Wayne man was born.

Is Mr. Grosvenor an American citizen?

A PECULIAR TRADE CUSTOM

Five hundred and fifty manufacturers of furniture, scattered all over the United States, have now on exhibition at the great Furniture Exposition, samples of all their new styles for the fall season. Just these samples will total in value over two millions of dollars. They will cover a floor space of more than fifty acres. How would you like the job of picking out from these tens of thousands of samples the particular pieces which ought to be secured for the "Big Store" of the Foster Furniture company? It takes two weeks of hard work and long hours in which to do it. Some job, isn't it? But their buyers are trying desperately hard to let no specially pretty thing escape their notice. Already their purchases are commencing to arrive. As usual, they want to beat all their competitors in displaying the new styles. This custom of semi-annual expositions is peculiar to the furniture trade. It does not obtain in any other line of business. Buyers attend them by the thousand from every section of the United States, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Great care is taken to admit none but dealers—all are made to register, and the credentials of buyers are carefully examined. Others than dealers are frequently caught trying to gain admission and are given "the grand bounce."

MUST STRAIGHTEN OUT HIS FLAG UTTERANCE

Schmidt Seemed to Tell Many Stories About American Standing

Adam Schmidt, 45, who came to America nine years ago and to Fort Wayne last Saturday, must reach an understanding with Federal Commissioner T. J. Logan as to what Schmidt meant when he made statements which sounded to several citizens Saturday night like "to tell with the flag."

The German born laborer talks broken English, although he understands the language when it is spoken to him. He stated that he did not mean to insult the American flag, when he talked rapidly, Saturday evening. His worst tongue came when he tried to make the out citizenship papers. He had lost his papers, he says. It was this utterance which caused Judge Kerr to bind him over to the federal authorities.

Schmidt is to be delivered to Commissioner Logan for a second investigation. The man was briefly questioned by the federal agent on Monday. Mr. Logan believed that Schmidt was not rebellious, when he sounded the man at the first hearing.

Frank Kuhns, arrested at the Berghoff brewery Saturday, and also charged with profaning the flag, was released by order of Commissioner Logan Monday. He had questioned the man closely.

"I find that much of the trouble in such cases is due to misunderstanding of the faint English of these people," Commissioner Logan states. "Such folks should be careful where they talk and then speak but little, in these moments."

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGNERS TO HAVE RE-UNION

Make Plans for Picnic at Lake Maxinkuckee in August.

Team captains in the campaign for the Y. M. C. A. building were entertained at the Country club Monday night by Arthur F. Hall and S. B. Bechtel, generals. It was decided at this meeting of the captains to have a reunion of all the forces which participated in the campaign in the form of a picnic to be held at Lake Maxinkuckee on August 25. Plans for the event were discussed and seven committees were appointed to make arrangements. Another meeting will be held in the near future.

It is probable that the reunion will include everybody who took part in the campaign and letters will be sent out this week.

FAR BEHIND QUOTA FOR SECOND CAMP
Indiana Men Not Responding for Officers' Reserve Corps.

Indiana is falling behind in her quota of men for the new officers' reserve training camp, which opens at Fort Benjamin Harrison August 27, according to advices received from the war department by Captain E. H. Kilbourne, chairman of the local committee. It is emphasized in the latest instructions from the central association at Chicago that military training is not necessary for the second camp, and that men below the conscription age have an excellent opportunity to get into the new camp.

The following telegram was received by Captain Kilbourne from Adjutant General Holstad:

Situation in your town regarding application for the second officers' training camp has improved but slightly. Your state's quota is far behind. Your governor has been telegraphed that drastic action must be taken by all patriotic agencies to impress upon all properly qualified men the importance of applying at once if troops from your state are to be properly led. That applications close July 15, that military training is not necessary, and that applications can be obtained from military training camp associations in all large cities should be made clear. Please telegraph your name and address to your governor and give all publicity possible, and consider the situation most critical and of utmost national importance.

The committee under Captain Kilbourne is meeting each day at the Commercial club. Both noon and evening meetings are being held.
